TRY AN ACID DIET.

There are Various Reasons Why it is Advisable Just Now. Acid is death to the cholera germ. With that monster on a neighboring island down the bay it is advisable to vary the diet with sour dishes made of lemon and vinegar. It is almost impossible to refrain from drinking raw water. Every mother knows that the present supply is unwholesome, but even in wealthy families it is often inconvenient to have cooked and properly food drinks. If the raw water danger will be lessened by adding a little lemon juice, not more than a teaspoonful to a glass of water. For convenience, particularly in the morning, the lemons might be quartered and sent to table in a covered glass bowl or dish.

People who prefer more lemon juice should take the bitter draft through a straw for the protection of the teeth. Tea, if cold, is better just now with lemon instead of milk. Lemons are cheap, and until the water supply improves Swinburne Island is vacated and the cool weather arrives they should form part of the decorations of every dining table and sideboard. Horricot, lettuce, beets, chicory, or tomatoes, with plenty of sharp dressing, should follow every dinner.

Too much lemon juice and vinegar is not advisable for children, but they should have a little. Lemons will do them no harm. Housewives who are in the habit of serving cold meals will show their wisdom by a change of programme. "Slicing" the food and "drinking" is the advice given by the Health Commissioners of New York until all danger of the scourge has passed—New York World.

In Black and White. An evening dress of black satin with lace insertions.—St. James Budget.

CARE OF TAN SHOES. How the Ingenious Bootblack Still Earns His Bread. When tan shoes become fashionable three or four years ago the bootblack stood aghast. Some of them turned pale, but most of them did not, because nature debarr'd them from that manufacture of apprehension. As man after man passed their stands with his feet shod in coverings that did not admit of the old-time "shine," they believed that their race was run.

The ragamuffin who makes his living upon the corners is an individual hard to down. When the second season of tan shoes came around a new method of polishing had been devised. It has been amplified until it has become a science.

As at present practiced by the high priests of the art it requires first a thorough rubbing with a damp rag, then application of a half lemon; then some mysterious unguent that is put on with the ball of the thumb, and lastly a brown polish invented especially for the occasion. This latter is brushed with a piece of cambric cloth. No well-educated person finds himself wearing a pair of new russets, and he pays for one dime. As this is double the old price the operator is happy. He has not lost anything by the shoe which introduction promised to prove his bane.—Washington Post.

Traveling Case. Tourists at the World's Fair will do well to provide themselves with a case like the one shown in our sketch. It is made of heavy brown leather, lined with soft silk. The inside pockets are of the width of the case and five inches deep, with one or two inches deep and two and a half wide at the top. The articles are held in these pockets by elastic and buttons, as shown by the sketch. The middle stitch a band of heavy brown leather, and will fit snugly in the bottom of a satchel.

How a Trade Name Originated. The origin of the terms "six-penny," "ten-penny," etc., as applied to nails, though not commonly known, is involved in no mystery whatever. Nails have been made a certain number of pounds to the thousand for many years, and are still reckoned in that way in England, a ten-penny being 1000 nails to ten pounds, a six-penny 1000 to six pounds, a two-penny weighing two pounds to the thousand; and, in ordering, buyers call for the three pound, six pound or ten pound variety, etc., until, by the Englishman's abbreviation of "penny" for "pound," the abbreviation has been made to stand for penny, instead of pound, as originally intended.—Hardware.

The Elliott Case. BRANTFORD, Sept. 4.—Many citizens of this city are willing to vouch for the truth of Frank Elliott's statement that he was cured of kidney disease of six years' standing by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Everyone is astonished at the rapidity of thoroughness with which these pills do their work. As one who had tried them says: "A man feels, after using them, as though he had never enjoyed life before." The lymph case, in which a paralytic was cured by Dodd's kidney pills, opened the eyes of the people in this vicinity to the virtues of this remedy.

The Test of Time. William Holder, sailmaker, St. John, writes: "This is to certify that for nearly a year I suffered with dyspepsia, indigestion and severe bilious headaches. I lost flesh and became very weak. I was recommended to use Hawker's Tonic and Pills, and am pleased to say that they completely cured me. I gained flesh very fast, and became hearty and stronger than I had ever been, and have never suffered since, now over one year."

The Majority of the people in Hawaii desire to return to their old form of government, but on the manifestations of a desire to that effect in Honolulu the other day, United States' marines were promptly landed to prevent it.

Lines by Dean Alford.

My laque is wafted on the strand By breath divine; And on the beam there rests a hand Other than mine. One who was known in storms to sail I have on board; Above the roaring of the gale I have my Lord. He holds me when the billows smite; I shall not fall, If sharp, 'tis short; if long, 'tis light— He tempests all. Safe to the land! safe to the land! The end is this: And then when I can go hand in hand, Far into bliss. —Exchange.

Simply Monstrous.

"Jimmy Cricket ain't that a big 'un, was the exclamation heard from some youngsters on Boylston street a few nights since, as the writer stood conversing with a gentleman near the Albany railroad bridge not far from the junction of West Chester Park and Boylston street. The cause of the boys' surprise was found to be an announcement upon the long bill-board lately erected for a famous theatrical company, opposite from where we were standing. A few minutes' observation convinced us that the boys were not the only persons attracted to this enormous spread of matter. The board is the very largest in the world and the amount of paper used to cover it would make the fortune of every Italian Count ras-pickler upon the streets of Boston. Laborers stopped work, horse cars stopped, pedestrians halted in wonderment, as Mr. J. W. Black, Boston's old, well known photographer, focused his famous thousand dollar, wide angle lens upon the great bill-board, to obtain by the sun's mysterious chemical touch an enduring photograph of the statements and legends thereon. Among the chief of which was the following: "It holds the fort while Old Jed Prouty is away!" "Every mother should have it in the house for autumn colds, soreness, lameness in body or limb." Think of it, Johnson's Anodyne Linctum, unlike any other, was originated by an old family physician in 1817, "without real merit, could it have survived for eighty years?" These in bold letters, some of which nearly six feet tall, proved to be what astonished the boys. This big sign demonstrates one point clearly, the courage and persistence required to be successful advertisers, like L. S. Johnson & Co., the proprietors of Johnson's Anodyne Linctum nothing daunts them. But after all, it is the forcible, persistent, courageous style of advertising which has made them successful, until they are now classed among the foremost advertisers of the day.

NEWS NOTES.

The expenditures of the United States for the present fiscal year to date exceed the receipts by $19,000,000. George and Terry had the largest theatrical audience ever assembled in San Francisco on the occasion of their opening there on Monday night.

The Prince of Wales' Britannia beat the American yacht Endeavor easily off the side of Wight a few days ago in the first of the races for the international gold cup. Toronto, like Montreal, reports a great increase in street railway traffic, as a result of the introduction of electric cars. A good thing, well advertised, always takes the people with it.

The inquest in the case of the death of Ephraim Sandy, the Rama Indian, was concluded at Orilla a few days ago, and the mystery was solved. The jury returned an open verdict.

The quantity of grain passed down the whole length of the coast from Montreal was 261,954 tons, or 33,550 less than in the preceding year, when 295,500 tons were carried. As in the United States, so in Canada, to a lesser extent, however, the railways are acquiring steadily increasing portion of grain transportation.

In his speech at Metz Emperor William spoke of Lorraine being projected by God and the German sword. Twenty-two years ago the old Kaiser used to send home telegrams in much the same strain, thanking heaven every time the German sword had slaughtered a few Frenchmen. Holiness and piety is of the assertive and selfish kind.

The sad condition of things in South Carolina is far worse than at first reported. There have been over 1,000 people destroyed on Sea Island, where the towns of Beaufort and Port Royal were situated, while more than 7,000 people are homeless and starving. Property to the value of millions has also been swept away by the merciless tornado.

Avoid all Injurious Habits. Tea drinking is an injurious habit, and nervous people should be careful in the use of it. It is not a food, it is not a tonic, and if drunk strong it may be as harmful in its effects as brandy would be. Anyone who feels as if they were a bundle of nerves should give up both tea and tobacco, and use Menzies' Kidney and Liver Cure, which will help them to exist in comfort without them.

W. H. ROGERS. AMHERST, N. S., May 27, 1893.

THE GROSSER DYSPEPSIA CURE CO. GENTLEMEN—I am 71 years of age. Have been afflicted with sick headache most all my life, which developed into Dyspepsia of a mild type about twenty years ago, and has continued to grow worse during the past seven or eight years. I have not been able to take a drink of cold water or milk, as they would produce severe pains and sometimes vomiting. I have been subject to severe pains in the chest, with dizziness, which have been more frequent during the past three or four years. My mouth was furrowed up in the mornings, accompanied with bad breath. My case was yearly growing worse. During all this long period I have tried many popular medicines, as well as prescriptions from the regular medical practitioners, but without producing any improvement. In the fall of '92 I concluded to try a bottle of two of your medicine and such were its effects that I continued it and now I can drink cold water or milk without any inconvenience. Those dizzy pains are all gone and my mouth is as sweet as a baby's. In short, your medicine has cured me and I am sure that all Dyspepsics can be cured by its use. (Signed) W. H. ROGERS, Late Inspector of Fisheries for Nova Scotia.

Castoria. "Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ANCKER, M. D., 111 Co. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope to do my part for distant children who will need the real interest of their children, and use Castoria, instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opiates, narcotics, soothing syrup and other harmful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves." DR. J. F. KINCHLOE, Orono, AC.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular medicine, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it." UNITED HOSPITAL AND DISPENSARY, Boston, Mass.
