"My mind to me a kingdom is." Your writer has forgotten just who claims the enviable title to such a broad statement, and lacks the energy to go delving through book shelves in an attempt to find the answer. He would, however, be

MISHAP TO FAIRVIEW - A sheared coupling has temporarily disrupted the regular schedule of the ferry Fairview which operates between Charlottetown and Rocky Point. Engineers from the Provincial Department of Public Works were busy repairing the trouble. They continued work on the ferry last night and hope that the boat will be back on its regular run today.

C. F. C. OFFICERS - Mr. Guy Rodd of Brackley, has been re-elected president of the Central Farmers Co-operative, following a recent meeting of the directorate. Other officers, also re-elected, are Malcolm Reeves of Cross Roads as vice-president, and Raymond Macdonald, of Southport as secretary. Campbell MacLean, the new manager of the Super Market, the store run by the organization, is the new treasurer.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER - On Friday evening, July 7, a host of friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roberts, North Tryon, to honor Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Samuel (nee Jean Muirhead), Tryon, recently married. The bride looked charming in a fuchsia, gabsardine suit. The heavily laden baskets were wheeled in by Miss Mildred Dawson and Mrs. Kenneth Dawson. The accompanying verses were read by Mrs. Keith Thomas. The gifts were arranged on the table by Mrs. Marshall Thomas. The groom, on behalf of his bride thanked all for their lovely gifts and invited all to visit them. An address was read from the Institute by Mrs. Keith Chisholm, after which all joined in singing, "For They are Jolly Good Fellows". Lunch was served by the ladies and the remainder of the evening was spent in friendly chat.

willing to give the last of his meager possessions at this present moment, were he able in return to quote the above words as his own. Such is not the case, and so, cramped for time to get this disconcerted, misconstrued bit of playground gossip to the press, your scribe is without a doubt, precariously out on a limb. Looking up at him, however, and not too sympathetically at that, are two other supervisors who have offered their assistance, none too willingly of course, in getting him down. Here is the right support of one - A supervisor's view of playground life.

"The scene is at 9.30 a.m., and with sleepy eyes I turn towards the swings." (Wonder what would make anybody sleepy at that hour of the morning? At any rate he's telling this story). Immediately a group of children yell with glee at the thought that they will soon be at play. As I begin to take out the equipment about ten or more kids roar for the baseball bat, and others swarm for the badminton or croquet sets, which former is the feature attraction on the squares this week, having been just recently purchased for playground use. After trying to distribute these with as little bedlam as possible I pick a few children at random and let them start. Soon everyone is settled at some interest and the daily question and "try and answer" period begins. Some of these questions might be as follows: Who were the winners at the Pet Show at King Square last Thursday night? When are the girls going on their hike? Is there a hike for the boys this week? These and other questions keep me busy for some time. In fact they keep popping up all day. O.K. chum, this is all I can think to write - you're on your own now."

Thank you Rollie Hennessey. But your writer is only half way down off the proverbial limb and may only turn now to another supervisor, Lois Smith, who has just returned to King Square from a girls' hike to Rocky Point. May-be she can help. Let's see. No, it looks like a lost cause. Apparently Lois took the Hillsboro girls out on the hike today instead of her customary King Square and was not too pleased with the outcome. Maybe she is a bit partial to King Square, but here's what she says: "That trip to Rocky Point in a motor launch with Hillsboro girls was not what the doctor might recommend as a suitable health tonic. Now you get out of my sight." Well, it looks like yours truly is on his own from here. Here's some notes. Let's see what we can develop from these.

The Annual Pet Show and Doll Carriage Parade for Hillsboro Square will be held on Friday, July 28th, beginning at 6 o'clock. If your pet happens to be of Scottish descent, then it's not unlikely that he will come prancing up to the judges' stand on Friday evening under his own power, because one or two of our Charlottetown pipers will be on hand to provide some entertainment in the line of "Bonnie Dundee," "Blue Bonnets Over the Border" and other highland favorites. An Irish Setter, a Newfoundland dog, or a Persian cat, might find it difficult to overcome the pride in its nationality, when it hears about the pipes, but the judges will hold no barriers in this regard, so come one, come all, and make Friday night one for your diary of unforgettable happenings.

This morning, Thursday, July 27th, the boys from all squares will go on their weekly excursion to Rocky Point and vicinity. Be on your square at 10.30 A.M. with lunches packed if you desire to go. There will be no time to wait for stragglers after that time, so don't be disappointed if you come late and find yourself with no other alternative than to remain on the square for the rest of the day, and listen to the girls discuss household science or - whatever the girls do discuss when the boys are away.

Here's something new for the playgrounds. The Red Cross Swimming and Water Safety intends to sponsor an outdoor moving picture show on King Square on Tuesday evening, August 1st, beginning at 8.30 o'clock. One of the films will be in technicolor and will portray various swimming and lifesaving methods. The other part of the double feature has not been determined as yet. Since this is a novel venture for both the playgrounds and the Red Cross, we will ask you to bear with those sponsoring the affair in the event of unforeseen difficulties. Barring such things as earthquakes, etc., and without being too optimistic, the show promises to be one of a really worthwhile variety, and one we hope each and every one attending will remember for some time. There will be no admission, -that's right, no admission. You will no doubt remember that fact also for some time.
