The Railway Subsidies Slander.

The Grit orators, who are just now promoting the canvass of their "Independent Candidate," enlarge, at every meeting, on the terrible corruption of Sir John A. McDonald in lavishing his Railway subsidies upwards of $12,000,000 upon Quebec, as the price of the support of the Quebec members to the Canada Pacific Railway Loan.

Now, in point of fact, the only subsidies granted to Quebec were—we quote the Act—

To the Government of the Province of Quebec, in consideration of their having constructed the railway from Quebec to Ottawa, forming a connecting line between the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts via the Intercolonial and Canadian Pacific Railways, and being, as such, a work of National and not merely Provincial utility, a subsidy not exceeding $6,000 per mile for the portion between Quebec and Montreal, 159 miles, not exceeding in the whole $ 954,000

And for the portion between Montreal and Ottawa, 120 miles, $12,000 per mile, not exceeding in the whole 1,440,000 $2,394,000

So that, instead of granting to Quebec upwards of $12,000,000, the amount granted was only a little more than $2,000,000!

But what evidence is there that this very much smaller amount was granted as the price of the Quebec members vote? None at all. The Quebec members are gentlemen. There is hardly a man of them who would not resent as a personal insult and indignity the suggestion that he had sold his vote for a price. Such a bribe would never be thought of by honorable men, and was certainly not exacted by the honorable members representing the Province of Quebec.

It is a well-known fact that the Government of Quebec had demanded an indemnity for the money the Province had expended on the railway now used as a part of the national highway across the Continent, long before the Canada Pacific Railway Company asked a loan from the Dominion Government. The grant did not therefore, proceed from the necessity of the Government to carry the Loan Bill!

It is also a fact—not, perhaps, so well known—that every Conservative member from Quebec had assented to the Loan in caucus, before ever the matter was submitted to Parliament; so that the Quebec members were in honor bound to support the Loan Bill, independently altogether of the claim of their Province to an indemnity for its railway expenditure!

Both the Loan and the Indemnity are justifiable on their own merits.

Without the loan the Syndicate could not have performed their contract; and the Government would have, consequently, failed to carry out their terms with British Columbia. But the Company have obtained the loan, and the great work will be completed next year. The Government hold a mortgage on all the property of the Company as security for the payment of principal and interest; and they are receiving interest at the rate of 5 per cent. for money which they borrowed at from 3 1/2 to 4 per cent!

On the other hand, the indemnity was fairly due the Province of Quebec; because the railway, built by the Government of Quebec, is being used for National purposes!

The Grits are not, therefore, justified in presuming that the subsidy granted to Quebec was the price of the support of the Quebec members to the Canada Pacific Railway Loan; and their statements to this effect are slanderous!!

Editorial Notes.

—The "Independent Grit" isn't making much headway in Belstar.

—Let the Grits follow the Captain who is steering South by North. Liberal Conservatives and all sensible men will place no confidence in him.

—The Montreal Gazette says "the certainty of a substantial improvement in the business of the country during the ensuing year is no longer denied."

—The Eastern Maine State Fair will be held at Maplewood Park, Bangor, on September 9th, 10th, 11th, 12th and 13th. It has been decided by the Association which manages the Exhibition to give $10,000 in premiums and open all competitive departments to the State of Maine and the Maritime Provinces. Arrangements have been made with the Intercolonial and other Railways to bring exhibits of live stock to Bangor at one fare, and return them free. This will allow exhibitors from the Maritime Provinces to get home with stock cheap and also give them a chance to sell. The President of the "Eastern Maine State Association," Hon. J. P. Bess writes to C. C. Gardner, Esq., asking if Island Farmers would get up an exhibit of horses and other stock for the fair. As the State of Maine is the greatest market for our horses the idea forwarding a stock exhibit is a good one, and we think should be considered favorably.

—The Duke of Argyll states very impartially the issue between political parties in England on the question of the extension of the franchise. He writes:—

"I am quite satisfied that the conservative party has accepted the new franchise with entire sincerity, admitting it to be a political necessity. I have had many conversations with conservative peers on the subject, and I am quite certain that they have no desire to contest or oppose this concession of the household franchise in the counties. But they have a great fear of an unfair redistribution bill, and if they were reassured on this matter I believe their opposition would cease. Although I think their fears are much exaggerated, yet I am bound to confess that my own confidence in a fair redistribution of seats depends very much on what I believe and know of Mr. Gladstone's opinions, and it is hardly fair to expect that this confidence should be as much felt and relied upon by his political opponents. On these grounds I still hope that means may be found to give reasonable confidence to all parties as to the principles to be adopted in redistribution, and I must add that I cannot regard the demand for this to be altogether unreasonable or unjust. In your own case you tell me that a large community desires to be separated from the county and erected into a constituency by itself. There will be many similar cases, showing that the value put on the new franchise in many places will very much depend on readjustments of this nature. I must repeat my own conviction that it is wholly unjust to accuse the conservative party of a desire to defeat the franchise—as unjust as it is to accuse the ministry of desiring to deal unjustly with redistribution."

THE CAMPAIGN.

The Murray Harbor Road Meeting.

The meeting at Murray Harbor Road last evening was large and on the whole orderly, the speakers on both sides being fairly well listened to.

The Liberal-Conservative Candidate, Dr. Jenkins, opened in a neat argumentative speech, and was received on coming forward by hearty cheers.

It was followed by the "Independent Grit," Mr. Welsh, in a speech remarkable for nothing but self-laudation.

Drs. McNeill and Robertson, of Montague, Messrs. Neil McLeod, L. H. Davies, D. Ferguson, W. Campbell, A. Martin followed. The strength of the argument as well as the feeling of the meeting was most decidedly in favor of the Liberal-Conservative cause.

We are informed that Mr. Davies did THE EXAMINER the honor of attributing his presence at the meeting to a statement made in this paper, that he had left Belfast after the Mill View meeting, because Mr. Ferguson "floored him every time," and that he was injuring Mr. Welsh's cause. He came to the meeting to show the people that he was not afraid of Mr. Ferguson, or anybody else. We are sorry that THE EXAMINER's estimate of Mr. Davies' efforts on the platform should give him so much annoyance, and we are a little surprised that, if his object in going to Murray Harbor Road was to show he was not afraid of Mr. Ferguson, that he did not advise that gentleman of his courageous disposition. To slip off to Murray Harbor on the sly, after Mr. Welsh had arranged with Mr. Ferguson, that Mr. Davies should not be there, does not afford very good evidence of his courage.

The North River Meeting.

GOOD ORDER AND GOOD SPEECHES.

THE meeting held at Warren's School, North River, last evening, was well attended, and the half-hour speeches on both sides were good. W. B. Barrett, Esq., occupied the chair.

Donald Farquharson, Esq., at whose instance the meeting was called, spoke first, and went through the list of charges the Grits have trumped up against the Government in the hope of securing votes for their "Independent Candidate." In effect he contended that Reciprocity was likely to be obtained by throwing our markets open to the Americans! An ill-informed person would judge from the tenor of his speech that the Dominion Government is responsible for the heavy duties which are imposed upon potatoes, starch, etc., sent into the United States markets; but the audience was too intelligent to be deceived by this clap trap, and at the close of the meeting, Mr. Farquharson had to endure some good-natured "chaffing" about the matter.

Mr. Blake followed, on behalf of Dr. Jenkins, with an able and vigorous speech in defence of the Government and its policy. He disposed of one erroneous idea which the Grits are industriously propagating, by showing that the sale of the Prince Edward was due, not to the National Policy, but to a panic which seized the shareholders on the failure of the Bank of P. E. Island; and that though sold much below her cost, the Prince Edward cleared three per cent on the money invested in her. Mr. Blake spoke so well that both himself and his audience were surprised when his half hour had expired. He was followed by

Mr. McDonald, of East River, who "just dropped in to see what was going on, and was not prepared to say anything," but nevertheless, succeeded in making the strongest attack on the Government that we have yet heard. His blows were however warded off by Angus McLean, Esq., who delivered a powerful and argumentative speech, showing the absurdity of the idea that Mr. Welsh could get Reciprocity for us by passing as an Independent Grit, or that Reciprocity could be obtained by throwing open our markets to the people of the United States, and then begging them for some consideration in return!

Mr. Farquharson made some further remarks, and Alexander McKinnon, Esq. of "Eedale Foundry," closed the speechifying, with a short, practical and convincing address, in which he declared that if it could be shown that Mr. Welsh would, by being elected, be placed in charge of the United States Fiscal Department, he would vote for him, feeling sure that Reciprocity would soon be extended to the Island.

Mr. McKinnon moved a vote of thanks to the chairman, which was seconded by Mr. Farquharson, and carried unanimously. The chairman acknowledged the compliment in suitable terms, and the meeting adjourned.

Grit Patriotic Song.

(From the original—slightly altered.)

In view of the fact that the Grit patriots are busily engaged just now in running down Canada and everything Canadian, in magnifying every failure in business, in crying down the country's credit and in predicting—and apparently praying for—ruin and disaster to fall upon the Dominion, it is suggested that something like the following might be chanted at their buffets during the summer:—

Davies—
Cry down the land on every hand,
And let the whole world hear,
That through the stand of Tory band
Our country's death is near.
Some think they see prosperity:
It's nothing but a sham;
At least we'll try the bankrupt cry,
Down people's throat to cram.

Chorus by the Faithful—
Oh, what a sad, unhappy land
Is Canada to-day,
With rain 'round on every hand,
And famine on the way.
Home and abroad our credit's bad
Cause Tilley is a flyer.
Do what we can we can't improve,
Our fat is in the fire.

Farquharson—
Oh, what a sad, unhappy land
Is Canada to-day,
With rain 'round on every hand,
And famine on the way.
Home and abroad our credit's bad
Cause Tilley is a flyer.
Do what we can we can't improve,
Our fat is in the fire.

Chorus by the Faithful.
Oh, we're going to the mischief, if not past,
Etc., etc., etc.

Beer—
Why every fool knows Tory rule
Has ruined all the grain,
We sow and sow, but 'twill not grow
With sunshine or with rain.
The wheat has rust, the barley's 'bust,'
Corn will not come at all,
The Tory band has o'er the land
Cast down a dreary pall.

Chorus by the Faithful.
Oh, we're going to the mischief, if not past,
Etc., etc., etc.

Welsh—
The land northwest, we once thought best
And grandest 'neath the sky,
Is a barren waste of mud, like paste,
Where men but go to die;
For growth of food the soil's no good,
And ne'er again will boom,
Till that blessed day, for which we pray,
When for Grits John A. makes room.

Chorus by the Faithful—
Oh, we're going to the mischief, if not past,
Etc., etc., etc.

Quartette—Davies, Farquharson, Beer and Welsh—
Our song may hurt the contry,
But who in thunder cares?
Let others cast the wholesome grain,
We Grits will sow the tares.
Let ruin, trouble, bankruptcy,
Destruction, be our shout,
Call any curse, no matter what,
To get the Tories out.

Grand chorus of all the faithful—
Then don't forget the party cry;
Shout and yell, and howl so high,
That people far and people nigh,
May hear of coming evil.

We know the country's sound and strong,
But tell the world, through press and song,
That trade and commerce, crops are wrong,
And going to the devil.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

The Lobster Fishery.

SIR,—As we are approaching the closing of the season, as established by law for lobster fishing in this Province, your correspondent would wish to contribute a few lines regarding this important branch of our fishery and fishing in general, in the hope that the powers that be will see the justice of extending the lobster fishery this year; and to throw out a hint to those who have charge of the Department to institute such measures in our fishery regulations as will prevent the wholesale destruction of fish that is at present going on around our coasts. In the first place, those who have been in the lobster canning business for years are at a loss to know why they have to shut down their factories on the 20th of August. There do not appear to be as many spawn lobsters during the month of August as there are during the month of May and June. My own opinion and the experience of all with whom I have been speaking on the subject, is that the lobsters spawn all the year round. I presume that the majority of those who were instrumental in establishing the period for the prosecuting of this important industry never saw a lobster. The present season has been a poor one for the business, owing to the ice being so late on the coast, and after the first month's work when lobsters were taken in paying quantities, the weather became stormy and continued so until 1st of August, when the weather again became favorable for the business, and according to the natural order of things, will likely continue so during the present month. But just as we poor fishermen have a chance, to use a nautical phrase, of making up the lee way, another difficulty presents itself, and a difficulty that I wish to call the particular attention of the Department of Marine and Fisheries to, that is: the destruction of our fishery by our American neighbors who follow the mackerel seining business on our coast. Their mode of procedure is this: When the seiners see a shoal of fish they into their seine boats and throw their seine around the shoal and purse her up. They then get their vessel alongside and begin baiting the fish on the deck of the vessel. When they discover that the fish are mostly herring, they may get their hundred barrels at a dip. Probably, twenty per cent. of those are mackerel, the remainder are herring. They then pick the mackerel out and dump the herring overboard dead—say, two hundred and forty barrels—and those herring when packed are worth from three to four dollars per barrel. One American captain told the writer this day that he was sure he threw one thousand barrels overboard this season. It does not require much of an adept at figures to compute the loss to our fishery by two or three hundred sail of vessels, assuming the above as a basis.

I am also sorry to add that some of our representatives, both in the Local and Federal Parliament, contribute to the destruction of our fishery in this way. It is not alone of the fish they destroy we have to complain; but the herring they destroy and throw overboard feed the cod, lobster and other fish, and prevent them from taking the hook.

Take it all in all, it is a bad business, and contrary to the dispensation of a wise Providence. Talk about the Fishery Award—it is but a slight remuneration for the value of our fisheries.

Yours, etc., FISHERMAN.

[SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER.]

Fatal Accidents.

MONTREAL, Aug. 7.

The eight year old daughter of Joseph Noble and three others were killed by the fall of a support of a scaffold. Rev. T. D. Either, Rector of St. Bridget's, Montreal, was drowned while bathing at Valleyfield, Quebec.

TORONTO, Aug. 7.

A three year old daughter of Stephen Barnhardt, London, Ont., fell into a barrel of rain water and was drowned.

Peace in China.

LONDON, Aug. 7.

The Times has a despatch from Foo Chow of this date, which says: "High authority here asserts that peace is certain. The American Minister is to arbitrate. A settlement will probably be reached which will be acceptable to both parties; but it is believed the settlement will be temporary only, on the French side. The Chinese know that the French are anxious to act elsewhere."

The Egyptian Commissioner.

LONDON, Aug. 8.

The Earl of Northbrook, first Lord of the Admiralty, who has been appointed to go as High Commissioner to Egypt, is at present somewhat indisposed. He was obliged, yesterday, to leave the Cabinet Council. He will start for Egypt, by way of Brindisi, on August 31st. It is announced that he will be made Knight of the Garter.

Abundance in Manitoba.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 7.

Advices from various western points report exceedingly favorable crop prospects throughout the Province and territories. In Manitoba abundant rain caused a remarkable growth of straw; but grain is now rapidly maturing, the weather being very warm. Harvesting commenced this week.

Diplomatic Relations.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.

Advices from Mexico state that diplomatic relations between Mexico and England, which have been suspended since the fall of the Maximilian Empire, have been resumed.

Lepers Sent Back.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7.

Nineteen lepers were sent back to China to-day on the steamer Oceanic. The city paid the full passage money of the lepers and gave each five dollars over.

The Cholera.

MARSEILLES, Aug. 7.

There were 11 deaths here from cholera to-day. Analysis of the water in use made at Marseilles, at Aix and at Arles show that the water is full of microbes.

Rising of the Nile.

CAIRO, Aug. 7.

The Nile is rising slowly and much anxiety is felt at the safety of the crops.

A Failure.

The progeny of the millions of grasshoppers now dancing on the plains of Nevada may be expected to come eastward in a year or two. A slight scarcity of food in their native home is all that is required to induce them to skip over to the rich grain fields and luxuriant pastures of the Mississippi Valley. At present the enormous appetite of the Plutes is the only known check upon the growth of the hopper crop.
