HIS HONOR LIERT-GOVERNOR MACDONALD and Mrs. Macdonald gave the second of the series of dinners to the members of the Legislature last evening. A most enjoyable evening was spent. In addition to His Honor and suite, the following guests attended:—Messrs. J. A. Macdonald, Speaker House of Assembly, John Yeo, J. Balderston, Alex. Laird, James Clow, B. Rogers, P. Blake, P. Sinclair, John McLean, J. A. Matheson, A. Martin, L. C. Owen, D. Laird and R. R. Fitzgerald.

We are in receipt of the annual circular of the standard-bred trotting stallion Administrator, recently purchased in Worcester, Mass., by Messrs. Alfred Gourlie and other gentlemen of Summerside. It is stated that Administrator is the sire of Catchfly (2.18), McMahon (2.21), Executor (2.24), Adjutant (2.27), and many other flyers; and that his colts and fillies have sold at fancy figures—$10,000 and less—while for one $15,000 was refused. Administrator is described as a beautiful seal brown or black stallion, 16 1/2 hands high, weight 1,250 lbs. The Province may consider itself fortunate in having a chance to obtain the services of this splendid old horse. Administrator is now in St. John, and will be brought over on the opening of navigation.

THE bazaar in the Market Hall last evening may safely be numbered among the successes of the season. An immense number of people were present. All classes and creeds were represented. All were well pleased. The management left nothing undone. The different tables were well patronized, the lady and gentlemen attendants being kept hard at work throughout the evening. The tea and refreshment tables appeared to possess particular attractions, and were always surmounted with customers. Ice cream disappeared at an alarming rate notwithstanding the fact that it was somewhat out of season. The Band of the 82nd Battalion furnished some choice music which lent additional enjoyment to the occasion. The amount realized was between $900 and $1,000.

YESTERDAY morning, some person, who probably thought he was doing something smart, started the report that two countrymen, while on their way home across the Hillsborough the evening previous, broke through the ice and were drowned. Another person of about the same mental calibre, manufactured a story to the effect that a half-witted innmate of the Poc House had committed suicide by hanging. Both stories spread like wild-fire. Everyone was looking for details. No one could supply the desired information. The reporters, who are popularly supposed to know everything, were button-holed, but they, also, were at fault. Enquiry, however, revealed the fact that both stories were, happily, untrue. The stupid practice of starting canals of this kind cannot be too severely reprobated.

Chamberlain's Speech

Excites His Hearers.

A LIVELY MEETING.

The Coercion Bill Denounced

AT WASHINGTON AND LEEDS.

LONDON, April 14.

The language used by Mr. Chamberlain in speaking at the meetings in Ayr has inflamed the Irish against him, and he has received numerous letters warning him that he will not leave Scotland alive.

Speaking to an assemblage of 2,500 persons Mr. Chamberlain said: "The opponents of the crimes bill have made an outcry against the repression of liberty. Liberty to do what? Commit theft, to ruin industrious men, to outrage women." Here a man rising and menacing Mr. Chamberlain cried out: "It is not characteristic of the Irish to outrage women." An attempt was made to turn the man out, but Mr. Chamberlain cried: "Leave him alone." Then he continued: "I did not mean the grossest outrage of all but personal violence and insult. I referred to cases like that of the Curtin family where the lives of the widow and daughters of the murdered man were made intolerable. Cases like that of the widow of another murdered man Byers who, while accompanying the dead body of her husband, was jeered and hooted along the street." Here the speaker was interrupted by cries of "Watch yourself." Hisses and general disorder followed. "I am relating facts to which even my opponents might listen in the silence of horror and shame when I refer to assassinations." A man here says, "Take care of yourself." Has this time come when we dare not discuss political matters in the country without being threatened with assassination? (Great cheering.) This is the spirit of the Convention in Chicago, I am sorry to know they have any representatives in Scotland. Cries of "they are not Scotchman." That Convention, besides being attended by delegates honestly in sympathy with Ireland, had delegates of a different stamp. Apostles of outrage and murder who have paid the outrage mongers of England Redmond, a delegate of the Irish Parliamentary party, explicitly declared before that Convention that it was the aim of that party to effect the entire separation of Ireland from England, and their policy was to make the government of Ireland by England impossible. Do you think it infamous to restrain these men? (Cheers.) Parnell threatened the House of Commons, under the specious guise of warning, that if the Coercion Bill were passed, there would be a renewal of outrages. This grim suggestion may prove the death warrant of some of us. (Cries of "No;" "Shame.") Well, what happens to individuals is not of much consequence. The danger is to the commonwealth. Mr. Chamberlain's speech excites all parties. The Unionists consider it a declaration of war to the knife with the Separatists.

LONDON, April 14.

Sir Lyon Playfair resumed the debate on the Coercion Bill in the Commons. While admitting the difficulty in certain cases of procuring convictions in Ireland, he said the facts were not so serious as the Government alleged.

WASHINGTON, April 14.

A large meeting was held here this evening to protest against the English Coercion Bill. Resolutions were adopted expressing sympathy for Gladstone and Parnell in the fight against the Coercion Bills passage by Parliament.

LONDON, April 14.

At six meetings held at Leeds last night all of which were largely attended, Resolutions were adopted, strongly denouncing the coercion.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT

Opening Proceedings

OTTAWA, April 14.

The formal opening of Parliament took place to-day.

After reading the speech the House of Commons opened with nearly all the members present.

Sir John moved that the Governor-General's speech be the order of the day for consideration to-morrow, but this was put aside when Mr. Weldon, of St. John, moved that the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery be instructed to produce to-morrow copies of all returns of poll books, documents, etc., respecting the election of the member for Queen's County, N. B.

Mr. Baird occupied his seat yesterday and to-day.

Several notices of motion for Monday are given.

The Manitoba Legislature

WINNIPEG, April 14.

The Manitoba legislature was formally opened this afternoon. There were the usual formalities. Murray, the late Speaker, moved, and Norquay seconded the appointment of Mr. Glass as Speaker, which was carried unanimously. It has been made apparent that the political combination against Norquay has collapsed, and that the Government has a sufficient majority to carry through its business, and that an appeal to the country will be unnecessary.

A Bill Defeated.

HALIFAX, April 14.

The Vancouver Iron Monopoly Bill was defeated in the Legislature to-day by almost an unanimous vote.

A Blaze.

HALIFAX, April 14.

The paint manufactory of Henderson & Potts was totally destroyed to-night. Loss, $25,000; insurance for $18,000.

TORONTO, April 15—10 a.m.

My Hope.

BY REV. N. MACKAY.

My path is rough and dark and steep,

Night shadows overhang my way;

And wearily I toil and weep,

And long for Home, and rest, and day;

Yet onward ceaselessly I press,

For I discern the golden gleam,

Of coming morn! O Sun of bliss!

Eager I wait thy cloudless beam.

Myself I loathe; for deep in shame,

With aching heart and streaming eye,

Consumed by passion's blighting flame

In sin and sorrow prone I lie.

Yet purer than the virgin snow,

And brighter than the crystal glow,

My bloodwashed spirit yet shall glow,

Spotless and clean—divinely bright.

No rest! I hear the battle cry;

Countless the foe, and keen the strife,

The slain are many: strewn they lie;

Defeat is death—the Prize is Life.

And I shall win the prize:—a path

My valiant captain leads for me

And through the myriad brood of wrath,

He leads me safe to victory.

O living, loving Christ!—from Thee

This cheering, longing hope I bring;

My inmost wish is but to be

Hidden in the covert of thy wing!

The power, glory, victory,

Saviour, Brother, all are Thine;

But blessings sweet thou givest me,

For Heaven's eternal Home is mine.

Oyster Breeding in Germany.

Attempts to breed American oysters in German waters appear to be unsuccessful, judging from recent consular reports.

Learned scientific opinions have been given to show that the attempt to naturalize the American seed oysters must always fail.

Consul Goodwin, of Annaberg, notes the latest experiment to test the practicability of the scheme. In all 275 barrels of American seed oysters were planted.

The outcome of this experiment will be closely watched as definitely deciding the question.

Oysters are a great luxury in Germany. The average German never eats oysters.

A dozen raw cost from 60 to 72 cents outside of the free cities. The market for American canned oysters is widening.

Baltimore packed oysters seems to have the most attention paid to them. In the free cities of Hamburg and Bremen the tariff regulations are not enforced as in the rest of Germany, and oysters are cheap and good.

The extensive exportation of American oysters to Germany is not advised.

The consular states that if it were not for the high tariff American oysters could be sold in Germany for less than half what the native oysters cost.

According to the Missionary Review, a British publication, there are now thirty-five women's foreign missionary societies, with 17,763 auxiliaries and 3,534 children's bands. They employ 886 missionaries and 1,644 Bible readers and teachers, have 54,609 pupils in them, 2,491 schools and have an income of £233,000 ($1,165,000).
