IDA BAILEY ALLEN

Sip Hot Or old Soup With The Main Course

BY IDA BAILEY ALLEN
"Some like soup hot, some like it cold," the Chef said, as he finished preparations for an April buffet dinner.
"To be sure everybody is pleased, I have prepared a choice of Hot Cream of Pimiento Soup, which is ladled into cups from a tureen, or Iced Beef Broth Frappe, which is poured from a pitcher into ice-filled frappe glasses.
"As the soup is to be sipped along with the main course, I have chosen compatible accompanying foods."

SPRING BUFFET DINNER
Hot Cream of Pimiento Soup or Iced Beef Broth Frappe
Hot Chicken-Rice Salad
Twin Tongue Slices
Cheese Muffins Butter Curis
Walnut Prune Squares
Coffee or Tea

Measurements are level; recipes for 6.
Cream of pimiento soup: Blend 2 (10½ - oz.) cans condensed cream of celery soup with 1 soup-can milk and 1 soup-can water. Add 1 tsp. chopped pimiento and ½ tsp. crushed leaf tarragon. Heat, stirring now and then.
Iced beef broth frappe: Put 1 hole in 1 (10½ - oz.) can condensed beef broth. Pour liquid into pitcher.
To serve, pour directly over cracked ice in frappe glass. Add squeeze of lemon or twist of lemon peel; spark with dash of Worcestershire sauce.
Hot chicken - rice salad: Combine 3½ c. cooked rice, 1½ c. diced, cooked chicken, 1¼ c. cooked peas and ¾ c. French dressing. Toss lightly with fork. Season to taste with salt and pepper.
Heat thoroughly over very low heat or in double-boiler or low oven.
Garnish with 1 (4-oz.) can drained, sliced mushrooms and 12 sliced black olives.

Walnut prune squares: Cream ½ c. butter or margarine. Gradually work in 1 c. sugar. When blended, add 2 slightly beaten eggs.
Sift together 1½ c. pre-sifted enriched flour, ½ tsp. baking powder, ¼ tsp. salt, 1 tsp. baking soda, 1 tsp. powdered cinnamon and ½ tsp. each powdered clove and nutmeg. Add ½ c. medium-chopped walnut meats.
Add dry ingredients alternately to first mixture with ¼ c. butter-milk. Stir in ½ c. chopped, drained, pitted prunes. Beat until well-mixed.
Transfer to a 7" by 11" oiled shallow pan. Spread batter with baked nut icing.
Bake 30 min. in mod. oven. 350 degrees F., or until a wooden pick inserted in centre comes out clean.
Baked nut icing: Beat ½ c. sifted brown sugar and ¼ tsp. salt into 1 stiff-beaten egg white. Spread over cake batter. Dust over ½ c. broken walnut meats; bake as directed.

TWIN TONGUE SLICES
Press 2 thin slices cold tongue together with equal parts table mustard and catchup.

VICTORIA
The Ladies Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion in Victoria held their weekly card party Wednesday night at the home of the president, Mrs. Ken MacLean.
Ladies first prize was won by Mrs. Howard Wood, gets by Mr. Leslie Howatt. Consolation prizes went to Mrs. Fergie and Mrs. Louise Cannon.
An enjoyable evening for all was followed by lunch served by the hostess.

MR. AND MRS. THANE CAMPBELL

Kelvin Grove Is Setting For Very Pretty Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Reeves' home in Kelvin Grove was the scene of a pretty wedding on April 8 at 2.30 p.m., when their daughter, Erma, became the bride of Thane Campbell, son of Mrs. Campbell and the late Mr. Cecil Campbell of Burlington. Rev. C.A. Britton, D.D. performed the ceremony under an archway trimmed with white lilies and running spruce. The wedding music was furnished by Mrs. Donald Reeves, sister-in-law of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in her waltz-length wedding gown of white nylon net and embroidered lace over satin, with light fitting bodice, bouffant skirt and long sleeves coming to a point over the hands. The veil of silk illusion was held in place by a halo of simulated pearls. She carried a bouquet of red roses.
Mrs. Gerald Huestis, sister of the bride, as attendant, was gowned in a waltz length blue net over taffeta with shoulder length veil to match. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses.
Mr. Gerald Huestis was the best man.
Mrs. Campbell chose for her daughter's wedding a pink dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations. The bridegroom's mother was attired in blue velvet with hat to match and a corsage of white and pink carnations.
For a honeymoon trip the bride wore a blue taffeta dress with matching coat and white accessories. Her corsage was of red roses. — Photo by Heckbert.

MARY HAWORTH

Politeness Is Correct Rule Of Good Manners

Dear Mary Haworth: I've always been most courteous with everyone who rides with me in my car, opening the door for them, somewhat as a chauffeur might do.
Now I have been reprimanded severely by a friend for the door-opening bit—told that it isn't ladylike. Mind you, no men were present.
Please give your opinion as to whether I am correct; and my critic wrong; or is it the other way around? I would appreciate a speedy answer. - C.G.

with many interests. I've gone to many churches but find that the interesting men are married, usually.
I don't believe I am looking for a husband—just someone around my age to share my interests, and I, his. I would appreciate your counsel. - T.Y.

REMEDY FOR LONELINESS
Dear T.Y.: Obviously you are man-hunting forlornly. And in the wrong city, where eligible men "of a certain age" are in the minority and spoiled by avid pursuit.

The remedy for loneliness is to be useful to society in one's leisure time. This is the road that leads to reunion with humanity. Break out of your isolation by doing church work for its own sake. Search for church projects that suit your hours. Make friends with women, take vacation trips, fill in your life and, when you least yearn, you'll more likely find a beau. - M.H.

DON'T HANG BACK
Dashing forth to a stationery store for writing supplies, I encountered a friend who offered me a lift in her runabout "jeepster." "How gracious she is," I thought to myself, as she stowed me into the vehicle and closed the door, then circled back around to the driver's seat.
When we pulled in to the curb, to deliver me at the store, she was out in a flash and again at the door. Meantime, I was fumbling at the door too—but uselessly. The inside handle was missing, and the window was up.
It was then that my hostess referred to the broken latch, which required her special attendance upon the door and the passenger—a connection I hadn't caught before!
Until that moment, as I say, I had been marvelling silently at the wondrous charm of little extra unexpected gestures of selfless deference to fellow beings! So the moral is, don't stand on ceremony in being kind; don't wait for necessity to promote the exercise.
(Aside to hack inspectors: perhaps I should mention that the door handle was about to be fixed immediately.) - M.H.

WIDOW LONGS
Dear Mary Haworth: I had a very happy marriage with a thoughtful husband, who died a year ago. Now I am very lonely. I work for the government—busy all day—but long for male companionship in the evenings.
I am in my middle fifties, dress well, am considered attractive, and like people—especially those

A gala dessert: Pineapple Whipped Cream Roll

Gradually beat in 1 c. granulated sugar. Stir in 1 tsp. grated orange rind ½ c. orange juice.
Sift in dry ingredients, part at a time, fold lightly. Turn into greased jelly roll pan lined with greased waxed paper. Bake at 375°, 15 mins. Sprinkle towel with fruit sugar. Turn out hot cake on towel; peel off paper, trim edges; roll up in towel. Cool.
Prepare ½ c. drained canned crushed pineapple, ¼ c. toasted coconut, 1 tsp. chopped maraschino cherries. Soften 1½ tsp. gelatine in 1 tsp. water; melt over hot water. Cool. Beat ½ pint whipping cream until thick; add gelatine; beat until stiff. Beat in 2 tbsps. granulated sugar.
Add ¼ tsp. vanilla or rum flavoring; ¼ tsp. grated orange rind, prepared fruit, coconut. Unroll cake, spread with filling; re-roll. Chill several hours or overnight. Yield: 8 to 10 slices.
