Dampness had penetrated through the wooden cork in the bottle, but when the enclosed paper was dried out the writing thereon, was quite legible. On the paper was the date October 4th, 1935, the names of: M. Rice, J. W. Lavers, A. Allen and J. L. MacDonald and the words "Builders of This."

Halloween was observed in the traditional manner on Saturday night and proved to be one of the quietest on record in Georgetown. No acts of serious vandalism have been reported. From dark to bed time, practically all of the children of the Town and a number of these in the older age bracket, paraded the streets in a variety of comical and gruesome costumes. The majority of the citizens and merchants, were well prepared for their numerous visitors, as the youthful fun-makers called with their ultimatum of "a trick or a treat." No special policemen were employed this Halloween and the Town policeman, Mr. Milfred Jamieson, kept things well under control and in this respect he received the co-operation of the young folk, whom, it seems, have learned that they can thoroughly enjoy themselves in harmless pranks, rather in committing damage to property. The treats, which the citizens now pass out, to the youngsters are no doubt paying

Fish Catches For September

OTTAWA, (CP) — Weight and value of the sea-fish catch during September increased substantially compared with a year ago but failed to offset a drop in the first nine months of the year. The bureau of statistics reported today that the September catch totalled 135,362,000 pounds compared with 94,861,000 a year ago. The initial value rose to $6,640,000 from $4,388,000. The increase over last year was partly due to a strike of British Columbia net fishermen during September last year. In the nine-month period, the catch dropped by one-fifth to 823,697,000 pounds from 1,039,900,000 in a similar period last year.
