Lead, Zinc Deposits Reported In North

EDMONTON, Jan. 4 — (CP) — Extensive test drilling by Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of lead and zinc deposits on the south shore of Great Slave Lake is reported to have given results well up to company expectations.

The deposits are in the Pine Point area, in the Northwest Territories about 500 miles north of Edmonton. Development work started four days ago with a known ore body of 500,000 tons. Purpose of current drilling is to prove up tonnage which would be necessary to justify development of the site.

Pope Planning

Over each bowed head, the 76-year-old Pontiff will recite in Latin: "For the praise of Almighty God and the honor of the Holy Apostolic See receive the red hat, the special badge of a Cardinal's rank. By this you are to understand that you must show yourself fearless, even to shedding of your blood, in making our holy faith respected, in securing peace for Christian people, and in promoting the welfare of the Roman Church. In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost. Amen."

The new Cardinals will never again wear the red hat after this public ceremony. It will appear publicly again after the death of its recipient, to be placed on his catafalque when he lies in state.

St. Peter's Basilica will flash with lights and color when the Cardinals receive their hats. A seeming sea of red, flowing silk will stretch before the Pontiff when the new members of the Sacred College prostrate themselves before him. As in 1946, there will be cheers of "Vivi il Papa" from thousands in the Basilica as, clad in red, the Pope is borne on his portable throne through the central aisle of the world's biggest church to take his place on his cathedral chair.

Honoured On 25th Wedding Anniversary

A large number of friends of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ramsay gathered at their home to extend congratulations on the occasion of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

While Mrs. Nelson Good played the bridal chorus, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ramsay were escorted to the seat of honour by Mrs. Charles Swan.

The chairman, Mr. Gordon Ross, after explaining the purpose of the gathering, called upon Mr. A. M. MacFadyen who read an address and Mr. Henry MacLaren on behalf of the guests presented them with an appropriate gift.

Mr. Ramsay, although completely taken by surprise, in a few well chosen appropriate words, thanked all present for the lovely gift. All then joined in singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows".

A delicious lunch was served by the ladies. The bridal cake was then cut and passed around. The singing of "Auld Lang Syne" brought a very enjoyable evening to a close.

The following is the address. To Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ramsay, Parkdale: It is with great joy and pleasure that we, your friends, have gathered at your home this evening to celebrate with you the twenty-fifth anniversary of your wedding day and to convey to you at this particular time our very sincere regards and felicitations.

Life for each of us is a peculiarly fleeting and fateful state. The eternal tomorrow dawns with each succeeding sunrise, and while yet young we learn to greet new days and new ventures in solitary fashion and be content. But soon the dreams of single bliss leave only the ashes of unfulfilled hopes. Then, somehow, somehow, we meet another, and the whole tenure of life is changed.

Circumstances challenge us to new loyalties and ventures of which we never dreamed, and ere long we find ourselves in a happy and wholesome mood, plighting our faith and troth to each other. All this was yours twenty-five years ago, in addition to the days of your courtship into which we shall not here inquire; though a leaf from some old record might be interesting.

The years that have flown since that auspicious and happy day have been, on the whole, invariably kind to you and have brought you innumerable blessings and joys from the Giver of every perfect gift. You have had your cares and trials but you have come through them all strengthened in character, refined in spirit, and grateful for God's guidance and protection.

Your home at all times extended a most cordial welcome to your guests and a sympathetic and ready response to those in need of encouragement and aid. We all hope, that there may remain to you both many more years of usefulness and of devoted and loyal companionship, and that you may observe many more nuptial anniversaries.

We, therefore, one and all, sincerely wish you many happy returns of this day—the anniversary of your marriage—and hope that continued good health may be granted you both in the days that be ahead.

In conclusion we ask you to accept this gift as a token of the high esteem in which you are held by us, and as a remembrance from us of that happy and unforgettable day, just twenty-five years ago, when you were united in the holy bonds of matrimony and set out together in love, joy, and hope to find for yourselves a home.

Dr. Soper Leaving For New Hampshire

Dr. W. H. Soper (above) who leaves for Portsmouth, N.H. this morning to engage in general practice in that city, was agreeably surprised on Saturday morning when waited upon by the staff of the Charlottetown Hospital and a representative delegation from the Prince Edward Island Hospital.

The design of the assembly, which took place at the Charlottetown Hospital, was to convey in some measure the regret of the staff on hearing of Dr. Soper's departure from the city, and to present him with a memento. Two lovely figurines were given the doctor who gratefully acknowledged the same as well as the kind words with which the gifts were accompanied.

Another presentation was made by the graduate nurses and under-graduates, which was also fittingly acknowledged.

Dr. Soper, who graduated from Dalhousie in 1923, has been in practice in Charlottetown for over twenty-one years, except for six years during the war. During that time he rose to the rank of Colonel and served in several military hospitals, including Newfoundland. The Doctor will be accompanied to Portsmouth by his daughter Patricia and also his daughter Sylvia who is returning to school at Wakefield, Mass. Mrs. Soper will remain in Charlottetown for the present.

Acting Our Part

Out of the mists the creatures crept In aeons of the past When universe and time was young And nature's moulds were cast Which set in motion suns and stars

And myriad stellar lights In sonic orbits outer-space And earth's rotating flights. The decades into centuries pass And they to aeons roll As generations rise and fall Recorded on the scroll Of birth and death, of youth and prime

And its declining age Since Adam met his helpmeet Eve Upon creation's stage Where humans act their various parts Through those creative days Thru entrance wings and exit doors In melodrama plays.

So, here upon the present stage Of Nineteen Fifty Three We find ourselves all acting in Life's mirch and tragedy Of clown and clowns and knaves and kings

And queens of nicety As we in panorama pass — On toward eternity. — Peter A. Rellly

Anti-American Sentiments In Iranian House

TEHRAN, Iran, Jan. 4 — (AP) — Anti-American sentiments were shouted today in an angry session of the Majlis, lower House of Parliament, which broke up in a row over a new election law.

The uproar started when 15 deputies, most of them former enthusiastic supporters of Premier Mohammed Mossadegh, presented a bill which would nullify the new election law. Mossadegh intends to decree within a week.

These deputies contend the new law would paralyze the present Parliament by increasing the number of seats, thus raising the quorum, and by altering constituencies, leaving some present members without seats.

Mossadegh followers disclaimed any intent to cripple the current Parliament. When a vote was called the Mossadegh men walked out, and not enough deputies remained to constitute a quorum.

Spectators joined in the shouting and hubbub touched off when one deputy, Shamseddin Sahabnabadi, cried out that "The Government wants to make a deal with the Americans."

Canadian Radio Announcer Takes Life At Miami

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 4 — (AP) — A Canadian radio announcer plunged to his death early Saturday from the roof of the 16-story Everglades Hotel in downtown Miami.

Detective Neal Costan identified him as Noel Robert Harvie, about 30, of Montreal, who broadcast as Bob Harvie.

In Montreal, C. W. McGibbon, director of station relations for station CJAD, told the Miami Daily News by telephone that Harvie was "one of the best disc jockeys in all Canada."

McGibbon said Harvie had a wife, Monique, 19, in Montreal, and a baby girl, Michele, born last August.

McGibbon told the newspaper that Harvie left his job at CJAD about six weeks ago "because of a combination of circumstances."

Harvie apparently went to New York after quitting the Montreal station.

Costan said he found a picture postcard of St. Patrick's Cathedral of Fifth Avenue in New York in Harvie's pocket. It was not addressed, but in the space reserved for the message it said: "Monique, tell Michele in U. S. on their Thanksgiving Day I lit a candle for her in St. Patrick's, Charlie Christmas."

Costan said Harvie apparently arrived in Miami two days before Christmas, for he registered at a hotel that day.

He moved out a week later, owing a bill, the police said.

Costan added that there was only 68 cents in cash on the body. In a crumpled pack were six cigarettes.
