"BAD WOODS FIRE — A woods fire of unknown origin broke out on Tuesday about 10 a. m. at the edge of Frank Vessey's farm in Brudenell. In a short time, carried by a south west wind, the fire had swept over a considerable area both on the ground and on the tops. A large crowd assembled and at 2 p. m. the fire was brought under control. However, at 5 p. m. the fire got under way again, and jumped the trenches which had been dug to halt its progress. Once again the firefighters battled through smoke and flames to bring to a stop a repetition of the disastrous fire which took place in the same area several years ago, when the whole length of three miles from this spot to Brudenell Point was completely burned out. At the last report Tuesday night the firefighters were slowly bringing the blaze under control again, and it was expected that a night guard would be kept on to prevent any sudden outbreak. A small downpour of rain at 8 p. m. helped considerably to bring the blaze under control, and it was felt that this would prevent any sudden outbreak on the rising of the wind on Wednesday. On Wednesday morning it was reported that the fire was still smouldering, and a constant watch was being kept.

True Success Story

By F. H. MacArthur

Chancellor of the Archdiocese of Edmonton as well as Vice-Chancellor in 1927, he attended the Catholic University in Washington, D. C. where he received the degree D. J. C. Almost immediately upon his return to Edmonton, he was appointed Prothonotary Apostolic to Pope Pius XI.

At the age of 35, he was created Archbishop of Regina, the youngest Archbishop in the Roman Catholic Church.

The honors were coming so fast that at times he must have thought himself possessed of an Aladdin's lamp. On Dec. 22, 1934, he was appointed Archbishop of Toronto, and two years later, on Feb. 16, 1946, this illustrious son of Prince Edward Island was created a Cardinal, receiving from the hands of the Pope the "Red Hat", thus becoming the first English speaking Cardinal in Canada.

In a brief sketch like this, there is not space to record all the honors that came to His Grace, Nrc can the writer picture all the interesting events in the life of this great and learned man. To do so would require many pages of manuscript.

On the 3rd of May, 1947, this notable churchman was appointed "Papal Legate A Latere," to represent personally the head of the Catholic Church at the National Marian Congress held at Ottawa in June of that year. During the past decade, Cardinal McGowan has travelled widely mingling with all classes and creeds which experience, plus his childhood life, makes him a very tolerant, broad-minded man. Such is a brief chronological summary of the life of His Eminence James Cardinal McGowan, Archbishop of Toronto, a prince of his church, a renowned scholar, and a great Canadian who believes that love of God and love of country go hand in hand.

The Institute had the public hall wired for electric lighting and bill for same was presented by Mrs. Earle Campbell. It was decided to pack woollens for Fairfield's Woolen Mills, Winnipeg on Tuesday evening, July 25 at the hall.
