

The Beginning of Success

Nine times out of ten the answer to the question "How did he do it?" dates back to the time when he opened a savings account.

Few business successes there are which do not owe their origin to a modest savings account in the beginning.

Form an early association with a reliable institution like The Bank of Nova Scotia and open a savings account now. A small deposit and a few minutes' time will start it.

MODERN GIRL DEFENDED

CHICAGO, May 26.—The modern flapper was defended by the Rev. A. Pennewell, pastor of the Covenant Church at Evanston yesterday in a sermon in which he approved short skirts, bobbed hair and knickerbockers.

"Flapperism is not a disease but a diversion," he said. "Bobbed hair, short skirts, and knickerbockers are not signs of sin, but a declaration of independence. The girls are a jolly lot, and they will give us the finest generation of women the world has ever known. We are passing from the man age, rough age, and emerging into the age of culture, the women's age. That is why the flapper exists today. The new age will be one not ruled by women but one in which their influence will be felt. Girls in the past have been pretty little birds in cages of husky beast of burden."

Real Thrills In "Queen of Sheba" Chariot Races

The big surprise in "Queen of Sheba" which comes to the Strand Monday and Tuesday next is the chariot race. It is so exciting that hundreds of people have asked how it was made. J. Gordon Edwards, who directed the filming of the story for William Fox, answers the question as follows:

"There is no secret about it. You can't keep a motion picture set containing 5,000 people and covering 150 acres a secret. We simply built the arena, put on the races and photographed them from every angle we could think of. Two of the chariots overturned, giving Jim Murphy, a driver, the narrow escape of his career. Tom Mix, the cowboy star, did some thrilling riding for us by way of what he called 'whooping it up,' and Betty Blythe and Neil Craig, driving a chariot apiece, proved that they were as skilled and as daring horsewomen as ever I can see in my life. That's about all I can say."

It might be added that it took weeks of work to arrange for the race and that thousands of dollars were expended on it.

Delegates to the Supreme Convention: State Deputy Dr. W. J. P. McMillan, and Past State Deputy John M. Hughes; Alternates—J. A. Griffith of Charlottetown and Leonard McNeill of Summerside. In the evening a very enjoyable social evening was held at which the Knights and their lady friends were present.

VALEDICTORY ADDRESS.

By Miss Irene Allan, Valleyfield. Mr. Premier, Members of the Faculty, Fellow Students, Ladies and Gentlemen,—

This morning our gathering together to bring to an end another term's work, marks the last meeting of our graduating class who now must leave the hall of their beloved Alma Mater and step across the threshold into the greater corridors of time. On this last day of our college term we must therefore say farewell to Prince of Wales College.

To me has been given the privilege of speaking the parting words. It is with a high degree of satisfaction that we now review the year's work.

The college year opened with a larger enrolment than usual, particularly noticeable in the third year class.

We regret that Miss MacGrath and Prof. Hissald were absent during part of the term on account of illness, but we are glad that they are now back with us again.

The addition of Miss Passmore as assistant in Teacher Training was the only change made in the college staff at the beginning of the term.

Music was continued this year under the capable instruction of Prof. Fletcher, who endeavored to teach the elements and principles of the subject, and to give it a real educational value.

Pictures which were given by the Daughters of the Empire, were framed at a considerable expense to this society. These pictures are of an historical character and greatly improve the appearance of the class rooms. Great praise is due this beneficent order for its interest in all educational work.

Regarding the physical side of our college life, athletics were participated in by one and all. These included tennis, basketball, football and hockey.

Our Debating Society showed considerable improvement this year. The debates were interesting and instructive throughout, and afforded an excellent training in poise and expression.

To renew old acquaintances and form new ones, an opportunity was offered in the many religious and

TO THE POULTRYMAN:

A Weekly Letter Containing Practical Pointers in the Management and Care of Standard Bred Poultry, Taken From the Daily Log Book of Sunny Crest Poultry Farm, Bear River, P. E. I. by the Manager.

I would like to devote a little space this week to the question of free range and its value over the yarding methods or intensive as they are at times called.

Anyone who has ever tried to raise any number of fowls for a number of years on a small piece of land and who has made an honest effort to keep the quality of the stock up to the mark or to improve it, will understand just what it means to have plenty of range and they will very quickly tell you that its importance cannot be over-estimated and that the labor required to maintain a flock under the so called intensive methods is so great as to make the system out-social affairs which we all enjoyed. But now to bid adieu—To you our Principal and Members of the Faculty we say farewell.

As we go out to face life's battles, meeting conditions and circumstances which will prove our true worth, we shall look back over the principles of knowledge and education which you have instilled in us, with a feeling of thankfulness and appreciation.

To you Citizens of Charlottetown we say farewell.

Your kindness in receiving into your homes, especially those of us who have left home for the first time, makes us feel deeply indebted to you. Therefore we wish to thank you.

To you, Fellow Students, we say farewell.

It is with deep grief that we part with you, yet we know that many of the friendships formed here will never be broken.

Year after year our college has been sending forth men and women who have been a credit to their Alma Mater. It is to you, then, and to the graduating class in particular, to hold aloft the high standard and noble example of your predecessors.

To you who have not achieved the goal of your desires we would say: Remember that those men who first have apparently failed and have triumphed over their failures, make the most brilliant success; for, "Not failure, but low aim, is crime."

Now, a last word to those who are leaving these college halls and going to perform their tasks in the world. Together we have been seated in the examination hall; now we are going out to a greater examination in which the test will be more severe. As we go, let us always cherish the fair name of Prince of Wales College, and strive to follow its worthy motto—"I Serve."

So high is grandeur to our dust, So near is God to man, When duty whispers low "Thou must!" The youth replies, "I can!"

RHEUMATISM

LUMBAR NEURITIS vs. T.R.C.'s

Have you given up? Have you resigned yourself to that old, gnawing pain that nothing seems to relieve? Do you think because you can't get to Hot Springs or take some expensive treatment that you have no other alternative? We have many cases considered hopeless, tried everything, baths, serums, electricity, who found recovery in using T.R.C.'s (Templeton's Rheumatic Capsules). We have thousands of letters that prove beyond doubt T.R.C.'s to be the most practical and successful Rheumatic remedy sold. At drug-stores, $1.00 per box. For Free Trial write Templeton, Toronto.
