Addison Anderson, G. Chaplain of P. E. Island, Bro. McEwen, of St. Peter's, and several other visitors. Two candidates were, initiated, after which a pleasant time was spent in song, speech, recitation and social chat.

HE WAS PLEASED.—An exchange says: Dr. Potts, Toronto, in his late tour in the Maritime Provinces, visited P. E. Island for the first time. At Tryon he held the best week night service he had ever attended. There were 100 buggies and double-seated carriages ranged around the yard, and the place was so crowded that the aisles had to be seated. When the Dr. approached the church he said, "What a sight! I would like some of people from the West to see."

THE HALIFAX.—The steamer Halifax arrived from Boston last evening about 7 o'clock, with a general cargo and a number of passengers. She left on return this afternoon with a miscellaneous freight and the following passengers: Mrs. Fisher, Miss Jennie Lee, Philip M. Edwards, C. E. Mr. McFatridges contract has some 2,038 square yards of sidewalk—1 part asphalt and 2 parts tar—at 53 cents per square yard; and 238 square yards of drive way, and 35 square yards of street crossing, 4 parts asphalt and 1 part tar, at 64 cents per square yard. The town council prepared the foundation, and laid the curbing. The granite curbing cost f. o. b. at Halifax 60 cents a lineal foot, and the freight and truckage were $1.25 a ton.

ROBBERY.—Last Wednesday night, says the Summerside correspondent of the Guardian, a robbery was committed at Travellers' Rest. Mr. Alexander McInnis lost a fur coat and cap and other articles. Mr. James Wagner and his fishermen also lost some clothing and a small sum of money. The thieves are supposed to have been one of Mr. McInnis' and one of Mr. Wagner's fishermen; for the next morning they and the goods belonging to them were not to be seen. A boat belonging to Mr. John C. McDonald, of this town, is also missing, and it is believed that the same parties took her and sailed for the mainland, as the boat with two occupants was seen in the straits by sailors on a schooner.

A VERY SAD SUICIDE.

Mrs. John Rogers Hangs Herself at Miscouche.

She Had Been Despondent for Some Time Past.

Telephonic advices from Summerside this afternoon convey the sad intelligence that Mrs. John Rogers, of Miscouche, committed suicide at that place last night. It seems that she tied one end of a rope to the post of her bed in one of the rooms upstairs, and fastening the other end around her neck jumped out of the window. Her lifeless body was found about eight o'clock this morning by some of her family.

Mrs. Rogers was about fifty-six years of age, and leaves a husband and family. She had been despondent for some time but no one suspected that she had any intention of committing suicide.

Dr. Jarvis, coroner, enquired into the facts of the case to-day, and decided that an inquest was not necessary.

GUN PRACTICE AT BELLEVUE.

Four detachments from No's. 1 and 2 Co's., G. A., with two 40-pounder R. B. L. guns went over yesterday afternoon for annual gun practice. The day was wet and raw, but the boys in blue made the best of it.

They were pointed out a target range unknown, and were told to pick up the range by trial shots, and after finding range fire four shots to verify it; time not to exceed 12 minutes; 6 rounds allowed for trial shots.

No. 2 Co. reported range found on 3rd shot, and got their four verifying rounds in the right place well within time.

No. 1 Co. were put over time by the guns acting badly on the make-shift platforms.

Col. Montizambert was much pleased with the practical knowledge of their work shown by officers and men. He left today for Halifax where he inspects the bluenose companies.

We hope to see a Dominion Artillery Camp at Bellevue range next year, as no such range is available in Eastern Canada.

Pleuro-Pneumonia in Australian Cattle.

WASHINGTON, October 9.—The department of agriculture has been advised of the dicovery of pleuro-pneumonia in the cattle shipped from Australia to Great Britain. This is an important matter to the United States, inasmuch as Australia promised to become a serious competitor of the European meat and cattle trade. The existence of pleuro-pneumonia in the first shipment of Australian cattle, is for this reason significant.

Everything Short of Force.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—A despatch from Shanghai says the British and American consuls report everything has been done to obtain an enquiry into the outrages upon missionaries at Kuoheng, short of using force. British gunboats are going up the Min river to protect British interests. Another despatch from Shanghai says Admiral Buller has arrived there on board the British despatch boat Alacrity.

THE TWO DAILY SESSIONS.

SIR,—There are few questions upon which there may not be two or more opinions. The question of one or two daily sessions in our schools is one upon which there may be two opinions. It would be needless to say that interest or some advantage, personal or otherwise, often determines what an opinion may be, and that even the best of us may be influenced by some consideration, which, as it suits ourselves, we imagine ought to suit others.

The one daily session has been very cleverly advanced by Mr. James. But it is not quite clear to me that, though it may be of some advantage to those who take lessons in music, drawing, &c., or those who spend their afternoons sailing on our rivers or driving in our parks, it is the best for all our children. If a majority even of our school children, took such lessons, or enjoyed such delightful recreations, there would be some force in the argument, but when it is well known that comparatively few of them do, the argument is worthless.

I would suppose if two sessions were held that the younger children would not be required to attend the afternoon session. The one would be sufficient for them. The older pupils being in the more advanced departments in which there are many branches taught, sometimes too or more divisions, studying the same branches could receive, with the aid of the teachers released from the dismissed classes, more attention than can be bestowed upon them by the teachers of these departments alone.

Our schools are not open during the hot days of summer. It is true that even though they are not in operation until September there are sometimes, as there was last month, some hot days. But the hottest time of those days was from one to two o'clock, the time that would probably be assigned for the dinner time.

The advantages that would arise from the change proposed are many. Two or more may be here stated. There would be a rest for the brain wearied by the almost uninterrupted attention to studies from nine to two. The two short recesses are of little value for mental relaxation. They are two short for this purpose, and, besides, anyone who has carefully observed children in the school playground will see that there is no rest, excepting that afforded by a change of mental work. The mind is, in many cases, even more active than when in the class-room.

Of the older children, they are few, indeed it may be said they are very few, as far as I have been able to ascertain, who bring a luncehon to school. The conditions arising from the close assemblage of so many appear to be unfavorable to such a practice, which would, I believe, be a good one.

I believe that the present one session system is to a large extent responsible for the evident lack of parental control which exists in Charlottetown. Boys assemble in parties after two o'clock and are subjected to the most demoralizing influences of the more vicious amongst them. The vicious ones may be few, but they have now the best opportunity to do their evil work.

I will say nothing about the statement that the teachers are opposed to the suggested change—more than this, that I believe every teacher in Charlottetown would willingly teach for two or even three sessions if it would be for the benefit of their pupils.

That a number of children would not return for the afternoon session is the strongest argument advanced against a change, and requires careful consideration. For such a contingency, provision must be made if the two-session system be adopted.

Let there be a proper plebiscite taken when parents, the more interested parties, can be consulted and not a vote by which the scholar will be the principal factor in the decision. An election for City Councillors will take place in few months.

LETTER FROM OTTAWA.

SIR,—I ask space (lest I may be forgotten by my old friends) to say that the capital has been signally favored with fine weather during the past season, despite Wiggins. It has also increased trade, permanent works and new buildings, additional street-railway, largely increased population (now 49,600) and a most successful exhibition, the revenue of which was upwards of $21,000 from gate and grand stand receipts.

Ottawa is clearly the fourth greatest city in Canada in population, wealth and trade, and is likely to be largely augmented by the annexation of Archville, Mechanicsville and Hintinburg and other suburbs, containing many thousands of people.

A gigantic undertaking by the C. A. R. Co., of which J. R. Booth is the moving spirit, is now being rapidly carried on, whereby fourteen acres of low swamp, in places 25 feet below the level of surrounding lands, is being up built first by means of trestle work, on which cars are run. These cars are loaded by a powerful steam shovel, loading a train of ten cars in about twenty minutes, and when run on the trestle work are unloaded by means of plow, generally in five minutes. Most of the filling required is being taken from the east side of Rideau Canal, which is being graded to the level of the Canal, and will form the road-bed by which all passenger trains will enter the city so soon as the Central Depot is constructed, which building will replace the "military stores" at Sapper's Bridge, close to the Russel and Parliament Buildings. Mr. Booth is commencing the largest locomotive and car works (on the filled ground) known on the continent. Such an undertaking is forced by the general scarcity of freight cars, &c. now in Canada required by the railway companies, in view of the increased and increasing tonnage that has to be moved by rail.

To the few from P. E. Island who reside here it is a matter on which we pride ourselves very much that your cheese industry has made the little green Province famous in the markets of the world, and noteworthy throughout the larger provinces. P. E. Island cheese is becoming a popular word in Ontario, that industry, taken with your Lieutenant-Governor's noted aid and actions, cause some to say and all to think that often the smaller province produces and owns greater benefactors in its Lieutenant-Governors than the larger ones; hence the opinion, now very general, that the transplacement of Lieutenant-Governors will yet be fashionable. Your cheese and dairying industry, and your late Provincial Exhibition must be a source of pride to all resident Islanders, whilst distant friends cordially congratulate.

Among the prize winners in grain and seeds, the old familiar names of Bullman and Pineo are painfully absent, beyond the name of a Fraser, Woolner and Craswell, Rustico, seems to have forgotten her former records in these articles; but the name of Woolner recalls ye olden fairs, always made better by the once familiar name of Chester. Quite a change in the names of prize winners now, and twenty years ago.

Politics are yet, and have been, very quiet since prorogation. We who live here often feel at a loss to know how so much varied and exciting political news reaches some of the Island papers, as it is in your Island papers (EXAMINER excepted) that we first learn of the many startling events, and Cabinet doings and undoings. We almost envy the source of supply, and greatly envy readers who reside a thousand miles from the scene of action, that they can be supplied in advance of our newest papermen here; and we claim we have most advanced newspapermen here who represent the leading papers in England and the United States. Yet we are indebted to the columns of your contemporaries for much political news and ministerial doings re Ottawa happenings, some days (not many thanks to rapid mail service) after the farmers and traders of P. E Island have got it. But what is still worse, much of such startling news never can be got here, even afterwards, whilst the far-away reader has been carefully posted, with matters purporting to be from "our Ottawa correspondent."

In this connection I may say, if Ottawa was searched with an ivory comb, no such correspondent or man, in the calling can be found to answer the charge. Enquiries of special form, together with ardent efforts, have so far failed to find the alleged Ottawa correspondent who figures so prominently at times as a tariff expert, notably in the "Island Farmer" of the 26th Sept. ult. Does this unknown jobber treat the farmers to a special dish of poisonous diet, which was as untrue as it was wholesome, it being both at the same time viewed from any standpoint of fact, past or present. That writer certainly wished to insult those to whom he addressed his tariff information, and no doubt, thought the farmers of P. E. Island were fit patients to operate upon. The article referred to boldly stated that "up to 1878, we had but 17½ per cent tariff, and now it exceeds 31½ per cent." Such a statement is grossly untrue, consequently it is unwholesome diet for all, as well as for P. E. Island farmers, as the duty never reached 17½ per cent. up to 1878 or 1879 on our total imports but the duty did reach 16.10 per cent. on total imports imported for home consumption in 1878-9 and had only increased in 1893-4 to 17.38 per cent., but has for the year 1894-5 decreased even below the figures for 1878-9. Where, now, is Mr. Jabbers 31¼ per cent. duty? The figures I have given are taken from trade and navigation returns, and are correct for the years mentioned. It does not follow that our present tariff (protective in some instances) whilst adding to former duty on certain articles imported, increases the percentage of duty paid on total imports, when millions of dollars have been taken from revenue, on account of the greatly increased free list of to-day, as compared with 1878. In ye old times of enormously taxed teas and sugars, that are now almost free, and a much safer diet or beverage than Mr. Correspond's nauseous dose of tariff figures tha have no foundation. Nor has any of his calculations marked one financial year in the history of Canada since or previous to Confederation, "Correspondent's" mode of mixing matters wont bear the search-light of fact. No doubt the dose administered the Island farmers was calculated for 1878—luty on total imports, home consumption—and for the year 1893-4 he was elastic enough to get his percentage of duty collected from total imports on dutiable goods only, thus losing sight of the free list for 1893-4, which was an error wilfully made to deceive, and one that no known person, having a reputation or standing to lose, would make.
