Russian Military Hit By Deaths in Crash

From AP-Reuters BELGRADE (CP)—The flaming crash of a Russian airplane in Yugoslavia Monday killed Marshal Sergei S. Biryuzov, chief of staff of the Soviet armed forces, and all the 17 or more other persons aboard. Biryuzov, 60, was known as Khrushchev man.

Groping for a landing in rain and fog after a 1,100-mile flight from Moscow, the four-engine Il-28 smashes into a mountain 10 miles south of Belgrade and disintegrated in a fiery explosion.

The marshal, who was also first Soviet deputy minister of defence, was the chief of a Russian delegation assigned to the celebration today of the 20th anniversary of Belgrade's liberation from Nazi occupation in the Second World War.

The delegation included Col. Gen. Vladimir Zidakov, chief of the Soviet Armed Forces Academy, and four army corps commanders in indication of the severe blow to the higher echelons of the Soviet military.

Zidovik Ristic, a guard, said the mountain was shaken by the explosion.

MOTOR ON ROAD "I ran out," Ristic said. "I saw on the road a big plane motor and then I knew it was."

IN MEMORIAM LIVINGSTON — In loving memory of John A. Livingston, who entered into rest October 20th, 1963.

Sadly missed along life's way. Lovingly remembered every day. Ever remembered by his wife Mary and sisters Belle, Jessie and Margaret.
