

To all those who possess a tincture of real loyalty—that word which in this Island has, I confess, become such sickening cant—and who feel for the true interest of the Colony, it must be gratifying to find that His Excellency has expressed his opinion and policy regarding this independent and mainly part? Sir Henry, no sooner than becoming thoroughly aware of its nature, perceives it to be the canker-worm, I was going to say—but rather the devouring element of this otherwise promising Colony; and (justly does he remark) the population rendered un- happy, disunited and discontented, by its designing but in- capable leaders." We at last find a Governor, convinced by his personal experience of its necessity, carrying through her Ministers, and doing so openly and fearlessly; through her Ministers, and doing so openly and fearlessly; through her Ministers, and doing so openly and fearlessly; him an Entire Horse also, so that he won't be worse than the Doctor or Makim. I shall have all the papers ready, and if you should sign them as Chairman, you must not put "Tailor" after your name, because then people would say you are only the one-ninth part of a man. Let me beg of you to use your utmost endeavours for the good cause, and as Mingo won't get into the House this Election, I shall get you to be BREECHEE-MAKER to the Assembly; and if I can't succeed in that, I pledge myself to give you full one-half of what crop of Fish I shall have from off my rotten Herrings; and further, I promise you that I shall not go to seize or inspect any stinking Fish which you may import for the next four years. Trusting I shall find you at your post late this evening, when I shall be over,

I remain, yours, &c. &c. CON. LITTLE-TO-DO. To Mr. Macphee John, Tailor, North River, Lot 32. P. S.—If there should be any of those rascally Monaghan people passing your place, don't forget to point out to them the goodness of my son; although I hate the rascals, yet I know my son John will be in need of their votes, and therefore we must not spare the soft soap on them.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE COLONIAL HERALD.

Sir; I observed in your last number several communications written by some of the happy tribe, reflecting on the proceedings of the public meeting of Lot 32, at which I was nominated a Candidate for the Second District of Queen's County. As my acceptance of the invitation of that meeting does not appear to coincide with the wishes of that tribe, I, of course, cannot expect to pass without receiving a share of that vituperative spleen which they so lavishly bestow on others. With regard to the Grub-street effusions of the incog. who signs himself A SUBSCRIBER, I deem such wholly beneath my notice; and as to your two Electoral Correspondents, who arrive nearly at the same fallacious conclusions, I shall condescend to offer a few remarks on their bilious and insidious productions; but it is not my intention hereafter to notice the verbiage of such splenic lampooners, who have not the manhood to affix their real names to their communications.

That the meeting of Lot 32 was sufficiently numerous, and fully competent to discharge the duties for which it was convened, I am credibly informed, and therefore all the sophistry and groundless assertions of your correspondents cannot induce me to believe the contrary. And I feel assured, the reputable character which Mr. John Macphee, the Chairman of that meeting, so deservedly sustains in the community, is such as cannot suffer injury from the malevolent aspersions of those intrusive writers, and are therefore of no consequence to him or the Electors who attended the meeting—whilst the personal allusions made to myself are so vague and insignificant as only to merit my utter contempt. Reposing, as I do, the most unlimited confidence in a people whose future welfare I shall always feel anxious to promote, I am therefore satisfied that the nomination of the meeting of Lot 32 will operate as a guarantee of my ultimate success in the ensuing Election.

I am, Sir, yours, &c., JOHN LITTLE. Charlottetown, 17th June, 1842.

DIED. On Saturday morning last, Martha, youngest daughter of Mr. Joseph W. Hodgson, aged 5 months.

To the Electors of the First District of Queen's County. GENTLEMEN; At the earnest request of many of you, I have been induced to offer myself a Candidate at the ensuing Election for the honor of representing you in the next House of Assembly, and should you deem me worthy of your confidence, nothing shall be wanting, on my part, which my limited abilities are capable of obtaining for your District—more especially those local claims which it is fairly entitled to, in common with the other parts of the Colony.

I am a native of this District, and in it live the greater number of my friends and relatives; and there is not a District in this Island with which I am so well acquainted, both with regard to its inhabitants and their local necessities—circumstances which, I am sure, you will not overlook. My principles and conduct in the House of Assembly, during the eight years in which I have had the honor of a seat in that House, are pretty well known to the most of you; and as I can see no reason to change sides, or to desert the cause of the poor inhabitants, to support that of a proprietary faction, I think you have a sufficient guarantee that I will continue to advocate the rights of the Agriculturists of the Colony with such abilities as I may possess—which I will do against any odds that may be opposed to me. As I have nothing to hope for, and as little to fear, from the whole host of proprietary oppressors and their coadjutors, I am free to support any constitutional measure with which (if returned) you may think proper to entrust me.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen, Your obedient servant, WILLIAM CLARK, Senr. Darnley, June 14th, 1842.

To the Electors of the First Electoral District of King's County.

GENTLEMEN; Being about to leave the Colony for a few weeks, I deem it my duty, before doing so, to intimate to you, that I will again offer myself a Candidate at the ensuing Election, for the honor of representing you in the next House of Assembly. Trusting that the policy pursued by me in the present House of Assembly was such as to secure to me your further confidence and support, I would merely add, that should you again confide in me the same responsible trust, I shall unflinchingly continue to assist in carrying out those leading and important measures in progress for the general welfare of the Colony, and will use every exertion to promote the local interests of this District.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen, Your obedient humble servant, DONALD MACDONALD. Big Spring, Lot 44, May 25, 1842.

Those who have anything at stake in the Colony—who wish to see it flourish, and who value good government, will, I am sure, cheerfully support His Excellency's administration. Let them continue no longer passive: the silent consent which has been hitherto shewn to the peace-disturbers of the Colony, however merited, is not sufficient to obviate the simple and unwary of its Inhabitants of the consequences of longer submitting to be the dupes of a few hungry speculators.

I am, Sir, your obdt. servt. No MISTAKE. TO THE EDITOR OF THE COLONIAL HERALD.

Sir.—When a person meditates evil against another, he generally tries to dress it in the garb of goodness, and frequently, while striving to accomplish his design, he attempts to blind his fellow men to the real motives which have actuated him, and appears to be "intent on something else which in itself may be indifferent, or even praiseworthy. No man is more repeatedly made use of in the present day, than that very much admired one—"Staunch Teetotalism"—It is a convenient and flattering disguise, which, like the Anchorite's, in days of yore, may draw upon its wearer the admiration of the unwary and the simple. But when I see the form of self denial, Temperance and Moderation, swelling out, and quickly losing all its proper character—metamorphosing its comely lineaments into a hideous nearness to the features of disgusting malice—I cannot help exclaiming—"Surely this can never be the real virtue which it purporteth—this cannot be that Christian Abstinence which would shudder at intemperance of language—would grieve to inflict unnecessary and unprovoked pain on a fellow creature, no less than to yield to an evil indulgence in the gratification which plenty has provided." Such, I regret to say, was the reflection which passed across my mind, when I read the letter signed A STAUNCH TEETOTALER—a letter penned, apparently, to wound the feelings no less than thwart the public views of Capt. Swabey, yet dealing out its slanders like some afterthought—some fitting and appropriate illustration of the benefits to be expected from a tax on Rum. And so, Mr. Editor, according to this TEETOTALER, Capt. Swabey is not a person likely to advance the interests of this Colony, because he has been a Magistrate in England, and in that capacity has been obliged to execute those Laws which, I believe, every Magistrate has sworn conscientiously to administer, even though a poacher, or some refractory debitor to a clergyman, should chance to come before him!

"The bountiful Creator (observes your correspondent) has placed the animal within some starving peasant's reach—an unfeeling Aristocracy says, 'Thou shalt not kill!' Certainly this is rather a "John Frostist" definition of the Game Laws. But suppose the Aristocrat to spend his money in rearing, feeding and preserving this game, which would otherwise become almost immediately extinct, will not the poacher take the worth of money, if not the coin itself? Will there be so great a difference between the tame fowl and the wild fowl, when each is actually a property reserved? But why talk of property? The law is good with your correspondent, where it suits his views—where it differs from them, it is good for nothing. Let me ask, from which class of Legislators we may expect the strictest justice—from the liberals of this "Staunch Teetotal" School, or from such men as Capt. Swabey, who have passed their lives in honorable office, unimpeached and unsuspected? The Assembly, I aver, would have reason to be proud of the acquisition, were some gentlemen, unbiassed and unpaid, to occupy its benches, until a radical reform should be effected—a reform from mercenary jobbing, and dishonest attempts to defraud the landlords—(I mean not a tax on wilderness)—to an upright and judicious searching into the real wants and resources of this country, and an unflinching execution of such measures as might exalt our national condition. I trust we are not doomed to wallow still in that most melancholy slough, which for years past has smothered all our politics. Should such unhappily prove the case, we must be satisfied to see capital and enterprise stand aloof, and wavering their adieus, or declining our acquaintance altogether. Let the people look to it—the fault will be their own. For the present, I have done with the TEETOTALER, advising him, when next he writes, to wear his literary mask after a somewhat more charitable fashion. I remain, Sir, &c. &c. WILL WATCH.

P. S.—By the bye, S. T. T. was fearful, lest you should be afraid to fire off his petararo for him. Does he not know that the man who stands behind, will be the one who must suffer from the recoil—his broken shins—his dirty task of wiping off the smutty smoke in which his own impudence has enveloped him? Charlotte town, 8 June, 1842.

Misther heditor, the enclosed paper I found this morn near the north river bridge, and has I beant much of a scholar, perhaps you would print it for the benefit of the Hilllectors, has may be concerns them more than your humble servant, PEDRO PEE. Charlottetown, 2d June, 1842.

My Dear Macphee. I intended to have gone over to see you yesterday, but was busy putting in my crop of herring (or rather a crop of potatoes on the herring which I bamboozled the fellows out of last fall at the wharf); I shall, however, God willing, be over this evening, with all the papers ready for signature. In the meantime, let me beg you will exert yourself to have at least eight or ten persons at the meeting; and mind you don't let any one know of the Meeting unless such as you know are staunch to our cause; and when we get the proceedings into the newspapers, why we need not let people know afterwards how many attended. My son is quite a talented young man; but he does not get practice either here or in Georgetown, which makes me the more anxious to get him into the House of Assembly; and as he has promised me that he would swallow the "pledge," I provided I could get him a requisition, and a dose of castor oil afterwards, I am determined to get the requisition up, even tho' there should be only us both there. We must meet in the Schoolhouse late, so that there may not be any person to hear us, except such of your neighbours as you may think would not be against us. I am of opinion, it is best to say something very sweet of our Friend Makim, so that he may resign, and give his services to the people in following his Entire Horse; and we must also say something very sour of Small John, for you must recollect how he beat us at the last Election; and he may do so again, if we don't say something to turn the people against him; then we can have the little Doctor coupled with my John, to enable him the better to digest the pledge. The little Doctor, you know, has a great influence, since his Entire Horse did so much good in the country; and, by the bye, you may tell your friends, that if my son don't get more practice from the Escheators, that I will get
