At The Banquet

ALL THE MAINLANDERS who attended the Legion's Centennial Salute to Hockey Wednesday night said the banquet and Island hospitality were terrific. Some even went as far as to say it was the best banquet they had ever attended . . . The only "sour grapes" of the night was EARL ROSS's little talk on the MAHA and CAHA. We agree with Earl that both these bodies have not been as effective in some areas as we would hope them to be, but during a salute to our national pastime is no time to "blast off." . . . LES ALEXANDER'S recent composition, "You're On The Island", which he sang and was accompanied on the piano by AL BLANCHARD, was appreciated . . . J. J. CONNOLLY, Charlottetown Legion president, said the affair was one of the finest events of the Centennial Year . . . Brig. BILL REID, responsible for much of the organizing of the banquet, took it easy for a change and said he enjoyed himself . . . COOPER SMEATON pointed out that this season the NHL had its greatest year ever, drawing 300,000 for the Stanley Cup playoffs, 2,733,000 for the regular season and 2,000,000,000 via television . . . JUDY LA MARSH, unable to be present because of an illness, sent a telegram to those at the banquet that was warmly received . . . Said DANNY GALLIVAN: "I've been trying to convince Selke for the past 12 years to travel East and have an education. He finally came."

More Banquet Talk

RED KELLY said: "There's one good advantage in being a Stanley Cup winner. You're not asked all summer 'What happened?'" . . . Gallivan credited FRANK SELKE Jr., as being "one who will be among the top men in the NHL in five or 10 years" . . . Among those present were JOE CLARK and GRANT GRADY, manager and coach of the Summerside Junior Legionaires. The Charlottetown Legion Juveniles were in full attendance . . . ELMER FERGUSON, Montreal Star sportswriter who was born on P.E.I., was something of a password for some of the guests. Ferguson is greatly respected by the sports world as a writer . . . JIM PENDERGAST was present and delighted in meeting the nation's greatest . . . AL MacNEILL said "Maybe we (Chicago) put too much into trying to make the playoffs and didn't save enough for the series." . . . Said Gallivan: "ART POTTER took the wrong decision. "He was referring to the Summerside Legionaires being sent home . . . To say the least, EARL ROSS agreed with Gallivan . . . Fitness Director ROGER DION said that sport's governing bodies needed a shot in the arm . . . JEAN BELIVEAU drew the biggest round of applause of any of the guests when he entered the banquet room. Kelly was second . . . Standing ovations were given FORBES KENNEDY and DANNY GALLIVAN . . . Football's JIM TRIMBLE said he talked to a friend last season after one of his players had been released. He didn't name the player but it couldn't have been anyone but SANDY STEPHENS, now with Toronto. "This friend told me he was very good in an average game but felt he didn't have it when the team needed him most."

She Ran Like The Wind

WILMA RUDOLPH, born and raised among the poor folks in Tennessee's tobacco and corn country, ran her way into the record books reserved only for sports royalty, four years ago, September 8, at Rome.

Racing under a rain-sprinkled sky, she paced the faultering United States track and field team with a searing anchor-leg effort which brought home an Olympic victory into the women's 400-meter relay final. In so doing, Rudolph won her third gold medal, an accomplishment equalled very seldom in Olympic competition.

In the 100-meter dash the same day, she set a world record by winning in 11 seconds. Because a following wind exceeded the allowed maximum, her record was not recognized, but the Tigerbelle from Tennessee A and I University made up for it en route to her 200-meter sprint victory by running a trial heat in a record 0:23.2.

Whenever the 20-year-old lass stepped to the medal platform at these 1960 Olympics, the 84,000 in the packed stands greeted her with thunderin' applause. Quick to smile, pleasing to look at, and loaded with talent, she was a popular champion.

HUNTER'S CORNER

Fishing Seasosn Underway; An Experience With Nature

The other day I drove past North River Causeway and stopped to count the cars lined up at Roadside ... seventeen of them ... and scores of hopeful anglers were busy trying their luck.

North River Causeway was not up to par, with respect to trout production, early in the season but had contributed some real finny beauties this past day or so.

Cardigan Causeway was the heavy early season producer a on occasion, anglers had their choice of trout, steelheads or salmon. The Bonshaw dam also harboured a lot of salmon on April 15th and later.

SALMON NOT LEGAL

I asked an angler, who patronized Cardigan Causeway the first two weeks of the season, what disposition was made of the salmon caught. Salmon are not legal trophies in the spring and I ventured to suggest that they were returned to the water. I received an answer in the form of a question; "Do you know anymore good jokes?"

Saturday afternoon, May 2nd, I made my first try for trout. A chill Nor'wester died down to a few feeble gusts as I assembled my rod and by the time I made my first cast of the season the water was as smooth and unruffled as a blue dinner plate, I let the Par Belle and dark Montreal with a silver body sink down to near bottom level and then began a slow retrieve.

It was at least ten minutes before I felt a slight tentative tug. It was encouraging to know that trout were there even if they were in a sort of 'teasing' mood. The westering sun had sunk below the spruce spires before I got any action. I managed to creel seven before calling it a day. Four were nice pan trout ... three eleven inchers and one ten with the others keepers only.

TROUT LACK ZIP

I was surprised at the lack of zip they displayed with one exception. This one hit the offering with a bang as I raised it to the surface in readiness for another cast.

This fighter put up quite a battle even though the water was ice cold. The others made a few short rushes but they lacked any real sip. They reminded me of an out of condition prize fighter who, after taking a stiff jost in the solar plexus, wobbled around the rink on elastic knees.

Even if they were legarthic in their action they were in good condition and firm and flavoursome when dished up on a platter. Needless to say they lacked the real tang of trout taken in June when the river's bounteous table is spread wide open.

ENJOYS NATURE

I was warmly clad for the occasion and enjoyed the outing to the full. In the deepening dusk a beaver displayed his annoyance by smacking the water with the flat of his tail. The report sounded like a pistol shot. A muskrat swimming past stopped momentarily and gave me the once over with his tail cocked at a saucy angle but I missed the Red-winged black birds swaying on the flag tips. A few years ago they were quite numerous.

As I walked the woodland trail carward a Great Horned Owl alighted momentarily on a spruce spire and then glided on silent wings down a darkened forest aisle. It give me quite a thrill for it was the first of its kind I had seen for several years. Not so long ago the mellow hoot was a part of every spring night.

A bright spot in our countryside is the remarkable comeback our robins have made this spring. The Bronzed Cracides are also present in full sized flocks this season. They are pugnacious birds and feud with the robins continually but they add a spot of colour to our countryside so we must not be too choosey where Nature is concerned.

Our wildgeese are staying with us later than usual this spring. So its quite possible conditions are not up to par on their norhern breeding grounds. According to reports hundreds have made their last flight anywhere.

WINS TROPHY

Ken Wharram captured the Lady Byng trophy; emblematic of combined skill with sportsmanship during the past season in the NHL. This is quite a rarity for a member of the Chicago squad which has a reputation for rough play.

Sporting Activity At Souris

SOURIS — Souris Fishcutters are trying to gain entry into the Kings County Baseball League this season. The team is composed of Nova Scotians working in the filleting department of the local fish processing plant who have all made their homes in the Souris district since moving from Nova Scotia several years ago. For the past three years they have been playing teams in the packet stands greeted her with thunderin' applause. Quick to smile, pleasing to look at, and loaded with talent, she was a popular champion.

TRACK AND FIELD

The Kings Country track and field meet will be held in Souris at the end of this month, with the elementary taking place on the 29th and the senior high school meet on the 30th. A preliminary meet is to be held in Souris May 15 to decide winners for this competition.

There are several new events in the meet this year for the elementary entrants. The three new events for boys include discus, eight-pound shot, and the 880 yard run. There are three more for both boys' and girls' competition: broad jump, high jump, and the 440 yard relay.

COMMITTEE MEETING

Saint Mary's Church was the scene of the annual meeting of the Souris Recreational Committee last night. There were two re-elections in the choosing of a new slate of officers. Vice-president Elmer MacDonald and secretary-treasurer Alan MacLean remained in the same seats they held last year on the committee. New president for the term is Reg Peters.

The committee's record for the past year was outlined at the meeting, and it was decided to have another meeting as soon as possible to draw up a program for the coming year.

Marlies Defeat Oil Kings To Take Commanding Lead

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto Marlboros are on the verge of returning the prestige Memorial Cup, emblematic of Canadian junior hockey supremacy, to the East again following their 5-2 victory over the defending champion Edmonton Oil Kings Thursday night.

The victory gave the Marlboros a commanding 3-0 lead in the best-of-seven final series. The Marlboros skated off with the victory, out scoring Edmonton 2-1 in each of the first two periods and rallying the lone third-period marker.

Peter Stemkowski and Brit Selby scored two goals each for the high - flying Toronto club. Paul Laurent knotched a single.

Edmonton goals went to Butch Paul and defenceman Bert Marshall.

The Marlboros again showed much more polish around the net, as Russ Kirk came up with 31 saves in the Edmonton goal compared with the 26 shots Gary Smith grabbed off in the Toronto net.

Stemkowski wasted little time getting Toronto started when he defelcted a shot off an Edmonton player into the net at the 41 second mark of the opening period.

Paul evened the count less than eight minutes later, but Stemkowski put the Leafs ahead to stay at 10:45 when he deflected a pass from Ron Ellis behind Kirk as he cruised unmolested in front of the Edmonton cage.

Softball Meeting Held At S'side

SUMMERSIDE — The first softball meeting of the year was held here last night. The purpose of the meeting being to try to establish a four team league.

Summerside's RCAF station, Emma's Pharmacy, St. Eleonors and Johnstons Sheet Mental Workers were the four teams considered for the formation of the softball loop for the coming season.

Canon Mark Ferguson, acting president, stated that the league should be well balanced and thats co-operation between the four teams must be achieved.

The league executive will have the power to draft any of the players on any of the teams with the exception of the RCAF team in order to see that no one team obtains to strong of a line-up.

The league will face financial problems right at the outset of operation as their is only $37.40 in the treasury and the softball field at Queen Elizabeth park undoubtedly needs repairs. The next meeting is to be held Thursday May 14th, at the CJRW radio station.

Ken Wharram Is NHL Choice For Byng Trophy

MONTREAL (CP) — Kenny Wharram, a diminutive right-winger with the tough Chicago Black Hawks, is the National Hockey League's choice as the play best combining good manners and top ability in the season just finished.

His selection as winner of the Lady Byng Memorial trophy was announced by the NHL Thursday. The choice was made in balloting among sports writers and broadcasters in the six NHL cities.

The choice of a Black Hawk as the Lady Byng winnger is somewhat of a rarity in recent NHL history. The last Hawk to win it was Bill Mosienko in the 1944-45 season, 19 years ago.

Besides being honored as the player "adjudged to have exhibited the best type of sportsmanship and gentlemanly conduct combined with a high standard of playing ability," Wharram gets a more practical contribution from the league—$1,500—to go towards off-season activities at his North Bay, Ont., home.

For heading the poll with 120 points, he received 1,000. The other $500 is made up of $250 for leading both the first-half and second-half polls.

Wharram, at a five-year regular with Chicago who is only five - foot - nine and 155 pounds, collected 90 of a possible 90 points to go with his first-half record of 40.

Olympic Hopefuls Face Int. Field

TORONTO (CP)—Bruce Kidd and Bill Crothers, two of Canada's hopes for gold medals at the Tokyo Olympics this fall, will face an international field in two special track events that have been included in the St. Jean Baptiste day program in June 24 in Montreal.

Coach Fred Foot says he was asked if the boys could compete and he told the organizers they would have to get an international field.

"It was almost an impossible task," he said, "but they phoned to say they just returned from Europe where they lined up opponents from West Germany, France and perhaps Britain."

Crothers' competition in the 800-metre run will be either Otto Kruger or Manfred Kinder from West Germany and pehaps George Kerr from Jamaica.

In the 5,000 metres, Kidd will face West Germany's Harold Norpoth or Peter Kubicki and two runners from France—possibly the famed Michel Jazy.

Jazy, one of Kidd's chief obstacles in this year's Olympics, may also run in the Metropolitan Toronto police games here July 25.

1964 Lawn-Boy grasscatcher ends raking spring, summer and fall

In the spring Lawn-Boy's grasscatcher lets you tidy up the lawn without tedious raking. In the fall it collects leaves. In the summer, of course, it gathers grass so efficiently the neighbours will think you spent hours raking. The grasscatcher is no trouble to use because it comes on and off in seconds and empties in a shake or two. Even wet grass and leaves can't clog it.

Lawn-Boy's Finger-Tip-Start engine is the easiest to start in the world. Pushing is easy because Lawn-Boy is made from ultra-light magnesium. And, to be easy on the ears, Lawn-Boy is extra quiet. Its muffler is the largest on any mower.

See the 1964 Lawn-Boy at your dealer's soon. It's warranted for two full years—twice as long as any other mower.
