THE DOCTRINE OF WORK.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT was recently asked his views upon the education of young men. He expressed himself, in reply, as follows:

"I would order them to work. I would try to develop and work out an ideal of mine—a theory of the duty of the leisure class to the community. I have tried to do it by example, and it is what I have preached—first and foremost to be American, heart and soul, and to go in with any person, heedless of anything but that person's qualifications. For myself I would work as quick beside Pat Dugan as with the last descendant of the patriots: it really makes no difference to me if the work is good, if the man is in earnest. One other thing I would like to teach the young men of wealth—that he who is not wealthy owes his first duty to his family, but he who has means owes his first duty to the State. It is ignoble to try to heap money on money. I would preach the doctrine of work to all, and to the man of wealth a doctrine of unremunerative work."

These remarks may well be laid to heart by the young men and women of Canada. The fact that a young man's father has won a competence for him ought not to incline him to "take it easy." The possession of even a small amount of wealth gives a young man a great advantage over those who have only their brains and their hands. But it does not relieve him from the duty of engaging in a life's work and employing all his time for the benefit of himself and his fellowmen.

TRADE COMPARISONS.

In the course of a speech delivered at a dinner given in his honor a few evenings ago, the Mayor of Montreal quoted statistics which show that Canada occupies an enviable position in the world as to its foreign trade, in proportion to population. We quote:

Great Britain, in 1896.—Population 40,000,000; imports, $2,209,044,000; exports, $1,481,896,000; total foreign trade, $3,690,940,000, or $92 per head.
United States, in 1898.—Population, 70,000,000; imports, $616,805,000; exports, $1,231,330,000; total foreign trade, $1,847,335,000, or $40 per head.
German Empire, in 1896.—Population, 52,250,000; imports, $1,139,500,000; exports, $938,450,000; total foreign trade, $2,077,950,000, or $49 per head.
France.—Population, 38,500,000; imports, $759,720,000; exports, $680,000,000; total foreign trade, $1,439,720,000, or $37.50 per head.
Canada, in 1898.—Population, 5,500,000; imports, $144,605,950; exports, $159,485,770; total foreign trade, $304,091,720, or $55.30 per head.

These figures seem to show that the National Policy of Canada, established by the Liberal Conservative party and still in practical operation, has not proved ruinous to the trade of the country. Considering that Canada is a new country, with its resources but partially developed, the statistics are gratifying, and indicate that our Liberal free traders had better continue to let our moderately protective tariff stand.

The following comment on the fruit exhibit from P. E. Island at the Nova Scotia Exhibition appears in the Co-operative Farmer, and is from the pen of Prof. Sears, of the Horticultural School of Wolfville, Nova Scotia:—

"A most interesting feature of the exhibit was the fruit from Prince Edward Island, Cape Breton and parts of Nova Scotia not usually supposed to be within the fruit-growing district. A collection from Queen's County, P. E. I., exhibited by Senator Ferguson, would have done credit to the famed Annapolis Valley, both in numbers and excellence of varieties shown."

SLEEPING AND CHAIR CARE.

Railroads Moving to Bring About a Reduction in Rates.

CHICAGO, Oct 14.—Several of the largest railroad companies in the United States are planning to move for a reduction in sleeping car and chair car rates. The executive officers of these roads have been working for months on a proposition to get the matter before the sleeping car companies in a way that could not help bringing the desired result. It is proposed to have all the roads in the country using sleeping cars and chair cars united in an appeal to the companies owning the cars to make reasonable reductions in their rates. The first move will be made, it is said, at the coming convention of the American Association of General Passenger and Ticket Agents, which will convene at Detroit next Tuesday. The question will be brought up under the head of special business. So far as can be learned the idea prevails that a sliding scale ought to supplant the present inflexible rates.

ESTEEMED EXCHANGES.

Montreal Witness:—"That the new major-general commanding the forces in Canada has put down his foot on political 'pulls' in our military administration will give the utmost satisfaction to Canadians in general, and possibly to members of the crown, who cannot altogether enjoy having the mailed fist of men supposed to have five hundred votes apiece behind them, shaken in their faces."

—Commenting on the recent appointment of Hon. David Laird, to the Indian Commissionership at Winnipeg, the Telegram of that city remarks: "It is a singular coincidence that the government which thought it necessary to superannuate Mr. Havier Reed, the late deputy superintendent general of Indian affairs and formerly Indian Commissioner, at the early age of 47, should consider an old man of 65 just the right age to enter the civil service."

The Cuban Republic.

HAVANA, October 14.—The Cuban Generals, Maximo Rodriguez and Ncdavis, left for Santa Cruz del Sur yesterday morning via Batabano, in answer to an urgent summons from the Cuban revolutionary government. It was given out here that the Cuban revolutionary ministers have called for these generals in order to reorganize the Cuban army in the eastern provinces.

It is reported that General Maximo Gomez, the insurgent commander in chief, will arrive here this week for the purpose of conferring with the military commissioners. He will then have an interview with the Cuban General Periodiaz, the Cuban military commander in the province of Pinar del Rio. It is understood that General Gomez has already been elected president of the Cuban government and his election, it is added, will not be made public until after his arrival at Santa Cruz del Sur on October 20th.
