FLOWERS GROW IN JANUARY - To few of us in this climate comes the pleasure of picking daisies in January. On January 4th, 1951, Lorne Adams was playing about the door yard at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Adams, Burlington, when to his amazement, he noticed a perfectly formed daisy with freshly opened petals. The brave little flowers had come safely through wind and storm, and in the ensuing Spring-like weather had unfolded its petals and fulfilled its mission in life.

Promoters Of New Co-op Store Hold Meeting

In the C. M. B. A. Hall, Summerside, last evening a public meeting was held of the promoters of the new co-operative store for the purpose of explaining to the general public all the problems arising in connection with the opening of such a store and to answer any questions in the minds of prospective investors.
The organization meeting was held some time ago and an option taken on the Hardware Department of Smallman's Ltd. as a site for the proposed store. The sum of $15,000 would have to be raised in order to take up this option and it was learned last night that about one half of this amount has been so far realized. The balance must necessarily be raised by January 15th at which date the option expires.
Mr. Brenton Clark, president of the organization in Summerside presided at last night's meeting and introduced Mr. J. G. Dennis, of the co-operative movement and Mr. Jerome O'Brien of the co-operative store, Charlottetown. The speakers outlined the general situation up to the present and the meeting laid plans to canvass the Town for the necessary share and loan capital to complete the deal.

TRUE BILL

Following motions by Attorney General W. E. Darby, K. C. Duncan, J. Riley, Justice of Peace at Belle River was appointed a commissioner for taking affidavits in Queen's and King's Counties, and Hugh B. Armstrong, insurance adjuster of Charlottetown, was appointed commissioner for taking affidavits in the three Counties.
Tribute To Court Crier
During the morning session the Attorney General paid high tribute to the thirty-seven years of service of the Court crier, Mr. Bernard McCabe, and commented on his courteous and efficient manner.
Justice MacGuigan added the appreciation of the Court to the words of the hope, Providence would spare Mr. McCabe for many more years to continue his duties of opening and closing the Court.
Temperance Act Appeal
The first case to be heard yesterday afternoon was an appeal by Donald Gregory, 65 Prince Street, from a conviction under the Temperance Act. J. P. Nicholson representing the Crown and J. A. MacDonald K. C. the defence.
Chief of Police MacArthur, the first witness called, stated that at 4 p.m. on October 30 Corporal Warren of the R.C.M.P. and Corporal Lund of the City Police had brought into his office 12 bottles of liquid, labelled Bay Rum, which they left in his custody. One of these bottles had been later taken by Corporal Lund on his instructions to the Provincial analyst at the Sanatorium. On November 2 it was returned with a certificate stating that its alcoholic content was 51.8 percent.
In answer to questions, Corporal W. H. Warren stated that he had visited the home of the appellant on the day in question, and that it was a boarding house operated by the appellant, his wife and his mother. He proceeded to conduct a search with Corporal Lund for liquor under the Temperance Act. The witness said he had found 12 bottles of Bay Rum in the lining of an overcoat which was hanging in the downstairs hall, near the kitchen door, and that in answer to a question the appellant had stated it was his coat.
Under cross examination by Mr. MacDonald, the witness said he had raided the premises six or seven times previously, during the past few years. Two rooms on the main floor, the entire second floor, and part of the third were occupied by roomers.
Corporal A. Lund, the final witness to be called by the Crown, said that he had been searching the cellar at the time the bottles were discovered. He had been called by Corporal Warren and had seen him putting the bottles from the overcoat into his pockets.
Donald Gregory was then called and stated that he is a cook, and is married and has two children. He said that he has been unemployed since the time of the search of his home, and has been under the care of a doctor at the Sanatorium for some time.
He had left the Province in November, 1949, had returned for a week-end visit in April, 1950, and again in August 1950 to take up residence here. Gregory said that the coat in question had been hanging in the hall since his visit in May, 1950, and that he had not touched it since. He said it was fifteen feet from the kitchen door and available to any of the roomers.
Cross examined by Mr. Nicholson, the appellant said that he had never seen the bottles before they were taken from his coat by Corporal Warren, and that there had been a third man, apparently an officer, present during the search. Mr. MacDonald emphasized that the Crown Prosecutor had not stated or proved the bottles introduced as evidence contained a drinkable liquid, and that although his client admitted readily to ownership of the coat, the place where the coat was hanging was open to the use of all occupants of the house.
Mr. Nicholson then cited various cases regarding the use of Bay Rum, in one of which the Crown Prosecutor had drunk from the bottle to prove it was drinkable. The case was set down to the bottom of the docket by Justice

TAFT CALLS

100-division army that might involve upwards of 5,000,000 troops. Taft said he favors the complete release of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's Chinese Nationalist forces to fight the Chinese Reds, and he made these other points:
1. New taxes for defence are likely to cut every American's income to about 90 per cent of what it is now.
2. Young men from 18-22 years old may have to be drafted for a minimum of two years in the armed forces.
3. Price-wage controls will involve "real sacrifices of freedom on the part of many."

Discounts Threat of War

Once again, as he did in a major policy speech to the Senate last Friday, Taft discounted the threat of another great war soon. Obviously alluding to Truman's statement on day that Russia is bent on a step-by-step conquest of the world, the chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee said he does not believe the Russians are ready to launch any such all-out aggression.
"Military conquest of the world must look a great deal more difficult to the Russians than it does to some panic-stricken people in this country," he said.
Taft said there is "no great difference of principles" between himself and Dewey. But he said Dewey's suggestion that the armed forces be built up immediately to perhaps 5,000,000 men might greatly disturb war production.

Other Developments

Taft's speech came amid these other developments:
1. Treasury Secretary John Snyder and congressional tax managers reached tentative agreement to begin consideration of a big new tax bill Feb. 1.
Congressman mentioned a boost of as much as $10,000,000 a year. It would be the third big tax increase since the outbreak of the Korean war last June 25.
2. Construction of a 60,000-ton aircraft carrier, at an estimated cost of $235,000,000, was unanimously approved by the House of Representatives armed services committee.
The giant carrier is an important item on the navy's new $2,000,000,000 shipbuilding program.
In his speech at the National Press Club, Taft said his program had been criticized on the ground that it would mean "running out" on Europe.
He said that is not so. There is neither isolationism nor isolationism in his program, Taft said.
MacGuigan, to be dealt with after the civil jury cases were disposed of.

Other Appeals

In the appeal of Cecil Maynard Foy against a conviction of reckless driving the appeal was allowed without costs. The appellant was represented by R. R. Bell K. C. The Attorney General stated that Foy had paid a heavy penalty in Prince County for the same offence he was now charged with in Queen's County.
The appeal by Roy Louis Oakes from a conviction for drunken driving was abandoned on recommendation of his counsel, Mr. G. R. Foster, and the appeal was dismissed with costs of ten dollars.
An appeal by George A. Bunting from a conviction for drunken driving was abandoned on recommendation of his counsel, L. P. O'Donnell, and this appeal was also dismissed with costs of ten dollars.
A civil non-jury case introduced was that of Robert Daziel, plaintiff, represented by J. P. Nicholson, for damages against Stewart Motors Ltd. and Willard Forest MacDonald, represented by G. R. Foster and Mr. MacDonald. Upon request of counsel, this case was left at the foot of the docket.
The Court then adjourned until 11 A. M. tomorrow morning.

Newsprint Output At All-Time High

OTTAWA, Jan. 9 - (CP) - Canadian newsprint production reached all-time peaks both in volume and value in 1949, the Bureau of Statistics said today.
Output of other kinds of paper generally was below 1948.
The Bureau review did not include 1950 totals because reports from industries as large as the newsprint industry normally are many months late in compilation.
Newsprint production in 1949 amounted to 5,187,206 tons valued at $497,076,343, against 4,640,335 tons at $402,099,718 in 1948. Output in Quebec advanced to 2,704,995 tons from 2,686,838 in 1948, and Ontario to 1,223,638 tons from 1,198,075.

BIG ENEMY

The counter-attack was in regimental strength. It was loosed north of Chechon, another transportation centre on the road network to the south. Chechon is 60 miles south of the 38th parallel.
U. N. artillery and Allied warplanes supported the counter-attack.
Censorship forbade mention of the units involved in the fight north of Chechon but it is possible to say that the first French blood shed in Korea was lost in the fight for Wonju.
A French battalion along with a Dutch unit is attached to an American division in Korea. The French troops got into the fight north of Wonju. Later they
