THE WONDERFUL BICYCLE. Is There Anything in This World That the Bicycle Cannot Be Adapted to?

Trade in Belgium is increasing at an astonishing rate. The following figures are more eloquent than anything that can be said about the progress of cycling in that country. Up to August 1, 1894, the 1 x 1/2 x 1/2 wheels in the provinces realized 4,342 francs, while for the year ended August 1, 1894 the amount raised was 7,191 francs or nearly double. These sums are devoted to much needed improvements to the roads.

A Hint to Hill-Climbers. In hill climbing the rider's heel should be lifted just before the crank passes dead centre, and the higher it is lifted the more power will be given to the pedals. Similarly, it should be dropped before the rising pedal passes the dead centre. This is the dictum of an editor who has just returned from an extended tour through Switzerland.

Cycle Cigar Store. A remarkable development of the latest Berlin development of the world's new bicycle wheel. A magnificent glass case is mounted on a sort of quadruplet which receives its motive power from the limbs of a proprietor, who is seated just behind the case. At night the wheel affair is brilliantly lighted by electricity.

A Musical Bicycle. Halway, N. J., has a musical bicycle which, when ridden, plays the last of popular airs. The number of tunes that can be produced at the will of the rider is unlimited. All that is necessary is to change the disk in the music box attached to an upright in front of the rider. The music box is operated by a set fan, similar to that of a gramophone, and the notes of the handle-bar in front of the rider, and works just as a pinwheel does when carried by a running boy.

Rise of Bicycle Thieves. Bicycle thieves have a new dodge. Near Bayonne, N. J., a lady and gentleman were run down by two men in a buggy. The men expressed great interest in the bicycle, and when the lady to a drug store, where they said they would make good the damage. When the lady returned, men, wagon and wheels had disappeared.

A Bloomer Boycott. The Chicago Telephone Company last week issued the following order to the bicyclists in the city: Operators will not be permitted to receive in this building at any hour of the day or night in bloomers costume, not to assume that attire before departure for home.

What to Drink After. Drinking and the kind of drinks to be indulged in will, of course, must be an individual study on the part of each rider. French doctors recommend warm tea and coffee without sugar or very little sweetening.

ODDS AND ENDS. Newfoundland's revenue for the September quarter was $315,700, being $32,800 less than the same quarter of last year before the commercial crash, and an improvement of $106,000 on the previous quarter of this year.

This is Concentration. One pill a dose, one box 25 cents. One pill relieves constipation. One box cures an ordinary case. One pill taken weekly neutralizes formation of uric acid in the blood and prevents Bright's Kidney Disease and Diabetes. True only of Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills.

Kidney Facts. In Jan. 1892 my son was taken with kidney disease. Through attended by three physicians, and change of climate he grew worse and by '93 had fallen from 195 lbs. to 95 lbs. In 10 days from starting on Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills we were able to move him home. In 4 months he was gained 100 lbs. and returned to health by the use of this medicine. Jno. S. Hastings, 23 St. Paul St., Montreal.

The resolution of the Marquis of Salisbury to secure the adoption of the reforms proposed by the powers and to use coercive measures if necessary, is causing the Sultan of Turkey a great deal of uneasiness.

WORD FROM KENTONAY. Good Mining Prospects for the Year and Increased Facilities to Miners.

NELSON (Special) Oct. 21.—The mining prospects for next year in this locality are excellent, and a large influx of prospectors is expected. Miners and others coming in have been in the habit of bringing with them large quantities of Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which they all swear by and whose virtues they have extolled to such an extent that the druggists throughout the section have been alive to the necessity of laying in large supplies to meet the greatly increasing demand. The remedy is generally regarded as an indispensable part of a miner's outfit both for its portability and a value in preserving health which cannot be overestimated.

Mr. S. Barfoot, a private banker of Charlottetown, Oct. 20, suspended a few days ago. The liabilities are estimated at upwards of $200,000, of which about $50,000 is owing to depositors. Mr. Barfoot published a letter to his depositors stating that he had no assistance he will be able to pay dollar for dollar to all of them with four or five per cent. interest.

That Pale Face. For Nervous Prostration and Anæmia there is no medicine that will so promptly and infallibly restore vigor and strength as Scott's Emulsion.

The French budget committee has recommended a reduction in the naval estimates of 7,500,000 francs. A little while ago the Minister of Finance proposed to equal Britain's naval strength, but it seems to have petered out.

Hands and Ankles Raw. For years I have been a great sufferer from itchy skin trouble and salt rheum. My hands and ankles were literally raw. The first application of Dr. Chase's Ointment allayed the burning, itching sensation. One box and a half entirely cured me. It is also instant relief for chilblains. Henry A. Parmenter, St. Catharines, Ont.

PARIS, October 14.—Canois asserts that another convention has been signed between Russia and France pledging Russia to forcibly intervene against other powers than those composing the Dresden in the event of their attacking France.

A Remarkable Cure.—J. W. Jeannion, Gilford—Spent between $200 and $300 in consulting doctors, tried Dixon's and all other treatments, but got no benefit. One box of Chase's Catarrh Cure did me more good than all other remedies, in fact I consider myself cured, and with a 25-cent box at that.

KINGSTON, Ga., October 14.—Advice from Port au Prince says that the Haytien chambers have dissolved, and elections for a new parliament will take place January 10. Before dissolving the chambers sanctioned the raising of a loan of $10,000,000, in Paris.

Orilla's Prominent Furniture Dealer Gives Facts. ORILLA, Feb. 10th, 1894. EDMONSON, BATES & Co. Gentlemen,—About three or four weeks ago I had an attack of Itching Piles. I tried two or three different remedies recommended by druggists as the "best and only cure," etc., but got no relief. About the time I was beginning to despair of finding any relief, with some slight misgivings I bought a box of your pile cure, which I am pleased to say gave me almost instant relief and permanent cure. I consider your Dr. Chase's Ointment a God-send. ALF. J. DEAN.

When the cold winds and rains of autumn and winter come on, and the grip of Prussia gets hold of you, there is nothing that will so quickly relieve you as PRUSSIAN OIL. All who have used it say that it is the Great Modern Pain Reliever. Try it at once.

Scott's Sarsaparilla. A CUTIE Inflammatory Rheumatism is produced by an excess of uric acid in the blood. Paralysis is nearly a dead circulatory system produced by impure and acid blood. So-called neuralgia of the blood is sciatic rheumatism; sciatic rheumatism is hereditary; syphilis results from syphilis; gout is caused by high living; sluggish circulation affects the heart.

"THE KIND THAT CURES" Thus the whole line of rheumatic diseases owe their being to an affected circulation of impure blood. No person can suffer a rheumatic pain that has a free and equal circulation of pure blood, and this accounts for Scott's Sarsaparilla curing the supposed incurable cases. It eradicates all rheumatic poisons and acids from the blood and equalizes the circulation.

FARM AND GARDEN. Reasonable Notes for Country and Suburban Residents.

The money-making farmers are, as a rule, intense farmers. They may be called intense in everything they do, called intense in their articles on T. E. Terry's articles on "money made from a run-down farm." How is it done? Not by further running it down, by a long shot. He has selected a wheat and potato stock. Few would at first sight see big money in wheat and potatoes without stock—without even a dairy, but Mr. Terry is after cash and comfort as well as money, and he manages to make money and have enjoyment, confining himself closely to the farm only about eight months in the year. How does he do it? He has selected other leading produce no doubt he would have succeeded with his methods. He does it by his work, not forgetting to thoroughly carry out in practice what he plans with his head. Of course, he keeps some stock. This he keeps in the best condition, and allows a bit of the liquid of solid droppings to go to waste. He has a watertight stable door and freely uses his wheat straw as an absorbent, thus getting it back on the land with all its virtues. How does he handle this manure? He spreads it all over his barnyard, straw and all, using his plaster freely. But his barnyard is covered. Not a drop of rain or a flake of snow touches his manure. It is trampled by his stock, as it is in the Cornell University barnyard, which also covers a bit of the manure, so it tells. He is equally and intensely saving in all other directions, in the matter of saving and applying manure. But this is not all. He grows clover and plows it under to enrich the soil. Feeding it to stock adds nothing to its manurial value but lessens it by its amount which he is saving to use on his farm. He does not want to spend his energies in caring for stock, he applies the clover as nature furnishes it. He keeps every spot of ground shaded, producing crop and absorbing nitrogen from the atmosphere. By this perpetual cropping and returning the crop he enriches the soil instead of impoverishing it, so that whatever crops he produces for market are paying ones. He runs a small fruit orchard and a family garden and he runs them instead of letting them run him. He is intense and thorough in everything he does—has a purpose in farming and carries it out to the best of his ability—and he makes money and takes comfort.

High Breed of Horses. The horsebreeder very pertinently says that the class of horses really all bred in this country are naturally disposed of, are, as might naturally be supposed, in least demand either in America or abroad. Practically nobody really wants them at any price, and consequently it is no wonder they bring so little. Before electricity took the place of the cheaper grades of horses for propelling the cars, the class of horses used for that purpose brought prices rather more remunerative than beef cattle, sheep or any other kind of stock that were raised on the farms or ranches where they were produced. There are no indications at the present time of any future demands that will again make raising the class of horses profitable. It has, however, been noticeable ever since the downward tendency in prices began, that there has been no real fall-off in the price of large, fine-looking horses with plenty of style and action, or of extremely fast trotters and pacers with the right characteristics to make successful campaigners and money-winners in races. If these types have not depreciated in value, at least to any appreciable extent, along with the general decline, and if the price of the better class of horses is below the actual demand, as is certainly the case, it is very evident that when business improves, which it is certain to do at a very distant date, as that which causes business depression tends in time to regulate itself, the demand for both of these types will be far greater than the supply.

Live Stock Notes. Several years of good work may readily be thrown away by the use of a poor boar, even with one or two litters of pigs.

Don't turn o-g-s into any field under a hot sun unless there is something there for them to eat. If you do you will lose the benefit of the grain you are feeding them in the stable.

It is as dangerous to give poultry unwholesome foods as it is for people to partake of them. Many mysterious diseases in the poultry yard could be traced to the food supply. When the idea predominates that anything is good enough for poultry, the owner of such a flock is soon heard to say he is "having awful bad luck."

No animal suffers more from neglect of something to drink than does the hog. The slop and milk which are commonly given to pigs confined in the pen are not good substitutes for water. Try the pigs at least once a day with clear fresh water, and you will be surprised to find how much they will drink of it.

Modern linseed meal may be fed in liberal amounts to horses, but how liberally, experience has not taught us. The old-time linseed meal was richer in oil and had, as all horsemen know, a tendency to fatten, but does not make what is known as "soft." There is too much fat among the muscles and on parts where it accumulates in bunches to admit of a hard and enduring muscle. Modern linseed meal, especially the new process meal, contains much less fat than formerly, thanks to modern machinery. We are finding it daily and do not hesitate to make it a third of the ration. Other than above mentioned linseed meal has no deleterious effects except in its action on the kidneys. It is quite nutritious and if a dozen pounds were fed daily it would put more work on the kidneys than ordinary foods. Half of this ration in connection with timothy would be harmless in this direction.
