LULLABY.
 BY THE NURSE OF JOHN RESELL, JUNR.
 It had become a matter of fact, that after the Noble Lord had been executed a fortnight, preparations were made for the removal to Vienna of the whole of his family and entourage, including some very young children, some of them so young, that I understand they are to travel so feebly, that they will occupy seven days in the journey. It would appear from this that the Noble Lord contemplates a lengthened stay at Vienna—Speech of the Earl of Derby, (Times, March 10, 1855).

Baby, my dear, we're not going to be hurried,
 We'll stop at each stage for our milk and our beer;
 Baby's Papa won't have baby hurried
 For all the old colonies under the sun.
 If the naughty things riot and rebel revolutions,
 Baby shall quickly have out its nap:
 While they look after with their own Countess,
 Baby's Papa won't have baby hurried.
 Sweet pretty Poppy, their letters in batches
 We'll drop in the Dumbie, the Rhine, or the Po;
 Their great child memorials and heavy despatches
 We'll make into dollies to dance as we go.

What matter their wants and impatient haste,
 If we are to stop at the dear old Cockade,
 If his guns should be tearing the little pet Russell Boy, thanks to "Lord William," was born to be great.
 When he grows, if the measles don't spoil his condition,
 As big as Papa, he'll do the Colonel's bidding, He'll have such nice things, a nice pretty mission,
 And all such nice babies to give him to eat.
 So, baby, my darling, we're not to be hurried,
 We'll stop at each stage for our milk and our beer;
 Baby's Papa won't have baby hurried
 For all the old colonies under the sun.

A Parliamentary expression of Baby's Papa—A PATRIOTIC SHIP CARPENTER.—The spirit of order observable throughout the ship, found scope even in the carpenter's nails. These were loosely stuck in little holes made in the side of the ship-carpen-ter's shop, and were so placed as to form national and patriotic mottoes, such as "God save the Queen," and Nelson's last words. One has heard the phrases "as neat as a pin," but here was a carpenter's shop as neat as a natal pin.—A month in the Camp, &c.

A SERIOUS MISHAP.—An amusing occurrence took place in the batteries below Sebatopol. A shell from the enemy dropped right into the muzzle of one of our guns. In bursting there, it shattered the gun and man. One has heard the phrase "as
 neat as a pin," but here was a carpenter's
 shop as neat as a natal pin.—A
 month in the Camp, &c.

An ANCIENT TALE.—Perhaps the oldest record on record, is a Cypress of Symna, in Lombardy. It is supposed to have been planted in the year of the birth of Christ, and on that account is looked upon with reverence, by the inhabitants; but an ancient chronicle, at Milan, is said to prove, that it is the matter, my master said, "Oh sure, sir," said he, "I've lost my pipe!"
 which he seemed in an agony of mind.

ADVICE TO YOUNG LEGAL STUDENTS.—
 Better far to make a pursuit of the Law, than allow the Law to cause a pursuit of you!
