

testants, to think of calling in any foreign soldiers to quell the agitation in that country.

ITALY.—The last accounts from Italy are to the 16th. The insurgents, it would appear, did not consider themselves beaten, and have again made their appearance, not only in Bologna, but the adjacent country. On the 3d, a very serious affair took place at Bologna, in the streets and suburbs of San Pietro, de San Donato, and several other places, between the people and a strong detachment of infantry and cavalry. The infantry were compelled to retreat, but a picket of cavalry coming up, the people were dispersed. In the conflict four soldiers and a workman were seriously wounded. On the 8th the people attacked and disarmed several military posts. The Papal Government having demanded support from the Austrian Government, Prince Metternich instantly gave orders to Field-Marshal Roditzky to march 4,000 men to the extreme frontiers, and orders to cross should they be required by the Pope. It was reported that the Austrian Government had contracted a loan of several millions of florins with Messrs. Rothschild and Zena, in order to be prepared, should the affairs of Rome and Naples become more serious.

Letters from Florence, of the 10th, state that Count de Survilliers (Joseph Bonaparte) had had several attacks of apoplexy, and that his life was despaired of.

FRANCE.—The general subject of conversation in almost every circle, is the Chinese expedition now on the point of sailing; many of the opposition journals attack the Government, accusing it with want of energy, and more particularly in not permitting the men of war to be heavily laden with silk patterns; the general opinion is, however, in favour of M. Gozot. It is stated that the expedition will touch at Teneriffe, Rio Janeiro, Cape of Good Hope, Madagascar, Island of Mauritius, Pondicherry, Manilla, and Singapore; it will not reach China before June next.

The King and Queen of the Belgians continue residing with the Royal Family at St. Cloud. The Spanish ambassador, M. Olozaga, delivered, a few days since, with great solemnity, and in the presence of all the ministers, the decorations of the Golden Fleece to the Duke of Nemours. This being the birthday of the Duke de Nemours, there is a grand gala at St. Cloud; the Duke was born on the 24th of October, 1814, and is, consequently, 20 years of age.

Wood pavement is likely to be extensively employed in Paris; workmen are laying it down on the Rue St. Honoré to the Rue Montpensier. In a few days the statue of Moliere will be placed on the fountain, in the Rue Richelieu. Monsieur le Comte de Montrond, one of the most esteemed confidential friends of Prince Talleyrand, died on the 11th of October, at the age of 75 years. It is generally believed that the Count possessed many curious and important documents, likely to be published by his heirs.

Of the naval veterans in Greenwich Hospital, who have fought with Lord Nelson, 199 were reported strong enough to attend the raising of his Lordship's statue on the 21st inst. Of these, 130 were at Trafalgar, 31 at Copenhagen, 25 at the Nile, and 13 at St. Vincent.

By returns made at Cox and Greenwood's, the eminent army agents at Charing Cross, it appears that the amount of cash expended by the army in Ireland last year was half a million sterling.

The number of churches in Wales is 924, and of dissenting chapels about 1700. The number of the latter has increased with astonishing rapidity in the present century.

From an official report, it appears that the Roman Catholics have in India, China, and the rest of Asia, 69 bishops, 20 coadjutors, 1856 priests, and 2,211,000 members.

It is said that more steel is now used in Sheffield for steel pens than for penknives.

The printed books in the British Museum library occupy ten miles of shelf.

The general emigration from the United Kingdom in the year 1842, reached an extent never before attained, no fewer than 120,344 persons having emigrated in the course of it to the different British Colonies. During the first six months of the present year, the emigration has greatly decreased, only 38,226 having left the United Kingdom. From a comparison of the emigration during the first six months of 1842 and 1843, respectively, it appears that the decrease on the half-year is 66,081.

Mexico.—By arrivals from Mexico it appears that a serious misunderstanding had occurred between the British Charge d'Affairs, and the Mexican authorities. The British flag, it is said, was treated with disrespect, by the Mexicans placing it among the trophies of a victory gained over the Spaniards. The "Charge" remonstrated; he was told it was so placed in consequence of being taken by the Texans, and its removal was promised. The desired redress was not given, further disagreement arose, diplomatic relations with the British minister ceased, and despatches had been sent to England, and to the Admiral on the West India Station. A British fleet was expected at Vera Cruz.

ANTIGUA.—Considerable dissatisfaction prevailed in this island at the way in which the charitable relief fund, provided for the sufferers by the earthquake of the 8th of February, had been distributed. A general system of favoritism is said to have prevailed, from which, it is added, the indigent poor were excluded. Persons of affluence and distinction were compensated for the loss of costly furniture, whilst many homeless and shelterless persons were left altogether unprovided for. If this statement be true, it will go far to check the tide of liberality on future occasions of distress.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1843.

NOVA SCOTIA.—The Election for the Township of Halifax has terminated in the return of the Hon. James McNab, one of the former representatives, and Mr. Andrew M. Uniacke—the latter on the conservative interest. In the late House, Halifax was represented by two liberals, and the altered state of things, in the present instance, is, we understand, mainly to be attributed to the existence of a diversity of opinion among the liberals on the College question, and a refusal, on the part of the Roman Catholics, to take any active part in the election, into the particulars of which we have neither time nor space to enter at present. Mr. Stairs, the unsuccessful candidate, was, it appears, notwithstanding these untoward circumstances, only 17 votes behind his antagonist (Mr. Uniacke) when the poll closed. A scrutiny has been demanded by Mr. Stairs, which, it is thought probable by the liberals, may yet result in his favor.

It having been subsequently agreed that Mr. Annand, one of the former members for the County of Halifax, should be withdrawn, for the purpose of giving the Roman Catholics a share in the representation, the Hon. Joseph Howe and L. O'C. Doyle, Esq., have been returned without opposition.

The Pictou election had not terminated at the latest dates from thence.

Mr. R. Nugent has disposed of the copy-right of the Nova-Scotland to Mr. Annand, the late Member for the County of Halifax, who will conduct that paper in future.

The potato crop is described as having failed in several parts of the U. States. Wet and warm weather, towards the end of autumn, had caused putrefaction of the root in many instances, and the effluvia was so offensive, in some cases, as to cause persons engaged in digging, to desist.

The steamer St. George has discontinued her trips to Miramichi for this season.

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT.—From a Despatch in the Royal Gazette of Tuesday last, we are glad to learn that our letters by the packets from England will, in future, invariably be forwarded from Halifax at the same time with the Canada letters, during that portion of the year when the Canada Mail is sent. It is to be regretted that the same arrangement is not made for the letters sent to England.

ANDREW'S DAY.—On Thursday last, the High School, and a number of their friends, assembled to celebrate the anniversary of the tutelar saint of Scotland, by playing willie.

together at the Victoria Hotel. The supper was just what the Ettrick Shepherd would have called "a perfect supper, neither a dish over money, nor a dish over flesh." The chair was taken by the Hon. John S. Macdonald, President of the Society, who was ably supported by Mr. Finlayson, as croupier. We subjoin the public toasts:—

- 1. The day, and all who honor it.
2. Scotland and our air we love.
3. The Queen, God bless her! May her visit to the land of our Fathers more dearly establish her in the hearts of all true Scotchmen!
4. Prince Albert, and all the Royal Family.
5. The Duke of Wellington and the Army.
6. The Navy.
7. Sir Henry Vere Huntley—our worthy Governor and Chief. His wishes for our prosperity deserve our gratitude and thanks.
8. Lady Huntley—a true daughter of the Highlands. May she ever feel pride in her Scottish descent!
9. Chief Justice Jarvis, and the bar of Prince Edward Island.
10. The fair daughters of this sea-girt Isle. May their virtues ever be the boast of their countrymen!
11. Sir Charles Metcalfe, the Governor General of these Colonies. As a Statesman we admire him, and in the position of a peace-maker, we wish him every success!
12. The Scottish Emigrant. May he ever find a home in this Colony!

13. The memory of Scott and Burns, of Abercrombie and Moore. May every true Scotchman try to imitate them in their love of their country!

14. Our brother Emigrants—the English and the Irish. May we ever be united!

15. The Schools of Scotland and of this Island. May they ever be conducive in making the sons of St. Andrew well educated and highly intelligent!

16. Auld Lang Syne. "Still o'er these scenes our memory dwells!"

17. Our next merry meeting. May care and trouble never fash, but mirth and joy be wi us a'. Bibunt omnes et exsunt!

In the course of the evening, the Hon. Mr. Young favored the company with the following Song, written expressly for the occasion by a young lady of this town, whose former poetical effusions, under the signature of "E. S. E.," have been very favourably received by the community. It is needless to say, that the health of the fair authoress was drunk with the greatest enthusiasm. The Hon. G. Dalrymple, feelingly acknowledged the compliment.

SONG.

We've met in kindness and glee, To drive dull care away; We've met, as Scotsmen a' should meet, Upon St. Andrew's Day.

Then Scotsmen, brothers, fill the cup, And pledge it solemnly; Oh! friends and brothers, fill the cup To St. Andrew's memory!

The' far awa frae Scotland's hills, Tho' not on Scotch ground,

Yet we'll bless our lot, for we have not True Scottish hearts around.

Then Scotsmen, brothers, fill the cup, And pledge it cordially.

To our native land, the land we love, And St. Andrew's memory!

Oh, Scotsmen! glory in your land; 'Tis a land o' bravery;

'Boon a' the earth, it ranks in worth— The hame o' liberty;

And proudly should its sons uphold Its fame, which knows no taint;

Let hearts all thrill and glasses fill To our country and our Saint!

By the thochts o' Highland hills and hames, Each lowland loch and brae;

By the heathery glens and wooded fens Where the whirling burnies play;

By the bards wha've hallow'd each fair stream With a charm that ne'er will decay—

Let a' the night beam glad and bright Wi' fellowship and glee!

The tartan plaid is'cross our breasts; The clansman's plumes are here;

And the stirring tones o' the mountain pipes Are ringing in each ear;

Then Scotsmen, aye, and Scotsmen a', Wi' spirits proud and free,

Fill up! fill up! and pledge the cup To St. Andrew's memory!

And on many a coming night may we Thus meet in heart and hand.

To keep alive and make to thrive Bleat thochts o' Native Land;

Then Scotsmen, brothers, fill the cup, And pledge it cordially.

To our Queen, our Island, and our Saint's Uadying memory! E. S. E.

PRINCETOWN DEBATING SOCIETY.

At the first Annual Meeting of the Princetown Debating Society, held in the School House, on Thursday the 15th Nov. 1843, the Committee submitted the following REPORT:—

"Your Committee being desired to make a Report of the transactions of the past year, do submit as follows:—

"That your Society now consists of Fifty-three members, exclusive of those belonging to the Darnley Club, who are admitted under one of the Rules. Your Committee find that it would be an almost endless task to particularize all the questions which have been debated, with the decisions which have been made thereon, and therefore, instead thereof, submit the following remarks:—

"The improvement of the mind is a subject to which the attention of man cannot be too closely riveted. Mankind possess a capacity for improvement which Infinite Wisdom has seen proper to deny to the lower orders of creation; and having the power of undefined advancement in useful knowledge, it is, therefore, incumbent upon us daily to realize the obligations imposed by the possession of intellectual powers, and it also becomes us so to improve the talent conferred upon us by the author of our being, nor insensible to the weighty advantages which ever follow due attention to the improvement of our minds. Impressed with these and similar considerations, a number of young men of Princetown Royalty and its vicinity organized the Princetown Debating Society; and the experience of twelve months has satisfied us of the utility of such institutions.

"A Rule of our Society declares that "its principal object shall be, the improvement of our minds in Literary and Scientific knowledge." We need not repeat to you the object of our Society, we assemble one evening in each week. On the arrival of the members, the President calls to order, reads the subject for debate, and a Chairman is appointed for the evening. Each member is then at liberty to offer such observations and suggestions as may occur to him, and the question is decided by the majority. We may here remark, that our expenses are discharged by a stated annual contribution from each member.

"Having thus briefly stated the primary object of our meetings, it may be proper to notice a few of the advantages which must result from institutions of this character; and surely many benefits must flow from an investigation of the various subjects of debate.

"In addition to the profit accruing to ourselves, there are advantages which must thence arise in reference to others. We naturally feel a desire that others should acquire knowledge, but we cannot reasonably expect to impart that to others which we do not possess. United effort will enable us to become more intimately acquainted with any branch of knowledge than we can reasonably hope for from unassisted individual investigation.

"Besides, in societies of this kind, young men have an opportunity of improving themselves in public speaking; and as none but friends and acquaintances are permitted to be present when the members offer their remarks, much of the restraint and timidity experienced by those unaccustomed in this way to express their thoughts, is removed. The particular advantages growing out of this consideration are so apparent as to preclude the necessity for enlargement.

"Not among the least of the benefits resulting from associations of this kind is the acquaintance and consequent friendship formed between young men of the same neighbourhood. "Union is strength." But union supposes acquaintance, no less than a community of interest. Many of us can refer to a period, not two years since, when we were but partially acquainted one with another—though attendants generally at the same religious meetings—and we are satisfied that the want of social intimacy has been, and still is, a bar to the prosperity of many societies.

"Your Committee would recommend that your society should be reorganized, in order to avoid such errors as are common to all popular societies at their commencement; and, in conclusion, your Committee would recommend, especially to the junior members of the Club, strenuous endeavors to increase their knowledge, by thinking over the subjects which, from time to time, are debated by the Society, and also by getting information upon those subjects from any books which may be within their reach."

- 1. RESOLVED, That the Report now read be accepted, and sent to the Colonial Herald, for publication.
2. RESOLVED, That the thanks of the Society be given to the office-bearers for the past year, for their exertions.
3. RESOLVED, That the Society be now dissolved, with a view to its immediate re-organization.
4. RESOLVED, That the following be the office-bearers for the ensuing year:—
President, Mr. Edward Blanchard;
1st Vice President, William Clark, junior;
2nd Do. Robert Craig, junior;
Secretary, Henry Macnutt;
Treasurer, George Sinclair.
Committee: Messrs. Ambrose Peake, Peter Clark, Richard Moorson, James Craig, and John Henry.
H. S. MACNUTT, Secretary.

THE WEATHER.—The effect of the last two or three nights' frost is quite perceptible in our harbour at the present moment, by the quantities of ice and lolly already formed, and which are now floating about in all directions. Hitherto, we have not had sufficient snow to cover the ground and render the roads passable for winter vehicles.
