

about half an hour before Manuel was taken off. He had slipped off his clothing to endeavor to reach the shore by swimming; he abandoned that idea, however, but his clothes were washed over and he perished all the more easily from the intense cold. Manuel thinks that if Captain Simmons had kept on his clothes that he would have been saved. I had all the bodies decently interred in our Protestant burial ground.

U. S. FISHERY BILL.

On Monday, the 11th inst., Mr. Banks of Massachusetts, submitted to the United States House of Representatives a bill for carrying out the provisions of the Washington Treaty as far as relates to the Fishery section.

Section 1 of the bill authorizes the President, upon evidence that Great Britain, Canada, and Prince Edward Island, have carried out the provisions of the treaty by the necessary legislation, to sign a proclamation for the free entry of fish and their products from Canada and Prince Edward Island.

Section 2 extends the same privileges, in similar conditions, to Newfoundland.

Section 3 provides that during the continuance of such stipulations, the President may authorize the transportation of goods in bonds through the United States.

Section 4 provides for the protection, during the existence of the treaty, of the trade of British citizens between ports of the United States which may pass through the Dominion of Canada, and that the President of the United States may suspend this provision whenever the Canadian Government shall deprive the citizens of the United States of the right to use the Canadian canal: If any export duty is levied after June 16, 1872, upon any lumber cut on American territory watered by the St. John River and floated to the sea through New Brunswick, the President may also suspend the right of transit in bond across the United States territory.

ORIGIN OF THE ILLNESS OF THE PRINCE OF WALES.—The cable despatches have variously represented the disease of the Prince of Wales as the typhus and typhoid fevers. The London Times of the 29th ult. sets all doubt on this point at rest. The Prince is suffering from a severe form of the typhoid or enteric fever, strictly symptomatic in its origin, the poison which produces it being derived from imperfect sewerage and decaying vegetables. The more severe effects of this poison are to produce the fever; its minor effects are to induce less serious disturbances in the human system. The unfortunate Prince appears to have contracted the disease while sojourning with Lord Londesborough, as did others of his party, among them Lord Chesterfield, who survived the attack but a few days. In the case of Lord Chesterfield the worst and always fatal form of the disease early became manifest, viz: malignant ulceration of the intestines.—Boston Journal.

THE CAUSE OF RUSSIA IS A WISE MAN. He does not intend to furnish an enemy with any offensive weapons if possible. The French railways, during the war, came back to plague their owners and were of as much service to the enemy as to the French Prussia ran her own cars and locomotives to the very walls of Paris—To prevent this, in the extensive system of Railways which the Russian Emperor is now building, he uses a different gauge from that of any adjoining country. No boomerang in that arrangement.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—"An Accident," Tignish, came too late for insertion in this week's issue. "A Farmer," Morell, under consideration. "P. G.," Misconce, your letter received. Many thanks. Have written you. "Daniel McDonald," East Point.—Your letter under consideration.

Mr. O'Conner, the great New York lawyer, in an argument before Judge Leonard on Saturday against Connolly, is reported as saying that he found nothing in all his investigations to show that Mayor Hall was not a vulgar thief.

BAZAR.—Great preparations for the bazaar for the Bazaar which is to be held in the Market Hall to-morrow, and following day, in aid of the building funds of the Y. M. C. Association.

The brig "John Duffus" cast away at Big Cape, Lot 41, was sold for the benefit of all concerned, for £287.

We understand it has been decided to hold a monster meeting at Centreville, on Thursday next, to consider the Government railway policy. The Executive, the members for the District in both houses, and Messrs. E. Palmer, I. H. Davies, W. W. Sullivan, and D. Laird, are we believe to be invited. A good time, therefore, may be expected.—Patriot.

Owing to the large amount of space we have devoted to correspondence in this day's issue, we are obliged to omit a leading article especially prepared for the editor of the Patriot.

By the Mail which arrived here last evening we have dates to the 15th. We have only space to give the latest telegrams, which will be found in another column.

On Saturday last there was quite a lively trade in cars carried on at Georgetown. Hon. A. A. McDonald & Bros., Penke, Bros. & Co., and others, purchased and shipped about 1,500 bushels.

Late Telegraphic News.

TELEGRAPH AND JOURNAL OFFICE, }
2 o'clock, a. m. }
We have received the following special telegrams:

London, Dec. 11.
The strike of the telegraphers continues and causes great embarrassment to the people.

The wires are crowded. Serious delays are expected both to public and private despatches in transmission.

The Times to-day, (Monday), devotes nearly its entire space to the subject of the Prince's illness, and its possible fatal results.

Several columns are devoted to despatches describing the manner in which the news is received in the provinces.

The Times also gives, in detail, an account of the progress of the fever.

This report shows that soon after the fever set in the mind of the Prince wandered. The first lucid interval was on the birthday of his wife, Dec. 1, when he exclaimed: "This is the Princess's birthday!"

Another occasion occurred just before his relapses. Something was said in his hearing about the Queen and he asked: "Has the Queen arrived from Scotland?" Does she know I am sick? With the exception of these instances the Prince has been unconscious up to the present hour.

No bulletins have been issued since the afternoon, but it is known the Prince continues very low.

St. Louis, 4th Dec., 1871.
Messrs. John McLeell, Rimmer, Howland Fairweather and Watson reached here last night. The Canadian delegates were this morning formally introduced, and assigned seats in the body of the hall.

Hon. John Young made a good speech in acknowledgment to the President's welcome.

The Board has been discussing all the morning the question of improvement of the Levees of the Mississippi River, with a view to the improvement of the navigation of that river, and the restoration and reclamation of lands overflowed by the river. Resolutions on the subject were passed.

This evening a conference takes place between the committee appointed by the National Board and the Canadian delegates, with the object of determining the basis of reciprocity between the two countries.

The Board this afternoon took a drive round St. Louis to visit the chief places of interest, and to-night there is a grand reception and promenade at the Southern Hotel. A banquet takes place to-night.

Sandringham, Dec. 10.—10.30 P. M.
The Prince has been restless during the evening and no abatement in the dangerous symptoms of the disease. His low condition causes much painful anxiety, and intense excitement prevails throughout London and the Kingdom.

Sandringham, Dec. 11.—1.30 A. M.
The Prince has slept a little, but there is no change in the symptoms.

London, Dec. 11.—5 A. M.
It is manifest from actions of sympathy every where and prayer for the Prince that symptoms of death are imminent, and all hopes of his recovery being abandoned.

The Queen and Princess Alexandra are bearing their fatigue well. The latter hardly leaves the sick room.

A change in the French Government is imminent.

There will relinquish the presidency in favor of D'Audoubert. The Duke and all the influential members of the Right approve of it. The cause of the change is there's inability to withstand the Right and fear of the increasing power of Imperialism in the army.

Sir Edward Thornton and family arrived to-day at New York.

New York, Dec. 11.
Brigs Miranda and Falcon from Halifax for Porto Rico are missing.

London, Dec. 11.
The following official bulletins have been issued to-day, signed by the Prince of Wales's physicians:

Sandringham, Dec. 11, 8 a. m.
The Prince passed a restless night. There has been a further recurrence of graver symptoms and his state continues precarious.

Sandringham, Dec. 11, noon.
The Prince is in the same precarious condition and the symptoms are unaltered.

Sandringham, Dec. 11, 5 p. m.
The Prince has been very restless during the afternoon, but his exhaustion is not increasing.

Sandringham, Dec. 11, 10.30 P. M.
SIR WILLIAM JENNER, and other Physicians.
Since the last telegram was received the telegraph line to Sandringham has been closed to the general public because the wire was burdened with messages to the Queen from charlatans, quacks and malicious persons tendering medical advice.

A despatch bearer who left Sandringham late this afternoon, told outside that he did not expect to find the Prince alive when he returned, and that the members of the royal family and others have given up all hopes of his recovery.

It is reported on good authority that with one exception on the Prince has been unconscious since the first day of the month.

The Prince's children, the Queen and other members of the Royal Family were repeatedly summoned to the bedside of the Prince yesterday and to-day.

In accordance with the request of the Archbishop of Canterbury, prayers for the recovery of the heir apparent were introduced in the services in all Anglican churches yesterday.

Archbishop Manning has ordered prayers in the Catholic Churches for the recovery of the Prince.

The illness of the Prince causes great anxiety in Ireland.

The Republicans and Democrats of London are about to send an address of condolence to the Queen.

The Foreign Office has sent instructions to all agents abroad to investigate organizations of the International Society and report to the Government.

Telegraph employees are returning to their work. The movement was a failure.

Alexis leaves Boston at 9 p. m. to-day arriving at Montreal at 3 p. m.

No further change reported in the Prince's condition. Hopes of his recovery are freely expressed, and the public feels more confident.

The report that Parliament is to be called in January is contradicted.

The bullion in the Bank of England increased £244,000 during the week.

The Bank reduced the rate one-half per cent; it is now three per cent.

Councils 92-1-4. Breadstuffs sold.
G. 11101-4 to 110 1-2.
New York, Dec. 14.
Akerman, U. S. Attorney General has resigned. Ex-Senator Williams of Oregon, is expected to be his successor.

London, Dec. 14.—10 P. M.
An official bulletin from Sandringham announces that the Prince passed a quiet afternoon of evening, and that the symptoms are unaltered since morning.
