Exploding Population Is Problem In Mexico

By MORRIS W. ROSENBERG

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A harried Mexican economist pointed to a pile of reports on his desk and said:

"It all boils down to this: Every year we have over 1,000,000 new mouths to feed. Every year we have to create 350,000 new jobs for a growing labor force. How are we going to do it?"

That question is the basis of national debate in Mexico today. On its answer depends the country's political and economic cuture.

The official Bank of Mexico says the gross national product in 1961 increased by 3.5 per cent, about equal to the population growth. Result: An economic standstill.

Lack of normal investment by private enterprise is blamed for a drop in the economic index from 5.7 per cent in 1960 to 3.5 per cent last year.

FEAR COMMUNISM

Businessmen in turn blame fear of Cuban communism and uncertainty over government policies. Worried capitalists sent many millions of dollars out of the country last year.

So far, there have been no signs that the government or the great majority of Mexicans are moving toward communism.

Businessmen cite confusion over official statements about the program of Mexicanization of foreign investments; essentially, this means 51-per-cent Mexican control. They also point to government intervention in enterprises formerly in private hands, and to bureaucratic red tape.

Businessmen also are upset over a proposed constitutional amendment which would let a commission allot to workers a percentage of company profits.

Concerned by the economic slowdown, Finance Minister Antonio Ortiz Mena has announced a program aimed at guaranteeing a development pace averaging at least five per cent over the next five years.

MEAN DWELLINGS

Most families lived in dwelling units of one or two rooms in 1960. Construction of low-cost housing has not kept up with demand and the housing gap is growing. Nearly half the 36,000,000 people lack any water supply system, the Inter-American Development Bank says.

Illiteracy is nearly 40 per cent with 1,400,000 children unable to attend school because of lack of facilities and teachers.

There are no official figures on unemployment.

A little over half the population lives off agriculture, many in miserable conditions.

Average earnings for farmers are as low as 40 cents a day. Ninety-four per cent of the land is arid or semi-arid. Only 11 per cent of the land was under cultivation in 1960.

Next to agriculture, Mexico's biggest dollar provider is the United States tourist. About 812,000 left $707,000,000 last year. About 55,000 U.S. citizens live in Mexico.

Bond Issues Explained

OTTAWA (CP) — Details of two issues of government of Canada bonds totalling $200,000,000 have been announced by Finance Minister Fleming.

The issues, to be drafted May 1, 1962, include $100,000,000 of one - year, one - month 2¾-per-cent non - callable bonds due June 1, 1963, at a price of 99.15 per cent to yield about 3.56 per cent to maturity, and $100,000,000 of five-year, five - month 3¾-per-cent non - callable bonds due Oct. 1, 1967, at a price of 98.25 per cent to yield about 4.11 per cent to maturity.

The 2¾ per cent bonds are an addition to $175,000,000 of 2¾ per cent bonds due June 1, 1963, and issued Dec. 1, 1961.

The Bank of Canada has already agreed to acquire $25,000,000 of the new 2¾ per cent bonds in exchange for a similar par value of three per cent bonds due May 1, 1962.

The remaining $75,000,000 is being offered immediately for cash. Proceeds of the cash offering will be used to retire at maturity the $75,000,000 of three-per-cent bonds due May 1, 1962, remaining after the exchange with the Bank of Canada.

The $100,000,000 of new 3¾ per cent bonds will be wholly acquired by the Bank of Canada in exchange for $50,000,000 of three per cent bonds due June 15, 1962, and $50,000,000 of three per cent bonds due Aug. 1, 1962.

The collection is to be put on display at the National Museum here and parts will be sent on tour in travelling exhibitions and used in scientific, conservation and nature photography publications.
