"IF YOU PLEASE."—When the great Duke of Wellington was ill, the last thing he took was a little tea. On his servant handing it to him in a saucer, and asking if he would have it, the Duke replied, "Yes, if you please." These were his last words. How much kindness and courtesy is expressed in them! He who had commanded the greatest armies in Europe, and was long accustomed to the tone of authority, did not despise or overlook the small courtesies of life. In all your home talk, remember "if you please."

SPEAKING TO A FRIEND OF HIS FAULTS.—It is one of the severest tests of friendship to tell your friend of his faults. If you are angry with a man, or hate him, it is not hard to go and stab him with words; but so to love a man that you cannot bear to see the stain of sin upon him, and to speak painful truth through loving words—that is friendship. But few have such friends. Our enemies teach us what we are, at the point of the sword.

THE SEVERE WIFE.—A newly-married lady, who was very fond of her husband, notwithstanding his excessive drinking, had gone and laid out ten pounds for a large baboon on purpose to please me. "The dear little man," replied the other. "Well, it is just like him!"

A REASON FOR BEING TOO LATE.—Canning and another gentleman were looking at a picture of the Deluge; the ark was in the middle distance; in the foreground a man was seen struggling with his wife. "I wonder," said the gentleman, "that the elephant did not seek an inside place." "He was too late, my friend," replied Canning; "he was detained packing up his trunk."

An Irishman was speaking of the excellence of a telescope. "Do you see that wee speck on the edge of the hill yonder? That now is my old pig, though hardly to be seen, but when I look at him through my glass it brings him so near that I can plainly hear him grunt."

An Irishman, carrying a heavy bundle on his shoulders, was riding in front of a cart, and was asked why he did not set down his load upon the platform. "Be jabbers" was the reply, "the horses have enough to do to drag me, I'll carry the bundle."

A great punster was asked one evening, in company, to make an extempore pun.—Upon what subject? he inquired.—One of the party answered, "The Queen."—"Oh, sir," he replied, "the Queen is no subject."

"What are you about?" inquired a lunatic of a cook, who was industriously picking the feathers from a fowl.—"Dressing a chicken," answered the cook.—"I should call that undressing," replied the crazy fellow.

A WORD—A LOOK.—How very few of the motives which influence human actions are visible to us! and how many engagements have been dissolved, how many foolish hearts broken, for a word or a look!

Assuming that women will soon undertake to manage everything, one of the fair sex say, "Let us hope that when that is the case they will succeed better than the men have done!"

Said Tom, "since I have been in France I have eaten so much veal that I am ashamed to look a calf in the face."—"I s'pose, sir, then," said a wag, "you shave without a glass?"

A new member arose to make his first speech, and, in his embarrassment, began to scratch his head.—"Well, really," exclaimed a wit, "he has got something in his head, after all."

"Why don't you stand up there like a man?" asked a magistrate of a drunken fellow arranged before him.—"I can stand up well enough, your honor, but I can't make my boots stand up."

It won't do to be so devoted to a tender-hearted wife as to comply with her request when she asks you, "Now tumble over the cradle and break your neck, my dear, won't you?"

"Sam, why don't you talk to your master, and tell him to lay up treasure in heaven?"—"What's the use of layin' up treasure dar? He never see um again."

Thackeray speaks of a place in Ireland where the sense of elegance was so keen that the servants brought up the coals for the parlor grate on a clean plate.

What is the difference between a town and its people?—It is laid out at the beginning of its existence, and they at the end of theirs.

Brown, the other day, while looking at the skeleton of a donkey, made a very natural quotation. "Ah," said he, "we are fearfully and wonderfully made."

The greatest piece of absurdity we have heard of for some time is that of the artist who tried to tickle his pallet.

A ball struck a little boy in the eye last week. Strange to say, the ball immediately came out of his mouth.

If a man could be conscious of all that is said of him in his absence, he would probably become a very modest man indeed.

Beware how you become personal; an insult offered to accident or deformity is rarely forgiven, and never forgotten.

A rascally old bachelor says the most difficult surgical operation in the world is to take the jaw out of a woman.

The richer a man makes his food the poorer he makes his appetite.

TOBACCO FOR LICE ON ANIMALS AND PLANTS.

A correspondent writes to the Country Gentleman on this subject as follows:— MESSRS EDITORS.—In your paper of April 4th, a correspondent writes, "What is the best method of killing lice on calves and cattle, and will the same thing kill fleas on dogs?"

I have found by experience that a strong decoction of tobacco will destroy vermin on either animals or plants. I have used it extensively during many years, for destroying ticks on sheep and lambs; have dipped thousands of them in tobacco water, made by boiling coarse damaged, cheap tobacco, or stems and waste, in water, and have found it an effectual cure for the scab, which disease is caused by the working of an insect or mite in the skin of the sheep. It is a new sovereign remedy for the blue lice on cattle and horses.

Tobacco water will destroy the aphid or plant louse. Gardeners find their greenhouse plants need to be submitted to a deluging of this wash occasionally, to place them in a condition to become fruit trees, if coarse waste tobacco is used, add one pound of coppers to five gallons of the wash. Plug tobacco contains coppers in quantities sufficient to kill any animal, who has not accustomed himself, by slow degrees, to its use.

Almost every tree or plant is infested with an injurious insect, peculiar to itself, which preys upon its substance, and will, if in sufficient numbers, destroy its vitality. The hop, in sections infested with the hop aphid, is frequently either wholly or partially destroyed; when, by one or two thorough applications of tobacco water, by means of a force pump or garden engine, as they commence their work, the whole aphid army may be swept away. When the vine is trained low, upon seven feet stakes and twine, a garden engine is unnecessary, as the wash can be applied as effectually, and with less waste, with a common large hand syringe.

Tobacco smoke will stupify any animal, and, used in a sufficient quantity, has a fatal effect upon all that plug tobacco will destroy. Indeed there seems to be but one animal—the chief of the class mammalia—upon which tobacco, in either shape, does not have an immediate fatal effect. However, if that animal would be otherwise infested with insects, even trichinosis in their nature, in the mouth, tobacco will keep them away. Perhaps that is their case.

If a sheep or calf is covered with a rubber or leathern spread, or thick blanket, and a smoke of tobacco is made under this covering, in half an hour or less every tick and nit will be destroyed. Current worms may be served in the same manner. This is not only an effective remedy against vermin, but a good use for a most obnoxious weed.

If an accurate fit, a stylish cut, and superior workmanship can ensure custom, he flatters himself he shall not be without patronage from the tasteful and discerning. Every trade requires brains, and none more so than that of cutting and making up a garment to fit every variety of the human form; but some people seem to imagine that it requires no judgment to cut a coat than to hew a log,—an erroneous idea, the effects of which are seen in the tasteless and ill-fitting garments we every day behold in the streets. There is no surer reason to prevent us Provincialists from being as elegantly and fashionably dressed as the Americans, and the subscriber will use his best endeavors to reach a "consummation so devoutly to be wished."

New Triumphs of Roger's Medicines.

Run your eye over them and tell your afflicted neighbor about it. PARSBOROUGH, CUMBERLAND Co., June 22, 1863. MESSRS. ROGERS & Co.:

Gentlemen—I hereby certify that about twelve years ago, a small lump began to grow on my breast, at a considerable distance from the nipple, and the size of a small hen's egg, and began to ulcerate, causing great pain, and reducing my body to a mere skeleton, rendering me altogether unable to do my work. I applied to the two resident doctors at Pugwash (where I then resided), both of whom recommended a surgical operation. Feeling reluctant to undergo the suffering of such an operation, I applied to a man who called himself an Herb Doctor. I used his plasters until I became satisfied that they were of no use to me. I then applied to and procured some of your medicine to take inwardly. After a few months trial, I began to get better, and the ulcer on my breast commenced healing so fast that in seven months from the time I commenced using your Ointment and medicine, I was enabled to attend to my ordinary occupation; and now I am happy to say I am hearty and well. I have not hesitation in saying that, under God, I owe my present state of health to your treatment. If this simple statement will be of any service to you, you are at liberty to make it public, as I have no objection to your being so vouched for by those who know how I suffered. I remain your much obliged servant, ANGUS McGILVERIE, Master Shipwright.

WALLACE RIVER, Cumberland Co., May 20, 1863.

Messrs. ROGERS & Co. I feel it a duty I owe to you, and to suffering humanity, to state that your medicine has effected a cure of a very severe case of Cancer in the breast of my wife. The cancer began to appear about five years ago, and continued to grow slowly, and during last January it began to grow very rapidly, with darting pains through it. We concluded to try your medicine, and in a few days it subsided and it began to improve. This was about the first of last February and now I am happy to say that she is entirely cured. After using your medicine a few days the cancer was treated, and it continued to improve until it was cured. You ought certainly to make your medicine known to the public. W. J. ANGEVINE.

Pugwash, June 8, 1863.

Messrs. ROGERS & Co., Dear Sirs—I beg to inform you that your medicine has effected a complete cure of the Tumour or Cancer on my lip. It had existed about one year, and continued to grow worse continually, until I got your salve; which cured it in about six weeks.

I was also troubled with an ulcer on my ear frozen about twenty years ago, and could never get any medicine to heal it. The doctors told me it never could be healed, but your medicine cured the cancer so effectually, that I was induced to try it on my ear, and it cured it in a very short time, and has since continued well. WILLIAM FRASER.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP, FOR CHILDREN TEETHING.

which greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay all pain and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and Relief and Health to your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for over thirty years, and can say, in confidence and truth of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—never has it failed in a single instance, to effect a cure, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medicinal virtues. We speak in this manner "what we do know," after thirty years' experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfillment of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most experienced and skillful nurses in New England, and has been used with never failing success in thousands of cases. It not only relieves the child from pain but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the best and surest remedy in the world, in all cases of Dysentery and Diarrhoea in Children, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudices, nor the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be sure, yes, absolutely sure—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None Genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper.

Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Principal office, No. 48 Dry Street, N. Y. Price, only 35 Cents per Bottle.
