THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JULY 9, 1894.

THE BAD BUTTER MATTER.

THE Patriot says that THE EXAMINER is "unjust" and "spiteful." The use by the Patriot of these uncourteous epithets augurs that its case is rank. THE EXAMINER, as in duty bound, commented in moderate language upon that part of the report of the Grand Jury which set forth that the butter supplied to the Hospital for the Insane was found to be "inferior in quality and unfit to be used by the inmates." We are told by the Patriot that "the whole point of the attack in THE EXAMINER seems to be the fact that the bad butter in question was supplied 'by a son of one of the most prominent members of the government." Those who read THE EXAMINER know that this statement is simply untrue. We attacked first the supply of bad food to patients, bereft of their reason, under the care of the Government, and in the second place the importation of butter for our public institutions instead of its purchase from our farmers. Neither of these facts are denied by the Patriot. Yet the influence of Party upon the Patriot is so strong that it dare not espouse the cause of the lunatics and the farmers, and must perforce misrepresent THE EXAMINER and public opinion in respect to it. The Patriot enlarges upon the fact that the bad butter has been withdrawn. As if credit were due for withdrawing from the Asylum food unfit for use,—after the Grand Jury of the County had publicly reported against it!

BINDER TWINE.

IT will be remembered that one of the chief attacks made by the grits against the Government has been its protection of 12½ per cent. to the binding twine industry. The Consumers Cordage Company has been held up as a bad concern enabled by the Government to fleece the farmers. Mr. Mowat, too, has lately been manufacturing binding twine by prison labor at the Central Prison, Toronto. The whole question of the manufacture of this article in the Central Prison was investigated by the Ontario Public Accounts Committee during the past session. The evidence brought before that committee goes to show that the Consumers Cordage Company undersells the Liberal Central Prison Binding Twine Facetory—that is to say, that this iniquitous combine pays honest men fair wages, erects buildings, pays interest on capital invested, makes a fair profit on its goods, and yet produces them cheaper and sells them at a lower rate than can the prison labor institution of Sir Oliver Mowat, which pays no interest on the money it costs, has its machinery and factory furnished at the public expense, and gives no honest laborer an opportunity to provide for his family. It is a good thing for the binding twine manufacturers that Sir Oliver Mowatt started his Toronto Prison Factory.

SUMMER SCHOOL OF SCIENCE

The Excursion to Rustico.

A GOOD TIME AT THE SEASIDE.

About forty of the members of the Summer School of Science made an excursion to Rustico and the Seaside Hotel on Saturday. The procession was led by Mr. Newson himself with the spanking span of pretty blacks used to convey passengers to and from the hotel. Other members of the school were furnished with horses and carriages from Worth's livery stable. Of course there were some good natured attempts to "get ahead" and "be first at the hotel." But the race was not in this case to the swift. Nor did he who managed to "get ahead," "come in first." Indeed the beauties of the country and admiration of our broad landscapes so occupied the attention of the visitors, there were so many "specimens" to be examined, and so many seductive byroads to be explored, that the order of the procession was frequently broken, and it happened, as in many a keener race, that the "first was last." All enjoyed the drive, and fortunately arrived just in time to get out of the rain—which the more knowing ones persisted in saying would "be sure to keep off till to morrow." The hotel and veranda in front of it proved to be a very plesant place of shelter. It is the great privilege of educated people to be able to make the best of circumstances. So if the members of the Summer School of Science could not enjoy the opportunity to explore Robinson's Island in search of botanical rarities, they were able to pass a highly enjoyable day comparing notes and conversing upon congenial topics. It happened that while the rain was heaviest the party were quietly discussing the excellent repast provided by the host and hostess of the Seaside. This favorite summer resort, closed last year, on account of a domestic affliction, has been re-opened this year under auspicious circumstances. It has been repaired and improved in some respects; and will be under the management, this year, of Mrs. Newson and Mr. Fred. Newson, both long and favorably known to the holiday enjoying public. Several visitors are already at the hotel and the season has had a favorable beginning in the entertainment of a body so well worthy of distinguished consideration as the Summer School of Science. Justice having been done to the good things provided at the Hotel, excellent speeches were delivered by Dr. Hall, Mr. Bain, Dr. Dorsey and others. The two former responded to the toast, "Our Country." Dr. Hall speaking for Canada at large, and Mr. Bain in defence of Prince Edward Island as a field for scientific investigation. Remarks were also made by Mr. Cameron, of Yarmouth, Mr. Brittain, of Fredericton, Mr. Seaman, Mr. Oulton, Mr. Lund, Mr. Watson, Mr. Cotton, Mr. Newson, as well as by several of the ladies, and the President, Professor Andrews, of Sackville University. Mr. Raymond Archibald gave a violin solo, a song improvised for the occasion was sung in chorus; and, altogether, the time passed away so pleasantly that regret on account of the rain was lost in pure enjoyment. After the repast, the rain having stopped, most of the party set out for Charlottetown by another way, while a few of the more enthusiastic botanists, led by Messrs. Bain and Brittain, rowed over to Robinson's Island, and spent an hour in searching for and obtaining some of the uncommon plants which flourish there. Returning to the hotel, these latter had tea before they started, and yet were the first to arrive in Charlottetown. Those in advance lingered so long in contemplation of the beauties of land and sea that their friends in Charlottetown began to feel anxious concerning them. But "all's well that ends well." The mant'e of night had fallen upon the searchers after scientific truth long before their return; and we shall not presume to enlighten the curious as to the various incidents of the eventful drive from the seaside to this city.

The sermon to the school was preached last evening in Zion Presbyterian Church by the President, Prof. Andrews, who chose for his text Matthew 5-5: "The meek shall inherit the earth." The discourse was interesting and instructive. Meekness was the distinctive characteristic of the successful student of science. Laying aside his own pride of intellect and by patient investigation learning from the unsightly rock and tiny flower was the road to success in science. The thorough accord between religion and science was clearly shown. The true scientist must be a devout man.

Mrs. Harrison sang a solo in her own beautiful style.

To-night the subject of the round table talk is "Kindergarten Work." The public are cordially invited to visit the school, also to attend and take part in the discussions "round the table."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

THE MILITIA APPOINTMENT.

SIR,—I observe by your Ottawa Correspondence that in reply to a question asked in the House of Commons, the Minister of Militia graciously stated that Prince Edward Island, as a Military District, had been restored—that a Deputy Adjutant-General would be appointed—that a strong effort was being made to have an Islander appointed to the position, but that "the military authorities were opposed." Of course the "military authorities" here referred to in the plural number are none other than that autocrat, Major General Herbert, whose every public act since his appointment has demonstrated his unfitness to hold such a position in Canada. The recent wholesome snub administered to this tyrant by both sides of the House in re his suspension of Adjutant-General Powel, should be an intimation to the ministry that he is an officer who by no means commands respect. Of course, Major-General Herbert has a pet of his own—a man, no doubt, after his own heart—to send down to lord it over those ignorant Islanders who have set at naught all his counsels, and who dared have the temerity to demand the restitution of their Island Province to its time-honored position of being one of the military districts of Canada. We can readily understand what pent-up floods of dire maliciousness rankle in the soul of this modern Nero at being compelled to restore our Province to the status it has always held, and held with honor to itself. I understand that our representatives, irrespective of party, have pressed upon the Minister of Militia the necessity and the justice of appointing one of our duly qualified officers to the position of Deputy Adjutant-General, and at present there seems to be a deadlock between the Cabinet and this military despot. I but voice the sentiments of my fellow-provincialists when I say that if a foreigner be sent down here in preference to one of our own duly qualified and efficient officers, Ottawa shall have made a greater mistake than when she despoiled us of our independence as a military Province. Better, far better, that they had left us tacked on to the apron strings of New Brunswick than to offer us this insult. We want no importation to monopolize this patronage, which has been honestly earned by our own officers, to whom it of rights belongs. They, and they only—not military autocrats at Ottawa—have worked hard to make the military record we possess, and we greatly mistake their temperament if they tamely submit to any such insult. We are true and loyal, but we shall resent any such insult to our manhood, and it will be well for Ottawa to make a note of it, or they shall have trouble on hand.

THE STRATHGARTNEY TEA.

SIR,—The tea party held on Wednesday at Strathgartney, for the purpose of raising funds for a contageous disease ward in connection with the P. E. Island Hospital, was, under the circumstances, a great success. Although the above picnic was held for the especial purpose of conferring a benefit on the poorer classes of the city, and had been advertised for months, the Methodists of Charlottetown pitched upon the self same date to hold their annual picnic. This was, to say the least, very unfortunate, as it kept hundreds away from the Strathgartney picnic, and thus has delayed the erection of the much needed contagious disease ward at the P. E. Island Hospital. Our city evidently needs a little more practical Christianity.

OBSERVER.

OBITUARY.

Died at her father's residence, Crapaud, on Wednesday, the 4th inst., Carrie, beloved daughter of John and Jessie Fall, in the 15th year of her age. Deceased had been sick for several months, and though everything was done to relieve her that medical skill and kind attention could bestow, this gentle sufferer rendered up her soul to God, leaving behind her sorrowing parents, brothers and sisters, as well as a host of friends and acquaintances to mourn their irreparable loss. This lovely girl, so kind and gentle in her disposition, was admired and esteemed by all her numerous friends. Carrie will be missed in the Sabbath School. In the Day School her calmness and dignity of character won the hearts of her schoolmates. She passed through her illness without a murmur, and died trusting in her Saviour.

A very large concourse of people followed the remains to the grave yesterday. "In the midst of life we are in death."

SUPERINTENDENT SABBATH SCHOOL.

Crapaud, July 7, 1894.

Rear Admiral Gherardi has discharged 800 men from the Brooklyn navy yard on account of the exhaustion of the appropriation for new vessels.

Mrs. Jennie Shurter, of Kingston, N. Y., while dressing at the residence of her sister in New York city on Saturday, accidently set fire to her clothing and was burned almost to a crisp before assistance arrived.

More than five hundred persons were taken to the Paris hospitals in the course of last Sunday as a result of sunstroke or injuries received in the vast crowds of people in the streets. Though some of the injuries were serious, no fatalities were recorded.

The time for closing the entries for the races at Georgetown has been extended to Tuesday, July 10. Entries must be addressed to the Secretary at Georgetown.

A Thousand Railway Cars and Other Property Destroyed — Men and Women Killed — A Railway Under Martial Law—Military Forces Strengthened.

CHICAGO, July 9.

Railway officials report the burning of fully 1000 cars, some of them loaded. The loss reaches well up to a million of dollars.

WASHINGTON, July 9.

Major-General Schofield has issued an order directing General Merritt to assume control of the Northern Pacific Railway lines and keep them open as post and military roads.

CHICAGO, July 9.

The police guarding the North-Western freight yards at Sixteenth Street and Ashland Avenue, had a hand to hand fight with rioters last night. They fired revolvers over the heads of the mob, and a young lady, standing on the roof of her house, watching the fight, was killed by a bullet. A boy was shot and one officer hurt by the flying bricks. In an affray between a frenzied mob and the troops and police, at 49th and Loomis Streets, on the Grand Trunk road, the troops fired into the crowd, and twenty-five were wounded. One man has died and six others will likely die.

CHICAGO, July 9.

Reports from points in the southern part of the city, where rioting was going on during the past 48 hours, indicate that everything is quiet. There were upwards of forty fire alarms last night in the Stock Yards district. The railroad yards were effectively protected last night. The military force was strengthened, and this fact, with the salutary effect of yesterday's shooting, restored quiet in a measure.

ALMOST AN ORANGE RIOT.

Trouble in City of Montreal

Stopped By Prompt Intervention of the Police.

MONTREAL, July 9.

Yesterday two hundred Orangemen paraded from the hall to Grace Baptist Church. The end of the procession had hardly turned into Victoria Square before every police patrol wagon in the city with all available reserves were dashing toward the scene of the historic riot of July 12th, 1877, whene Orangeman Hackett was killed. The single policeman on his beat heard the riotous threatenings among the crowd, and Detective Lafontain considered the situation so serious that he at once sent in a general call for police reserves. A great noisy crowd soon filled Victoria Square, but the quick arrival of the police had a quieting effect, and guarded by the police the Orangemen got quietly off the dangerous section of the city.
