Could someone please tell me who has started this 'let's hate r.w. club' because if it is the person I know, I think we should start a national campaign. (just kidding!)

One day, Several teams entered a contest. Each group was to shout as loud as possible; the loudest would be declared the winner. The group called "Words" did very well, but lost out to the "Actions". This just shows that actions speak louder than words.

The Mad Punster

Gabriel;

Beware of the Seven Seal for the lamb is slain and the book of life opens before me. You're fate and fortunes are in my visions, so heed what I say and you will see what will be. The passage of ages, the lies and outrages, souls crying for the devil. Lucifer smiles looks on and awaits for time waits for no man. The real God is coming.

FALLEN ANGEL

J.R. how do you feel about the letters A.A.A.

Notice

There are still quite a few lost and found items at the security office. These can be picked up anytime in the Utility Building.

Correction

In regards to the article Life in Residence page 12 of the March 23rd issue of "The Gem", we apologize for some editing errors.

Kirk "The Animal" Steele and his other team members Kim "I Don't Really Want to Bowl Today" Arsenault and Pat "South Paw" Cash came out on top in the St. Patrick's Day Bowling Tournament. Also Patricia "Shape" Higginbotham should have been named Patricia "Spare" Higginbotham.
