CRANBERRIES by the pint, quart, peck or bushel, at A. Simpson's.

QUICK PASSAGE.—By telegram to Jas. E. Macdonald, Esq., Cardigan Bridge, we learn that the "Carrie," Sigsworth, master, arrived from Bermuda, to-day, making the round trip in twenty-five days.—Adv.

THE Archbishop of Quebec held Ordinations on the 25th and 28th of last month. Among those raised to the tonsure we see the names of W. H. Grant, for the Diocese of Charlottetown; to Minor Orders, John Corbett, of the same Diocese; and to the sub-deaconate, L. J. McDonald, for the same.

THE Courier du Canada, in a long article on the damage done to the trade and manufactures of the Dominion by the McKenzie Government, concludes thus: "Down with the Government of McKenzie. This is the cry in which every one who loves his country's prosperity will join."

FIRE AT ALBERTON.—Shortly before the Telegraph Office closed last evening, a despatch was received, stating that a fire was raging in Alberton. The despatch did not state the place or the extent of the fire, but the severity of the wind which prevailed all night, causes us to believe that much damage will be done.

FAILURE OF THE NEWFOUNDLAND FISHERY.—Extract from a private letter from Newfoundland, dated Oct. 23, 1877:—"Our fishery is a terrible failure. The prospect was never so bad since I came to Newfoundland. On the Western coast, I am credibly informed, things are in a wretched condition financially. I pity very many of our people this winter. At Grand Bank, where the lobster business is largely prosecuted and the people are forehanded things are better."

MAGDALENE ISLANDS.—Advices from the Magdalen Islands, of the 1st inst., says:—"The mail steamer Albert arrived here from Pictou this morning and returns again this evening. Since the sailing of the last steamer all our vessels have left for ports on the mainland with the products of the season's fishery, which is below the average. The unusually stormy autumn has caused a failure in the fall cod fishery. Fishermen have found it impossible to get out on the fishing grounds with success, for the past two months. There was quite a heavy fall of snow here on the 25th and 26th inst. Schr. "Centre ville" arrived on the 25th inst., 20 days from Halifax, N. S., with a cargo of general merchandise. The French brig, "Zenobie," of Nantes, stranded on Alright Island in December last, has been got afloat, and proceeds to Halifax for repairs and sale. The lobster factories here have been shut down for the season. Our mail steamer makes but one more trip this season, unless the weather should prove very fine and favorable. No wrecks to report to date.

INDIAN OUTRAGES IN LABRADOR.—Quebec, Oct. 29.—Accounts have been received from the Labrador Coast of the seizure by Indians of a Magistrate. It appears that Mr. Francis O'Brien, District Magistrate at Calcotimi, despatched this fall by the Local Government to administer justice there, stopped on his mission at the post near Seven Islands, where he tried and sentenced an Indian for some misdemeanor or other. As he was leaving the temporarily organized Court he was seized by about thirty of the savages, who bound him and dragged him off into the woods. About a week after this occurrence a missionary passing by the spot heard of the affair, and communicated the facts to Mrs. O'Brien by letter to Chicoutimi, where the news created great excitement, many thinking that Mr. O'Brien's capture had been followed by his murder. In the meantime his distracted wife is taking every step possible to ascertain his whereabouts and recover his liberty.

To the Editor of the Daily Examiner:

SIR: The Assessment Act is creating great dissatisfaction in the country. Public meetings are being held in every district, and it is not unlikely that many persons will refuse to pay their taxes until compelled to do so. The Assessors have done their work in a very bungling manner, not only over-rating the values of properties, but also omitting the names of persons liable to assessment, in most cases those of young men. These persons may consider it a very good thing to be overlooked, but I write to call your attention to the fact that at the next revision of electors, in 1878, unless it appears by the copies of the Assessment Rolls furnished the Judge that an elector has paid his taxes, the Judge immediately strikes his name off the roll. "It being the intention of this Act that no name shall appear upon the revised and the certified lists of electors, excepting those who, being legally qualified to vote, have paid their poll tax, and, in case of non-evidence, have paid the taxes upon such property as they claim the right to vote upon." I quote from the Act.

To illustrate: A. B.'s name is now on the List of Electors, but it has not been returned on the Assessment Roll, and not being asked for his taxes, he does not pay them. Revision Court meets next August. Judge Alley has Electoral and Assessment Lists before him. A. B.'s name not being on the latter as having paid his taxes, it is at once struck off the former.

It is to the interest of every elector, who values his vote, to have his taxes paid so as to secure it, and if he is not called upon by the Collector, he should make it his business to go and pay his taxes. I trust that our Liberal-Conservative Committee will attend to this matter, and see that the electors understood it.

A REIGN OF TERROR.

MURDER AND VIOLENCE UNCHECKED IN DARKE COUNTY, OHIO.

DAYTON, Ct. Oct. 25.

The Virginia of Palestine, Darke county, thirty miles from Dayton, is in a wild state of excitement. Daniel Pitman, a leading lawyer of the town, was recently assassinated while riding on the public highway, several respectable women within the last two months have been outraged, and a number of others publicly insulted by an organized gang of outlaws infesting the community, all efforts to detect them proving unavailing.

A HORRID BUTCHERY.

This morning at two o'clock, Wesley Guyer, an old resident of the town, living on the outskirts, was aroused by cries at the door of the house. Some one asked to see him, and he went to the door to find out who it was, and found a large gang of men assembled in front of his house, wearing masks and carrying rifles. Before he could escape a volley was fired, rousing the entire neighborhood.

RIDDLED WITH BALLS.

The assassins scattered at once, and Guyer was found by his neighbors riddled with bullets and dying. Forty balls were counted, most of them passing through his body. Others shattered the doorway of the house.

The entire country is in an uproar of excitement, with the determination to bring the murderous villains to justice. No trace of them has as yet been discovered.

SEVERE STORM ON THE BRITISH AND IRISH COAST.

Late English and Irish papers describe a storm which occurred on the 14th and 15th October and was very destructive to shipping on the coast, as well as attended with considerable loss of life. It was in this storm that Cleopatra's Needle was caught. The N. Y. Herald had predicted the storm and also a storm on or about the 27th, which occurred on the 29th and cabled its weather prophecies. The Scotsman states that on Sunday the 14th, the barometer fell to 28.45. Besides shipping, railroads, cattle, trees, &c., were injured or destroyed. The storm was accompanied with lightning. The Londonderry Journal has the following remarkable statement:—"During the recent storm six cows, the property of Mr. James Davenport, of Clagran, Culladuff, were killed by lightning. The cattle were enclosed in a yard within a few perches of Mr. Davenport's dwelling house, and to his surprise and sorrow he found them all quite dead in the morning, lying in a peculiar manner, on their backs, one of their number being wedged in the same position between the forked trunk of an adjoining tree. The walls which afforded the animals shelter were thrown down in different places, and the ground on each side of it torn into deep trenches about fifteen yards in length. It is remarkable that in this same locality, about nine months ago, a similar calamity occurred—a horse, a cow, and a litter of pigs, the property of one of the inhabitants, having been destroyed by lightning."

LONDON, Nov. 1.

A Russian official despatch says that the number of prisoners captured at Dubrike and Telische was 7,000, including two Pasha's, 300 officers, and an English colonel in the Turkish service.

ERZEBROUM, Nov. 1.

In official circles Mukhtar Pasha's position is considered critical, but not desperate.
