Let's Talk It Over

A Prince County Viewpoint

The physiologists tell us there are acquired and natural reflexes. You have to learn to walk, akate or make a Windsor knot so these are acquired reflexes. Breathing and hunger are examples of natural reflexes. If your hand touches a hot stove in the dark, you get it out of there without taking thought. That is also a natural reflex. It would be awkward, if before taking your hand away you had to reason it all out thuswise: "That stove is hot. There is a painful sensation in my hand, and if I leave it on the hot stove much longer it may cause extensive damage to the tissues. All brain cells in favor of taking hand away will please say 'ow'." Fortunately this isn't necessary. We raise our hand but quick and without thought.

What we started out to say was that there is one natural reflex that the physiologists forgot to mention, and that is—human dislike and resistance to higher taxes. When we protest against a raise in taxes, we are doing "what comes naturally." No matter how essential the hike in taxes is, the government concerned is taking its political future in its hands when it embarks on such a program. Common sense will quite often prevail in the end but the natural instinct of man, before taking thought, is to shout: "Down with those tax-raisers!"

What we really started out to talk about was the recent announcement of the Summerside Town Council that assessments would receive an upward revision. On the face of it this is not excessive, a popular announcement, but we are like to say a few words in its defence. One thing that will have to be admitted by all Summerside citizens is that the Town Council here is not stuffing their money in a sack with an imposing label telling how much it amounts to. They are doing things for the town, and thus for the citizens. The street paving program which is now entering its second year is one new fresh monument to the Council's initiative. The Council has shown that it believes that the description "progressive" is more significant and important than "rich." They have decided not to boast of their assets, but rather to use them.

We are looking forward to what further improvements our present town fathers will effect. We feel sure that they will never be content to sit on their hands and congratulate each other on past accomplishments. They have started out with rolled sleeves and their progressive spirit certainly deserves support. Considering the fact that we have been fortunate compared with other towns as far as taxation is concerned, we should accept this new tax boost as gracefully as it is possible to accept any tax increase, dig down a little deeper into our jeans and say: "Go to it, Mr. Mayor and Messrs. Councillors, we'll give you the tools, and you finish the job."

NIGHT AND THE "CAPITOL SUMMERSIDE"

Richard Widmark and Gene Tierney in "Night and the City", filmed in London by the American stars and an American crew dispatched to the great city to stage there a picturization of Gerald Kersh's novel of crime and man-hunt, opens today at the Capitol Theatre. The Kersh origin for the new Twentieth Century-Fox melodrama assures audiences of flavor and punch stamped by the unusual, for the writer is an open dealer in off-the-beaten-track materials.

Widmark is cast with as Harry Fabian in "Night and the City", a small-time shifter in the London underworld who relentlessly tackles worlds he cannot conquer. London after dark is fast company, as Harry finds out when, one after another, his big deals and fifty dollars. Mr. J. Harold Goodwin represented the Crown and the two accused acted as their own counsel.

Leaving Ottawa For S'side Today

OTTAWA, March 27.—(Special)—J. Watson MacNaught, Parliamentary Assistant to Fisheries Minister Mayhew is leaving Ottawa tomorrow for Prince Edward Island where he will spend some time at Summerside and Alberton. At the latter centre, he will visit his father who has been confined to hospital for some time past.

Asked if the recent delegation to Ottawa representing potato-growers of Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick had succeeded in their objective of obtaining Federal support, Mr. MacNaught said he felt a solution was in sight. Details of the solution, he added, would be announced either by the Premier of the Provinces concerned or by the potato-growers representatives.

He declined to hazard a guess at the amount of Federal support that would be forthcoming for the potato industry of the Maritime. Returning to Prince Edward Island with the M. P. for Prince in his son John MacNaught, a student at Prince of Wales College in Charlottetown, who spent Easter in Ottawa with his parents.

Easter Services At Alberton

Easter was fittingly observed at Alberton by large numbers of people assembled in their respective places of worship, and many voices were raised in praise of the risen Lord. At St. Peter's Anglican Church Holy Communion was celebrated in the morning and Evensong at 7:30 p.m. At Sunday School the children presented their missionary boxes.

At the Presbyterian Church the choir rendered "Low In the Grave He Lay" and Rev. and Mrs. G. B. Cunningham sang "King Of My Life." Certificates were presented to Sunday School pupils, for recitation of the primary catechism to Marion Gard and Bobby MacAusland; for primary memory work to Belle Hayward, Norma Horne and Jackie Lockerby; for junior memory work to Bobby Horne, Garth Wilkie Loraine Campbell, Evelyn Carpenter and Dean Carpenter.

We are looking forward to what further improvements our present town fathers will effect. We feel sure that they will never be content to sit on their hands and congratulate each other on past accomplishments. They have started out with rolled sleeves and their progressive spirit certainly deserves support. Considering the fact that we have been fortunate compared with other towns as far as taxation is concerned, we should accept this new tax boost as gracefully as it is possible to accept any tax increase, dig down a little deeper into our jeans and say: "Go to it, Mr. Mayor and Messrs. Councillors, we'll give you the tools, and you finish the job."

In all churches sermons appropriate to the season were preached by the clergyman. All churches were beautiful with spring flowers.

Predict Success For Red Cross Campaign

At St. Mary's Hall in Summerside last evening the Red Cross canvassers attended a supper meeting at which they were given final instructions preparatory to opening the drive for funds in Summerside. Team captains and their workers will start today to make a house to house canvass of the Town with a set quota of $4,500.00 to be collected. The objective for the County is set at $9,000.00.

The supper meeting was presided over by Mr. Richard Henthorne, the local campaign chairman who said he felt confident that the amount would be realized. Mr. Henthorne said that he felt at first that the additional five hundred dollars added to the Summerside quota over last year would be impossible to attain but that when he realized the magnificent organization which had been set up during the past few years he felt that Summerside would go over the top.

The meeting was addressed by Judge L. G. Lewis, president of the Provincial Red Cross who spoke of the great deal of time and tremendous amount of work necessary to make the campaign a success. He exhorted all give generously in accordance with the Red Cross slogan this year, "Give until it hurts". His Worship Mayor Henry W. Wedge extended a welcome to the assembled workers and congratulated them on the splendid turnout which was indicative of their desire to put the drive over successfully.

Mr. J. Frank Arnett, president of the Summerside branch of the Red Cross said that the presence of so many enthusiastic workers was proof that they were deeply interested in the work of this great humanitarian society. He spoke of the great work done by the Red Cross not only during the world wars but after the war as well. Not only in war but in national disasters the Red Cross was there to aid the distressed. In this Province he pointed the people are singularly blessed and this is an opportunity for all to express their appreciation of the many blessings they do enjoy.
