Night.

Dark shadow 'twixt to-morrow morn and me!—
If but a shad w, my heart shrinks from thee;
If but a heavy gloom on vale and height;
If but a shroud for the sun's sweet light,
Earth like his widow lying love-forgot—
O Night, I love thee not!

If but a passage to the coming day;
If but a waiting for the morning ray;
If but a silence when the solemn hush
Is moved, as if the wings of angels rush
Over the babies with a cradle-song—
O Night, I did thee wrong!

If but a respite from the toil of day;
If but a pause, to ponder on the way;
If but a time to shut the eyelids tight,
Wrestling with evil in a deadly fight;
If but a pillow where white wings descend—
O Night, thou art my friend!

If but a time of promise of the Far;
If but a waiting for the morning star;
If but dreams brightening of a gorgeous morn,
Where life and love and joy are newly born;
If but a yearning for eternal light—
Thou teachest well, O Night!

A Vocation For Women.

SOME REMARKS BY OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES ON A PROPOSED DUAL ARRANGEMFNT.

"Little things mean a great deal in the sick-room. 'Will you have an orange or a fig?' said Dr. James Jackson to a fine little boy, now grown up to goodly stature, and whom I may be fortunate enough to recognize among my audience of to-day. 'A fig,' answered Master Theodore, with alacrity. 'No fever there!' said the good doctor, 'or he would have certainly have said an orange.' Now, it is in just these little un-important, all-important matters that a good nurse is of incalculable aid to the physician. And the growing conviction of the importance of thorough training of young women as nurses is one of the most hopeful signs of medical advancement. So much has been done and is doing that the days of the Sairey Gamps and Betsy Prigs are numbered. What is there in the hour of anguish like the gentle presence, the quiet voice, the thoroughly trained and skilful hand of the woman who was meant by nature and has been taught by careful discipline to render those services which money tries to reward, but only gratitude can repay? I have always felt that this was rather the vocation of women than general medical, and especially surgical, practice. Yet I myself followed a course of lectures given by the younger Mme. Lachapelle in Paris, and if here and there are intrepid woman insists on taking by storm the fortress of medical education, I were that of the citadel of Orleans and she were Joan of Arc returning from the field of victory. I have often wished that disease could be hunted by its professional antagonists in couples—a doctor and a doctor's quick-witted wife making a joint visit and attacking the patient—I mean the patient's malady, of course—with their united capacities. For I am quite sure that there is a natural clairvoyance in a woman which would her as much a superior of a man in some particulars of diagnosis as she certainly is in distinguishing shades of color. Many a suicide would have been prevented if the doctor's wife had visited the victim the day before it happened. She would have seen in the merchant's face his impending bankruptcy while her stupid husband was prescribing for dyspepsia and endorsing his note; she would recognize the lovelorn maiden by an ill-adjusted ribbon—a line in the features—a droop in the attitude, a tone in the voice—which mean nothing to him, and so the brook must be dragged to-morrow. The dual arrangement of which I have spoken is, I suppose, impracticable, but a woman's advice, I suspect, often determines her husband's prescription. Instead of a curtain lecture on his own failings, he gets a clinical lecture—on the puzzling case, it may be, of a neighbour suffering from a complaint known to village nosology as 'a complication of disease,' which her keen eyes see into as much better than his as they would through the eye of a small sized needle. She will find the right end of a case to get hold of, and take the snarls out as she would out of a skein of thread or a ball of worsted which he would speedily have reduced to a hopeless tangle."

If every honorary colonel of a Prussian regiment is to be hooted at when he passes through Paris, there are not many prominent royal personages in Europe who will care to visit that city. Among those who bear the hated distinction are Alexander III. of Russia, Francis Joseph of Austro-Hungary, Humbert of Italy; the Kings of Holland, Belgium, and Roumania; the Prince of Wales and the Dukes of Edinburgh and Connaught; Rudolph, Archduke of Austria, Prince Amadeus of Italy, ex King of Spain, and the Princes Alexander of Hesse and Alexander of Bulgaria. France will have a happy time if she treats all these as she did Alfonso.

Rev. Father Wilds' EXPERIENCE.

The Rev. Z. P. Wilds, well-known city missionary in New York, and brother of the late eminent Judge Wilds, of the Massachusetts Supreme Court, writes as follows:

"78 E. 54th St., New York, May 16, 1882.
MESSRS. J. C. AYER & Co., Gentlemen:
Last winter I was troubled with a most uncomfortable itching humor affecting more especially my limbs, which itched so intolerably at night, and burned so intensely, that I could scarcely bear any clothing over them. I was also a sufferer from a severe catarrh and catarrhal cough; my appetite was poor, and my system a good deal run down. Knowing the value of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, by observation of many other cases, and from personal use in former years, I began taking it for the above-named disorders. My appetite improved almost from the first dose. After a short time the fever and itching were allayed, and all signs of irritation of the skin disappeared. My catarrh and cough were also cured by the same means, and my general health greatly improved, until it is now excellent. I feel a hundred per cent stronger, and I attribute these results to the use of the SARSAPARILLA, which I recommend with all confidence as the best blood medicine ever devised. I took it in small doses three times a day, and used, in all, less than two bottles. I place these facts at your service, hoping their publication may do good.
Yours respectfully, Z. P. WILDS."

The above instance is but one of the many constantly coming to our notice, which prove the perfect adaptability of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA to the cure of all diseases arising from impure or impoverished blood, and a weakened vitality.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

cleanses, enriches, and strengthens the blood, stimulates the action of the stomach and bowels, and thereby enables the system to resist and overcome the attacks of all Scrofulous Diseases, Eruptions of the Skin, Rheumatism, Catarrh, General Debility, and all disorders resulting from poor or corrupted blood and a low state of the system.
