Miss Bernice Gallant left recently for Summerside where she will be employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Roch O'Brien, St. Lawrence, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Corcoran.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin MacGregor, Burton, Lot 7, spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Corcoran.

Mrs. Sheridan Corcoran, Mill River and Miss Norine Kelly, Roseville, were week-end visitors to Charlottetown.

Mrs. Brendon Wallace is spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Adams, Elmsdale.

A large crowd from this vicinity, went to see a St. Patrick's play on Friday, March 17th. Some to St. Mark's Hall, Burton, Lot 7, to see "Here comes Charlie", and others to the Institute hall, Alberton to see "Aunt Bessie Beats the Band". Both were very enjoyable and provided a good evening's entertainment.

Crapaud and Vicinity

Saturday afternoon, March 25th, at the Anglican Rectory a piano recital will be given by the members of St. John's Junior Choir and Music Club for friends and parents of the students. A unique series of films will be presented to the members of St. John's social Club on Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Eric Lowther, Westmoreland Road.

The regular monthly meeting of St. John's W. A. was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Myers, Crestmount Farm, last Tuesday evening, with 32 present. Mrs. Burt Holm, of DeSable, was warmly welcomed to the membership and guests in the persons of Mrs. Clifford Sherren, Mrs. Chester Sturdy and Mrs. Gordon, were hospitably greeted by the members present. Mrs. Thomas Best, life member of the W. A., has resumed the duties of secretary after a short period of unavoidable absence. A striking missionary film from the M. S. G. C. "Thy Will Be Done," dramatically presented the foreign needs of mission work in narrative form.

St. Patrick's Day had a beated but appropriate observance last Wednesday evening in Crapaud Community Hall when a versatile group of local entertainers won the plaudits of a capacity audience with the songs and humour of the Emerald Isle. Mrs. T. Head and Mrs. John MacQuarrie (accompanist, Mrs. Mark Cameon) were Hamptonsians who contributed their vocal talent to the support of the good work of the Women's Institute in Crapaud, while Victoria was ably represented by Robert Wright (accompanist, Mrs. Allison Len).

This friendly exchange of village performers is one of the healthy signs of a developing inter-community spirit which always sounds a death knell to petty jealousies. If local audiences would follow suit, the coffers of community organizations in the district would reap a bountiful harvest for worthwhile projects.

The infantile antics of 200-lb Art Simmons, prettily attired in a long white night gown, convulsed the house during a baby show, and sent the other giant-sized infants into masculine guffaws; pandemonium reigned for minutes as the mothers and "babies" tried to regain their stage composure.

Baritone Norman MacDonald and boy-singer Gene Rogerson provided a pleasing contrast in the male vocal efforts while the terpsichorean art was upheld by the nimble feet of Mrs. Leroy Howatt as the Irish Washwoman. The natural flare of Mrs. Beecher Hickox for Old Country accents was much in evidence throughout the program and Lloyd Rogerson was outstanding in the co-ordination of numbers in his role as Master of Ceremonies. Mrs. Eric Lowther, as a marital-minded maiden lady intent in impressing every eligible male, revealed an uncanny grasp of the romantic fears that beset spinsterhood. An afternoon tea-party composed of fluttering females digesting the favourite subject of such tete-a-tetes ("Men"), provided a satiric skit and revealed some latent dramatic ability in many of the villagers: — Misses Jaunita Harvey and Lolita McVittie, Mrs. William Waddell, Mrs. Wendell Mayhew, Mrs. Louis Myers and Mrs. Ed. Sherren. Others who contributed to the successful

PEN LETTER TO HOSTESS

Good manners require that a house-guest write a thank-you note to her hostess not more than a day or two after she returns home from her visit.

Don't sit at your desk racking your brains for an inspiration to guide your pen. A short sentence or two expressing your appreciation, a mention of the very good time you had, will do for an opener.

The thank-you note might include mention of pictures taken on the week-end which you are having developed or any other tid-bit of information that will interest your hostess. Such a note should be concluded with personal regards sent to your hostess' family.

"Thank-you" notes usually look best when they are hand-written on small notepaper that merely folds in half to fit inside a personal-size envelope. If you're a career girl who habitually uses a typewriter, it can also be used for writing a thank-you note. Try to choose a particularly appropriate gift: Letter paper with the host and hostess' name imprinted, trick gadgets for outdoor cooking, gardening aids or some other small present relevant to special hobbies are apt to please the recipients. What's more it may keep the welcome mat spread out for you.
