New Brunswick and P. E. Island Methodist Conference at Moncton.

SECOND DAY.

(Special Correspondence of the Examiner.)

The Conference re-opened by singing and prayer, the Secretary read the Journal.

A communication was received from the Dominion Temperance Alliance asking the Conference to take some action about the Scott Act with the view of better enforcing it.

A telegram was received from the Nova Scotia Conference requesting this Conference to appoint a Committee to consider the state of the Supernumerary Fund and to meet a similar committee by that Conference. On motion of Dr. Pope a committee was appointed from amongst the members of the present Supernumerary Committee.

Rev. Geo. H. Cornish, of the London Conference, was requested to address the Conference, which he did. Afterwards a resolution was passed commending his encyclopedia of Methodism, upon which he has been engaged 18 years, to the ministers, and urging them to buy it. The work is highly spoken of by all that have seen it.

Revs. W. W. Lodge and Aquila Lucas were appointed a Committee to disburse the Conference collection.

PROBATIONS FOR THE MINISTRY.

Rev's. Estey, C. S. Wells, and W. C Johnston, A. B., were reported as having finished their probation, and were recommended to be received into full connection and ordained, subject to an examination on Monday morning.

Rev's. D. Davies Moore, A. B., and J. W. Wadman, A. B., were reported as having travelled two years.

Rev's. S. B. Gregg, A. B., Thos. Pierce and C. Bell, were reported as having travelled one year.

Messrs. Clement Williams, J. W. Tait, Fred. Black, and S. Howard, were received on trial.

Rev's. A. D. McCully, A. B., and W. B. Thomas, were granted permission to return to College, for another year each.

A letter was read from Mr. A. Hagarty, asking permission to retire from the ministry on account of continued ill-health. His request was granted.

The following supernumearry Ministers were reported Rev's. H. Daniel, J. A. Clarke, A. M., J. R. Narraway, A. M., S. W. Sprague, H. Pope, D. D., Fred. W. Harrison, George B. Payson, H. Pickard, D. D., J. V. Jost, and F. Smallwood.

Rev. R. W. Weddall, A. B., was granted permission to rest for three months, and to take a trip for the good of his health.

Revs. Edwin Mills and C. W. Dutcher were granted permission to become supernumeraries because of the feeble state of their health. Rev. J. J. Coller, who has been resting for some years, returns to circuit work again. Rev. W. W. Percival has been transferred to the Newfoundland conference, and the Job Shenton has been transferred to this conference.

Session closed with the Benediction.

There was no afternoon session.

EDUCATIONAL MEETINGS.

The Annual Conference Educational Meeting was held in the evening, presided over by Dr. Pickard. There was a large congregation present; but not as large as on the preceding evening. On the platform were Revs. Dr. Pickard, H. McKeown, T. J. Deinstadt, Prof. Burwash, G. H. Cornish, of the London Conference, and Job Shenton. Prayer was offered by Rev. H. McKeown. The Chairman regretted that the weakness of the President prevented him from occupying the chair. He was sure that the educational enterprise needed not to be commended to their sympathy. It is of such primary importance as to commend itself to every intelligent Methodist. The object of this Society is to maintain our Universities and Colleges and to enable young men to obtain a training for our ministry.

Rev. T. J. Deinstadt, Secretary, read a brief report which showed that the total amount raised by the church had been $5,820.58, and the same amount had been expended. This Conference had raised $570.63, being a decrease of $4.08 for the year.

Rev. Prof. Burwash was the first speaker. After expressing sorrow that the regular deputation had failed, he delivered a most eloquent and powerful appeal in favor of higher education being under the control of the church. The objects of this Educational Society were threefold: 1, to give to our church an educated ministry; 2, to give to us a sanctified laity; 3, to create centres of thought. On the first and third parts of his subject he delivered a grand speech which was received most heartily by the people.

Rev. Job. Shenton spoke at length upon the state of education in Newfoundland. He said that there they had a system of denominatial common education which he claimed was best for them, although he was of opinion that common education ought to be undenominational. He made a vigorous appeal in behalf of the Colleges of the Methodist Church.

Rev. D. D. Currie made a humorous and effective speech. He declared himself in favor of general education. People should be educated all round. He referred to the establishment of schools of cookery, and claimed that there should be education in the household. It is important that persons should be educated in their particular callings. The ministers should be educated. While children attend the common schools they are at home under the eye of their parents; but when they go to college they are no longer under their parent's care. It is necessary that they should be placed where their moral and religious character will be developed.

Rev. Geo. H. Cornish, of the London Conference, author of the Encyclopedia of Methodism, next addressed the Conference. He spoke of the beginning of Methodism and the efforts then made by the early preachers to provide for higher education. He referred to Educational Institutions provided by the English Methodists of the States and of Canada. After Dr. Pickard, had some announcement Rev. Geo. H. Cornish pronounced the benediction and thus terminated a most succesful anniversary.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND.

LONDON, June 23.

At an interview between the Ulster tenant farmers and Home Rulers yesterday, the Parnellites manifested a willingness to withdraw as many of the amendments to the Land bill as possible, except where vital or important principles are involved. The Ulster delegates expressed the gravest alarm at the idea of the Government expunging from the bill direction to the Land Court to exclude tenants' interest from all consideration of rent, in fixing a fair rental of a holding. The fear was expressed that in the absence of some definite instruction the Court may feel bound to apply the existing common law doctrine that everything in or on the soil belongs to the landlord, this doctrine being corrected only by the reservation of the tenants' actual improvements, whereas the delegates hold that beside his improvements his good will or occupancy in right should be protected.

In the House of Commons to-day Gladstone said he would consult his colleagues on the advisability of continuing the debate on the Land Bill daily.
