

S.D.U. Commencement Day Set For May 13

The principal address at the 1958 Commencement Exercises of St. Dunstan's University will be given by Dr. Charles de Koninck, renowned philosopher and theologian from Laval University. The Baccalaureate Sermon will be delivered by Reverend Anthony A. Francis, Pastor of St. Andrew's Parish, Eastern Passage, N. S.

Commencement Day has been set for May 13th when degrees in Arts, General Science and Commerce will be awarded to about twenty-eight students. Doctor de Koninck, who will deliver the address to the Graduates on this occasion, was for seventeen years, from 1939-1956, Dean of the Faculty of Philosophy at Laval University. He was born in Belgium in 1906, graduated with his doctorate in philosophy from Louvain University in 1934 and ever since then has been a member of the Laval Faculty of Philosophy. In addition to membership in numerous professional organizations and societies, he is a Knight Commander of the Order of St. Gregory the Great, and author of eleven published works in the fields of philosophy and theology.

Reverend Anthony Francis will be returning to his Alma Mater to deliver the Baccalaureate Sermon to the Class of 1958 on Sunday morning, May 11th at eleven o'clock. Father Francis, a native of Prince Edward Island, born at West Devon, attended Queen Square School and Prince of

Mental Illness Discussed At Meeting In City Yesterday

The outstanding feature of psychiatric progress has been to have people accept mental illness as such and the mentally ill persons as people who were once normal but now are afflicted with a treatable illness. The above analysis was given yesterday morning at the 6th annual meeting of the N.B. - P.E.I. Branch of the Canadian Public Health Association held at the Charlottetown Hotel.

Dr. John Theriault prepared the paper on psychiatry that was delivered by Dr. Malcolm Beck at the meeting. Dr. Theriault noted that the truth possibly lies somewhere in middle of the constant war that is being waged between physical and psychological causes and treatment for illness.

"Health is a personal thing and must be taught in the home and community," added Garth Crockett, Public Health Educator for the Island, in a talk entitled "Design for Action". Mr. Crockett dealt briefly with health in the educational system and said that it could be added to the curriculum only at the expense of something else. He also dealt with the development of public health work from its inception. He said it was only necessary to go back 70 years to be in the past.

Aldor LeBlanc, Senior Sanitary Inspector, Moncton, N.B. stressed the growing importance of sanitation in public health tracing prevention of diseases by sanitation back to ancient times. He said that health problems were increasing from such causes as carbon monoxide, food spoilage, and water pollution due to lack of legislation.

However, he said, the sanitary engineering profession was meeting the challenge with countless solutions. The big job is to get the public educated in using these solutions, and to get enforcement of the necessary legislations. He stated that the sanitarian had to be provided with opportunity and facilities to do the job well and keep abreast of progress.

Over 85 workers in the field of Public Health were registered for the convention which ended last night. They included Government health officials, medical doctors, psychiatrists, psychologists, Public Health nurses and sanitary engineers.

Setting Up Of Rehabilitation Centre Seen Forward Step

Establishment of a 25-bed Rehabilitation Centre in the former Provincial Orthopedic Centre represented a great forward step in rehabilitation work in P.E.I., Brigadier W. W. Reid, the provincial Deputy Minister of Welfare told delegates to the sixth annual meeting of the N.B. - P.E.I. Branch of the Canadian Public Health Association yesterday.

The Island civil servant, who is also the provincial Director of Rehabilitation, spoke at the final session of the day-long series of conferences. He was introduced and thanked by the founding chairman, Dr. E. M. Froude.

Development of this important phase in rehabilitation work was made possible through the "excellent co-operation" of all branches of the local Department of Health, the deputy-minister declared.

UP TO 16. At the Centre boys and girls up to 16 years of age may receive needed treatment, provided their cases are approved by the Medical Advisory Board and the Provincial Welfare authorities.

The deputy-minister emphasized that the Centre was not intended to compete with existing general hospitals in the Province. "If patients are able to pay, we prefer to see them going to these hospitals," he stated. More difficulty was experienced in providing rehabilitation and medical treatment for those over 16, Brigadier Reid, noted, unless their particular disability arose from polio or TB.

Treatment of certain disabilities was unobtainable locally, he said. This necessitated the removal of such patients to other centres, he added.

FUNDS AVAILABLE. Funds for out-of-the-Province treatment are available through the co-operation of the Rotary Club and the local Chapter of the Canadian Foundation for Polio-myelitis, he said.

If the case meets with the approval of the Rehabilitation Council, all expenses of the patient are paid.

In the three months that such help has been available, three out of four patients sent to mainland hospitals have been returned cured, the deputy-minister noted. Bunks, board, tuition, and allowances for as long as two years can be provided to disabled persons requiring training in new occupations. Mr. Reid said.

TRAINING PROVIDED. In this Province the necessary training is provided under the direction of the Department of Education on a joint Dominion-Provincial arrangement, he added.

In addition, those responsible for rehabilitating the disabled are also responsible for their "reintegration in society" he declared. This required that a placement service be provided in order that the retained might have a position open to them on the completion of their training period.

Pure Water

Maritimes, the people will have to put up with the waste products that are inseparable from it, Mr. Cameron said.

While admitting that the brine content in raw petroleum was often drained back into the earth through unused wells, the N.B. expert said that in many areas this "oil emulsion" was allowed to drain away on the surface and add to the contamination of many streams.

To the Arkansas River alone, an estimated 6,000 tons of salt is added daily by oil wastes, he observed.

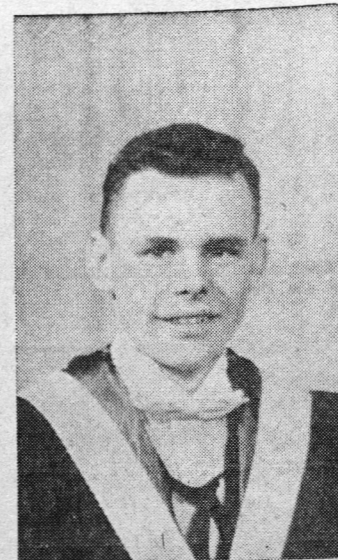

OTHER DANGERS. Modern society also faces danger of water pollution from organic wastes, such as detergents, insecticides and the wastes of the plastics industry, Mr. Cameron declared.
