

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

OCTOBER 8, 1890.

It is significant fact that Hitt, Butterworth and Sherman, the leaders of those who have posed as friends of Canada, the allies of the Grit Party of Canada in the Unrestricted Reciprocity campaign, voted for the McKinley Bill!

What are we going to do about the visit of the Governor General? Shall we permit the representative of the Queen to come and go without having a taste of Prince Edward Island hospitality? If there is to be a public entertainment or demonstration of any kind, action to that end should be taken at once.

The Philharmonic Society is again at practice. But we hear nothing about our literary and scientific institutes, our debating societies, our Shakespeare clubs, our courses of lectures. The evenings are now cool and long. Shall they be well employed throughout the winter? The salon is always with us.

The proposal of the Educational Institute that there shall be an "educational exhibit" will, no doubt, be favorably considered by the directors of the Exhibition Company. Our boys and girls can, if they set their minds to the work, prepare a most interesting department of the exhibition of next year. We hope that they will be encouraged to do so.

The Patriot complains that reciprocity has not resulted from the N. P. We might have had reciprocity in company with the states of South America, if the Grit Party had not by their ceaseless agitation for Commercial Union, and Unrestricted Reciprocity at any price, filled the people of the great Republic with the idea that Canadian trade is dependent upon them and that annexation must inevitably result from a continuance of their hostile policy.

Mr. Fred L. Hanford—whom many readers of THE EXAMINER will be glad to see again—intends to visit Charlottetown in the course of a few days, bearing with him a model showing a portion of the line of the Chignecto Ship Railway, also the dock, and method of raising vessels on the cradle from dock to rails. The model, which is valuable, will no doubt be viewed with great interest by our merchants and especially by those engaged in the shipping. The benefit to P. E. Island trade to be derived from the operation of this railway is at present incalculable.

The Sun of Truro praises highly the telephone system under Mr. Angus. The Sun says—

"The fact is forced upon us that we had much more pleasure and satisfaction in sending messages and receiving replies by telephone on P. E. Island, than in any place we ever tried the operation."

And again,—

"All business people are pleased with it and speak very highly of it, the whole arrangements giving the utmost satisfaction."

The Sun concludes that "these satisfactory results are due to the energy, ability and business push of Mr. Rob Angus, a gentleman whom many of the people of Truro will remember very favorably."

There is nothing in the long and able letter from Professor Shaw, published by THE EXAMINER, more pertinent than his remark concerning pure bred sires. Our farmers have not yet arrived at a correct idea of the great value of these animals. This is the fact particularly in respect to the breeding of sheep and cattle. We constantly see splendid pure bred animals sold to the butcher for a song, long before their usefulness as sires is gone. It is a pity, we think, that farmers in a settlement in which each cannot afford to keep a pure bred animal of this kind, do not club together for the purpose of maintaining him and sharing in his services, and so improving their respective herds.

There is one pleasing feature of the recent meeting in Charlottetown which should not be overlooked. We refer to the regatta and the creditable efforts put forth by the South End Boating Club. Good, wholesome, manly sport is obtained upon the water by those who like it—and their name is legion. We possess a sheet of water, in which to engage in aquatic sports, second to none in America. The young men amongst us who are engaged in the promotion of these sports deserve credit and encouragement. They have for several years past worked bravely under adverse circumstances, and they have triumphed over many difficulties. They are evidently made of the stuff which constitutes a nation's chief resource in troublous times. The manner in which the late regatta was conducted is worthy of commendation. We learn that they are organizing for additional improvements. We trust that they will receive a more favorable recognition from the public in the future than they have obtained in the past.

We have received a copy of the New York Mail and Express, containing the very able lecture on the "Medical Aspects of Mental Discipline," delivered by Dr. W. H. Thomson, Professor of Materia Medica and Therapeutics in the University Medical College of that city, at the opening exercises on the 30th ult., when this fine old school, which ranks among the first on the continent, celebrated its semi-centennial anniversary. This lecture is well worthy of perusal by those interested in such subjects. As to its reception in the Empire City, and the prospects of the institution in which Dr. Thomson occupies a chair, we quote from the Mail and Express:

"To-day begins the semi-centennial session of the Medical Department of the University of the City of New York, and there was, therefore, added interest in the usual introductory lecture which was delivered last night before the assembled students and their friends. Time has been kind to this great school. It prospered wonderfully, and to-day on its rolls there are some six hundred students, of whom one hundred and sixty or so matriculated for the first time this fall. Its corps of professors is of the best, containing names known all over the country. Last evening the large lecture room in the Medical Department building at No. 410 East Twenty-sixth Street, with its banks of seats, was filled every inch of it with students and their friends. The seats were not enough to hold them all. So they overflowed into the aisles and clustered around the door."

We may mention, by the way, that several of our Island boys are attending this school and we hope that they will be among those who will shed lustre upon their Alma Mater.

Japan. AN INTERESTING LETTER FROM REV. BENJ. CHAPPELLE.

The following letter from Rev. B. Chappelle, Aoyama Tokyo, Japan, to his brother here will be read with much interest.

"We are spending August here at Ariama among the mountains. Our work begins the 3rd Sept, and continues till the last of August for vacation. Here we avoid the intense and oppressive heat of Tokyo in midsummer, and so one difficulty is solved, how to exist through the dog-days. We have had the society of a number of missionaries from China as well as our own. We are nearer the millennium here than you are in P. E. Island, or than you were when I knew it. Here all Protestant denominations unite with greatest cordiality. On one Sunday morning the service is Episcopal, on the alternate without ritual. On Sunday evening we have prayer meetings, and three times a week Bible readings in which all unite, Episcopal, Baptist, Presbyterian, Congregationalist and Methodist. Sunday evening Rev. Mr. Tyng, American Episcopal, asked our prayers that as a Bishop was to be chosen for them in a few weeks, that the right man be sent. Is not that a new thing under the sun, to ask us to unite in such a prayer. I was told that Rev. Mr. Warren, (English Episcopal) recently partook of the Lord's Supper at the hands of a native Congregationalist minister. Such a spirit as that would bring very near the church of which your great-grandfather and mine was the first church warden, and the church whose foundations he laid in P. E. Island."

"We were drawn last week near to our Episcopal brethren in a benevolent that befel them. Rev. J. Harvey, of China, English Episcopal, was married the week before to a lady of the China Inland Mission. A few days after, he started on a wedding tour to Japan, intending to come to Ariama. On Monday, on board the steamer, he was taken with cholera, and on Tuesday died. When, on landing, his wife asked where the funeral would be, she was told that as quickly as possible after death the body had been buried through the port-hole of the state-room, and all the contents of the room burned. The much dreaded cholera is spreading in every direction. It first made its appearance at Nagasaki, and has been most prevalent there, there having been thus far 2,300 cases, and 1,400 deaths in that city. This is no country for anyone who is fearful—who lacks trust in a Father's care. What, with earthquakes, volcanic eruptions, typhoons, robberies, murders, and deadly pestilence, there is plenty of room for fearfulness and worry for those who indulge in such things. And yet it is a beautiful land, resting in its loveliness under the smile of Heaven, and over it all, as over all lands, our King shall reign."

"The Presbyterian mission in Korea has suffered a great loss in the death of Dr. Heron. He took his wife and child a little distance into the country and settled them for the summer, and himself went back to his work in the hospital at Seoul. But he was seized with typhus and succumbed. He was a young man. He came out to assist Dr. Allen at a time when Korean mission work had a romantic interest. Dr. Allen went to Korea at the time of the revolution there, and while others were fearful of their lives he worked night and day among the wounded and dying. One of the princes had been scalped and he was called to attend him. He consulted a doctor on board a man-of-war, who advised him not to undertake it, as he was almost sure of losing his patient and it might be a great injury to Dr. Allen. But he persevered and brought him through. The King asked him what he might give him as an expression of gratitude. The Doctor asked nothing for himself, but asked the King to build and endow a hospital for his own people. This was done and given in charge of Dr. Allen, and, as I said, Dr. Heron came out to assist in the work that seems providentially to open. Since then, however, the work in Korea has not been so encouraging. The preaching of Christianity is contrary to the law of the land, so the missionaries can but live it (perhaps one of the best kinds of preaching) and wait until religious liberty is conceded, and they can baptize those who profess Christ, and write them into church fellowship."

Sunday afternoon we found in a far-off part of the town an old and very poor woman sewing some rags together for clothing. There soon gathered round us quite a congregation of dirty and miserably clad children and grown persons. The old woman told us that she was of the Mono or reformed sect of Buddhists. When asked if she had found the peace that she desired she said no. I go and pray at the temple, yet, I do not get any left. Yet it is no fault of the gods,—it is my fault. A little while ago she said: 'I concluded that I must go to hell—that there is no help for it, because I am so old and poor that I cannot go to the temple as often as I ought.' This little incident unveils a world of pathos concerning these poor souls that grope around the darkness but do not find the light, who seek rest, but know not of Him who said, 'Come unto Me and I will give you rest.' And yet, miserable souls who have had the light of the gospel all their lives, begrudge sending its knowledge to such needy ones as these."

Georgetown Notes.

The junior members of No. 3 Battery, G. A., had a shooting match at the Range on Tuesday last. Prizes were given by some of our townspeople for competition.

The Exhibition was a decided success, and the new management seem pleased with results. The horse racing was a special feature, and its attractiveness accounted to a large degree for the general good order. There will likely be another trot this autumn.

The writer pointed out in your columns some time ago that it was a mistake leaving the Critic out of the fisheries service. She has since been employed, and proved her usefulness by capturing the David Crockett. This is the ship, I understand, that was run into by the cruiser Connaught in our harbor, for the damage to which the cruiser had to pay damages earlier in this season. No explanation is yet made why Capt. McLaren is not commissioned. The influence of our local politicians should be powerful enough to prevent the Captain's dismissal without cause from the service he so well attended to.

Now that we have a Commissioner of Public Works from this County, we expect to see a steamer on Cardigan Ferry at least two days a week. It will be of great benefit to the people of Cardigan, who now drive twelve miles because they cannot cross the river one mile. Hon. Hugh L. McDonald, the new Commissioner, who is personally popular, will likely be elected by acclamation.

Terminus in Nova Scotia.

A NEW RAILWAY ENTERPRISE BACKED BY £12,000,000 STERLING.

The Montreal correspondent of the Empire had an interview on the 3rd inst. with Captain Hamilton Gunn, of London, Eng., who was reported to be in Canada as the representative of the Inman Steamship Company for the purpose of ascertaining if a sufficient quantity of freight could be procured at Canadian ports to justify the Inman's in putting some of their largest steamers on the Canadian route. The report Mr. Gunn declares, is erroneous from beginning to end. He has no connection with the Inman Company. "I have on hand," he said, "one of the most important schemes ever launched in America. The enterprise is backed by twelve million pounds sterling." The reporter asked if he could give details, but Mr. Gunn stated he could not do so until January next. "But I can say the scheme embraces a railway through Canada with its terminus in Nova Scotia, and also connection with New York. It is proposed to build Atlantic steamers of not less than 10,000 tons, and by utilizing the land and sea route New York will be brought within four and a half days of England, and I may also add that steamers will likewise be put on lakes Huron and Superior." This scheme he says, has nothing to do with the Labrador extension, nor has it anything to do with the Terminal City scheme.

News Notes.

Several more warships are to be built by the United States.

Germany pays the Sultan of Zanzibar four million marks for coasting privileges.

It is said that a great tin plate factory is to be established at Baltimore, to compete with English manufacturers.

Montreal Gazette: "In this commercial-unreciprocity discussion, it is, perhaps, not to be wondered at that Wiman and Sherman have completely eclipsed Mr. Laurier and Sir Richard Cartwright as leaders of the Grit party."

John Morley spoke a few nights ago, giving his experiences during his recent trip to Ireland, arraigning the government for arbitrary and tyrannical methods, and predicting that the recent events in Tipperary would close nationalist ranks. He declared the crowd at Tipperary court house on the day of the disturbance as insignificant and harmless a crowd as he ever saw, and made no attempt at riot, the soldiery and constables being the aggressors.

South Africa has one of the most mixed populations in the world. With the descendants of the Dutch and English colonists and the natives are mingled Malays, East Indians and Arabs, and representatives of almost every maritime Asiatic country. The indications are that they will soon all be voters. The government of the Cape proper has given the franchise to the non-tribal blacks, and the Chief Justice of Natal has just decided that the coolies also must be put on the voters' lists. The experiment will be an interesting one, for the blacks and yellows are about as two to one of the whites. The blacks, however, aspire to be "Englishmen," and have, therefore, voted the "English" ticket on everything, from fighting the Boers to building railroads.

Personal.

Mr. Charles R. McKay finished his course of studies at the Charlottetown Business College and Writing Academy on Friday last, and received the college diploma. He left here on Monday last to take a position in a bank in Chicago. We wish him success.

Mr. L. D. Winsor, proprietor of the Royal Hotel, Halifax, died on Sunday. He was attacked with hemorrhage of the lungs a few weeks ago, from the effects of which he never rallied.

EDISON INCANDESCENT LIGHT!

Please Note Carefully the Following Important Facts:

- 1. THE EDISON SYSTEM IS PERFECTLY SAFE. The whole dynamo current may be taken through the human body without injury. 2. THE ALTERNATING SYSTEM IS DANGEROUS. Electrical and Insurance experts everywhere pronounce the Alternative System to be the most dangerous system now in use, for which reason it was chosen by U. S. A. experts for Government electrocution. Should the main street wires break from coating with ice or from any other cause when the current is on (as has occurred in other places), instant death is caused from contact with them. 3. The Full Electric Co. will have an Edison Incandescent plant in operation in two or three weeks, and are prepared to give a BETTER LIGHT at the SAME PRICE AND TERMS as the Alternating Co. 4. The Full Electric Co. is a purely Local Company,—all the Stock having been subscribed for in Charlottetown. 5. There would not have been Incandescent plant in Charlottetown, and the price of lighting would not have been reduced to what it now is, if the Full Electric Co. had not introduced a plant. In consideration of these facts, the FULL ELECTRIC CO. claim that they should have the preference from all our enterprising citizens. WALTER P. DOULL, Superintendent. Charlottetown, Oct. 6, 1890—31 pat
