Lobsters were never known before to be packed at the Point in April.—L. LEAN. COMING.—The St. John Sun says: "Charles Watts, the secularist orator and editor of Secular Thought, Toronto, will visit the Maritime Provinces in June. It is said that a popular clergyman in this city will meet Mr. Watts in debate." Mr. Watts is expected to speak in Charlottetown about July 1st. SUMMER CARNIVAL.—The proposed fête at Halifax promises to be a grand success. An active committee has been appointed who appear to be enthusiastic in the matter. The Herald publishing Company will issue a special carnival number, which, they predict, will surpass anything heretofore attempted in Provincial journalism. ACCIDENT.—James O'Reilly, son of Mr. James J. O'Reilly of this city, an employee in the job printing rooms of the Moncton Times, met with an accident a few days ago, as a result of which he will probably be laid off for some time. It appears that while using a lead cutter he got the thumb of his left hand under the knife, cutting off the tip of the thumb. AN OLD COUPLE.—Probably the oldest couple that ever stood before a marriage altar in Ohio is John Shilling and Mrs. Tabitha Ackerman, who have just been made husband and wife at Burbank. The groom is 87 years of age, and this is his third matrimonial venture. The bride, who becomes a bride for the second time, is 83 years of age. Both are fairly well to do. The lines are to continue under the present separate management and agencies. Steamer Halifax will run between this port and Boston only, while the Carroll and Worcester will run from Boston direct to P. E. Island, calling here on her way back. Strangers invited and cordially welcomed. All seats free. QUE ANTIQUITIES.—Although Charlottetown cannot boast of relics such as other cities possess, it can excel in ancient sidewalks and structures. True, neither are valuable or picturesque, yet they serve as a contrast to better regulated towns. It is time we set ourselves to work and devised some permanent way of improving our streets and making our buildings more uniform and prepossessing. With the exception of the new brick block on Queen Square and a few others, a most radical reform is urgent. WHERE THEY FOUND HIM.—Some six weeks ago James C. Kendall, of Garfield county, Col., deserted his wife. About this time Clarence Martindale, one of Kendall's friends, intimated to Mrs. Kendall that, as her husband had deserted her, it would not be out of place to elope with him and begin life anew in some new country. She decided to avail herself of the opportunity and accordingly the two left on last Monday for Oklahoma. On Wednesday morning, as the pair were making their way through Oklahoma city, seeking some unclaimed piece of land, who should make his appearance on the scene but James C. Kendall. Martindale, seeing escape impossible, walked up to the husband, saying: "Jim here's your wife. We've been looking for you for a long time." Then there was a joyful meeting. NEW BOOKS.—The Reproach of Amnesty, by the author of the Silence of Dean Maitland; The Painter of Parma, by Sylvanus Cobb; Mehalah, by S. Baring Gould, etc., at the Diamond Bookstore.

SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER.

THE PARNELL COMMISSION.

Some Startling Admissions.

LONDON, May 3. In the Parnell Commission the cross-examination of Parnell was continued. Parnell denied that he knew Number One. He said he never heard of Egan being associated with the "Martyrs' Fund," for the benefit of the families of the Phoenix Park murderers. He, however, saw nothing criminal in the Fund, and thought it was right to assist innocent victims. He could not, he said, recollect denouncing the outrages between 1878 and 1881. He believed the outrages perpetrated were the work of small secret societies. (Attorney-General Webster quoted a statement made by Parnell in the House of Commons, during the debate on Forster bill in 1881 succeeding the writ of habeas corpus, to the effect that secret societies had then ceased to exist in Ireland.) "Did you believe that when you said it?" asked the Attorney-General. "No," replied Parnell. "At any rate it was a gross lie, an aggravated statement." A buzz of surprise ran throughout the courtroom. "Did you intend to mistake the fact when you made that statement?" "I have no doubt I did." "You deliberately made the statement knowing it to be untrue?" "Yes, or if not were very extravagant and boastful." "And have you never since withdrawn it?" "No; I have not. The nonchalance with which witness made these admissions astonished the audience and elicited hisses. Probably," added Mr. Parnell, "the statement was meant to mislead the house. I am afraid it did not, for the bill was passed. My purpose was to exaggerate the effect the League had in reducing the number of secret societies. The League undoubtedly diminished the number of societies, but had not swept them away as I stated."

The Fast Atlantic Service.

TORONTO, May 3. The Empire's Ottawa correspondent telegraphs: It is reported from London that the syndicate represented by Anderson & Co. are experiencing difficulty in raising the necessary capital to build steamers for the proposed fast Atlantic service. It is estimated that in order to give such a service as the Dominion requires and as provided for this season a capital of $20,000,000 will be required. The cautious British capitalists manifest a tendency to hold aloof from investing, owing to the ever changing nature of steamship construction. It is argued that a company with a twenty knot service, while in the van of ocean travel to-day, yet possibly in five years, owing to the rapid improvement in marine architecture, might rank only in the second class.

Salvation Army Secessionists.

TORONTO, May 3. Over 2,000 seceders from the regular Salvation Army met last night to justify to the public their departure from the old organization. The Rev. J. Wilkinson, of Agnes Street Methodist Church, presided, and after many short speeches by the ex-officers of the Army, a resolution was carried all but unanimously, approving of the secession movement. Steps will be taken by the seceders to carry on the same kind of work with a new organization.

Ottawa Notes.

OTTAWA, May 3. The new Post Office Act will go into effect on Wednesday next, after which three cents will prepay letters of an ounce weight; drop letters will require two cents, and registration will be increased to five cents. The net debt of Canada decreased $335,000 during the last month. The surplus of revenue over expenditure for the ten months ended April 13th was $5,000,000.

The Sherbrooke Election.

SHERBROOKE, Que., May 3. Rufus Pope's candidature in Compton is received everywhere with enthusiasm. The Liberals have nominated L. B. Munroe, who came within 700 of defeating the late Hon. Mr. Pope a few years ago, and will not have any more success this time.

Without Foundation.

MONTREAL, May 3. Hon. J. J. C. Abbott told a friend to-day that all the rumors to the effect that he would exchange his seat in the Senate for representation in Argenteuil are wholly without foundation, but he did not allude to the question of portfolio.

Weather Bulletin.

TORONTO, May 4.—10 a. m. Light to moderate winds; generally fair, not much change in temperature.

President Harrison is giving many of the great offices to newspaper men. Mr. Bates and Lieut. Eight thousand vine glasses were on the tables at the Centennial banquet in New York. The wine bill will reach nearly $16,000, the total cost of the dinner being $35,000. Mr. W. C. Macdonald, the millionaire tobacconist of Montreal, and his sister and two nephews, who have been visiting their relatives on the Island during the past three weeks, left for home yesterday morning.
