

SPORTING ALL manner of Highland tartan Scotswomen gathered in large number at the Charlotteville Saturday evening, to hold their annual dinner honoring "St. Andrew" the patron saint of Scotland.

Calidonia Club Holds St. Andrew's Banquet

The annual St. Andrew's Kinnon, "The Ladies" were pre-Dinner, held by the Calidonia Club of P.E.I. in the Charlottetown Hotel, Saturday night, drew a large and colorful gathering. The Ladies sported tartan sashes and highland dress. A native of Scotland gave the heather for everyone had been main address, a fascinating account of one of the sadder periods of Scottish history, when the highlanders were cleared from the moors and glens to make way for sheep, grouse and deer. Many had emigrated to Nova Scotia and P.E.I. Gaelic songs by Miss Helen LeJan and Scottish songs by Lloyd Martin completed the excellent program, which was under the chairmanship of Clarence Walker.

Sixth Marriage Is Annulled When First Husband Located

CHATHAM, Ont. (CP)—The sixth marriage of Mrs. Florence Medley, 63, of Chatham, has been annulled by Mr. Justice J. F. Donnelly of the Ontario Supreme Court after it was learned her first husband was still alive and she had never obtained a divorce.

Frederick Medley, 67, who told the court he wanted a divorce after he found out he was "the sixth guy," was awarded their $14,000 house in Chatham, all the furnishings and $4,000 cash he said he gave his wife.

Mr. Justice Donnelly said Mrs. Medley was "fully aware" that her first husband, Thomas Harold Raymond, 64, of Chatham was alive when she went through five former marriages between 1944 and 1959.

Mrs. Medley claimed she could not find her first husband when she sought divorce in 1944. Both Mrs. Medley and Raymond testified they had separated in 1936 after eight years of marriage which produced one child.

WED IN 1944

Mrs. Medley married Alfred Edward Labombard in London, Ont., Nov. 10, 1944. He died 18 days later after a stroke of the heart, she testified.

She then married Hassan Alva Buck of Highland Park, Mich. in 1945. That marriage ended in divorce in Nevada in 1946. Eight days after her divorce she married Harry E. Triem of San Francisco. They were divorced in 1949, she said.

She went through a form of marriage with Arthur C. Wiler of Detroit in 1950 and was divorced again in 1953.

Medley became husband number six in 1959.

Mr. Justice Donnelly said there was no evidence to show that Mrs. Medley received $1,000 from Medley to pay off a lien on her car and he added that he had no jurisdiction over claim of $2,300 which Medley

Hellyer Is Queried On Nuclear Weapons

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Paul Hellyer conceded in the Commons that some member or members of NATO favor the immediate use of nuclear weapons to meet a Soviet attack.

But he declined the request of Gordon Churchill, former Conservative defence minister, to identify them.

Mr. Hellyer said a NATO ministerial meeting will be held soon and that it would not permit to mention the positions of the various members.

Mr. Churchill then asked what position Canada would take to make sure there is no use of nuclear weapons without the concurrence of allies.

External Affairs Minister Paul Martin said this was an improper question.

Mr. Churchill said the subject was of absolute, vital importance to the peace of the world. What steps would the Canadian government take to ensure that no NATO country used tactical or strategic nuclear weapons without the concurrence of the others? he asked.

Mr. Martin said this was a matter for the government to make public at the appropriate time.

Opposition Leader John Diefenbaker said he was surprised by this reply. Didn't Parliament have the right to know the Canadian position?

Mr. Martin said it does have that right. But the government had the responsibility to say when Parliament would be told government policy.

NDP Leader T. C. Douglas asked whether the government would inform Parliament before or after making a commitment.

Mr. Martin said this would depend on circumstances.

What circumstances? asked Mr. Douglas.

That would depend on the situation, Mr. Martin replied. The Opposition gave up the subject at this point.
