

HOUSEKEEPING

Deck your house from inward out,
Let there be an inward shrine
Where to praise with gifts devout
Love both human and divine.

After that, the holiest room
Heap with choicest things that grow;
Spare not gold nor silver show
Ambergris, nor forest bloom.

Man's wrought marvels daintiest,
Colored canvass, chiseled stones,
Comforts, few, but all that's best,
Each that special beauty owns.

Then as worldly station calls
All your home in order set,
Nor through hasty pride forget
Chambers still outrank the halls.

After, if you more can spend,
Neatly decorate the shell
Next your crumbling fences mend,
Lay your road-beds deep and well—

But beware lest these beguile,
Care on outward things to waste,
Save in heartcell fair and chaste
Where does fortune really smile?

A Chapter of Stings.

The pain caused by the sting of a plant or insect is the result of a certain amount of acid poison injected into the blood. The first thing to be done is to press the tube of a small key firmly on the wound, moving the key from side to side to facilitate the expulsion of the sting and its accompanying poison. The sting, if left in the wound, should be carefully extracted, otherwise it greatly increases the irritation. The poison of stings being acid, common sense points to the alkalies as the proper means of cure. Among the most easily procured remedies may be mentioned soft soap, liquor of ammonia (spirits of harts' horn), smelling salts, washing soda, quick lime made into paste with water, lime water, the juice of an onion, tobacco juice, chewed tobacco, bruised dock leaves, tomato juice, wood ashes, tobacco ash and carbonate of soda. If the sting be severe rest and coolness should be added to the other remedies, more especially in the case of nervous subjects. Nothing is so apt to make the poison active as heat, and nothing favors its activity less than cold. Let the body be kept cool and at rest and the activity of the poison will be reduced to a minimum. Any active exertion whereby the circulation is quickened will increase both pain and swelling. If the swelling be severe the part may be rubbed with sweet oil or a drop of laudanum. Stings in the eye, ear, mouth or throat sometimes lead to serious consequences; in such cases medical advice should always be sought for as soon as possible.—N. Y. Graphic.

Houses Twelve Stories High.

In the West End of London, in a neighborhood known as St. Ann's Gate, a banker named Hankey has built some enormous "mansions" overlooking St. James Park, and not far from the metropolitan railway station of that name. The houses are the highest in England—twelve stories—perhaps the highest in the world. They are let by flats upon a new associated principle; and Mr. Hankey has chosen for his own apartment the highest story, where he commands the purest air, with views of the park, Surrey Hill and northern heights. The suites of apartments are so eagerly sought after by those who wish to avoid the cares of house-keeping that Mr. Hankey is building a second block of houses twelve stories high. The tenants are chiefly bachelors, who occupy a bed-room and sitting room; there are also suites of 10 rooms. Elevators, of course, travel to each story and electric bells and speaking tubes are in every room. There is a "wine cellar" for each tenant; the male servants are in liveries; the females wear a neat and uniform dress; and one quarterly payment covers the expense of servants, taxes, gas, water, and indeed every item of house-keeping even down to the insurance of furniture.

FRENCH BREAD.—As a rule the French bread is always sweet and good, and two things contribute in a great degree to this—the manner and form of baking. They never make a thick loaf; no matter what size or shape, it is always thin and more than two-thirds crust. They bake their bread till it is perfectly cooked. The loaves being so thin, the heat strikes through them very soon after they are placed in the oven; hence all the fermentation is stopped, while in the case of large loaves fermentation continues to go on after the bread has been in the oven for some time, and of course much of its sweetness is lost. Then, baking so long, and having so much crust, there is a peculiar sweetness given which can be obtained in no other way.

Dakota has bagged 15,000,000 bushels of wheat this season. It seems as if she was born only yesterday.

CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTERS.

The Greatest Medical Discovery since the Creation of Man, or since the Commencement of the Christian Era.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTERS are acknowledged by all who have used them, to act quicker than any other plaster they ever before tried, and that one of these plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different: the instant one is applied the patient will feel its effect.

Physicians in all ages have thoroughly tested and well know the effect of Capsicum; and it has always been more or less used as a medical agent for an outward application; but it is only of very recent date that its advantages in a porous plaster have been discovered. Being, however, convinced of the wonderful cures effected by DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTERS, and their superiority over all other plasters, they now actually prescribe them, in their practice, for such diseases as rheumatism, pain in the side and back, and all such cases as have required the use of plasters or liniment. After you have tried other plasters and liniments, and they have failed, and you want a certain cure, ask your druggist for DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTER. You can hardly believe your own convictions of its wonderful effects. Although powerful and quick in its action, you can rely on its safety for the most delicate person to wear, as it is free from lead and other poisonous material commonly used in the manufacture of ordinary plasters. One trial is a sufficient guarantee of its merits, and one plaster will sell hundreds to your friends.

Ask your druggist for DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTER, and take no other; or, on receipt of 25 cents for one, $1 for five, or $2 for a dozen, they will be mailed, post paid, to any address in the United States or Canada.
