

Peace Corps Operations Raise Stir in Washington

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR. WASHINGTON (AP) — When leaders describe the Peace Corps as a free-wheeling organization they aren't talking about the top staffers who bicycle to work each day.

They mean it is flexible, with few labors, no stuffed shirts and an almost unalloyed joy at slaying red tape. Only results count in the tough task of translating a glittering ideal into hard reality.

The success of this informal operation has caused a stir in Washington, where red tape even determines the seating at dinner parties, and many government officials are trying to find out what makes the staff of the Peace Corps tick.

In slightly more than a year, the Peace Corps has made 10 leavers out of many congressmen, won public support and had a smashing success over the board, judging from requests for repeat performances.

Staff members are frequently different from their regular duties. For instance, in an emergency last December, General Counsel Bill DeLoach dropped his law books and took charge of the Peace Corps training camp in Puerto Rico while a news head was recruited.

Arrest Made in $112,000 Theft

NEW YORK (AP) — A construction promoter was arrested Thursday in connection with a $112,000 securities stolen from Sutor Brothers' brokerage firm.

The FBI, which announced the arrest, identified him as Edward W. Sutor, 42, who is known as Edward W. Sutor, Jr. He was taken from his home in Manhattan on Thursday.

The research team decided to head off Sutor's agent in charge of the New York office from May to July. Sutor's agent in charge of the New York office, said Sutor was transferred from New York to Philadelphia 43 shares of stock in International Business Machines, which he had bought.

Specifically, the charge says Sutor transferred from New York to Philadelphia 43 shares of stock in International Business Machines, which he had bought.

Posters said including IBM stock, more than $100,000 worth of securities had been purchased in New York City, Philadelphia and New York. He said Sutor had sold the stock of the amount.

Medical Team in Toronto Adopts Doomed U.S. Family

TORONTO (CP) — Research by a Toronto medical team may save an Appalachian, Virginia family of 10 from the lingering death that has already claimed two of its youngest members.

The family, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mann and their eight children, is threatened by the inheritance of a rare genetic disease (genetic degeneration).

It is the complex chemical tests will be conducted so that extensive medical expenses can start immediately.

The disease can be arrested if caught in time, but there are no suitable research facilities in Virginia. A young St. Gallen, Switzerland, doctor has agreed to trace the route of copper through her body.

Dr. Neumann said the disease may be arrested by daily injections of penicillamine. A single shot costs more than $5.

IT IS STILL DIFFICULT TO GET AGRICULTURE TO BE READY FOR CONTINUING GOOD WEATHER

Monday or Tuesday the humidity was so high that it had not made and the showers on Wednesday eliminated three rather frustrating days at least from the hay makers standpoint.

The Federation of Agriculture office at 117 Queen is sufficiently large for meetings of up to twenty persons and is quite widely used.

The basic purpose of the Federation is, of course, to promote the interest of agriculture and to work towards improvement in agriculture and rural life.

Admittedly even with acceptance of the idea it would probably be a long time before the arrangement about E.C.M.

LEARN ABOUT THE ISLAND FAMOUS PEOPLE OF THE Family

IT'S a long time since I promised Lester O'Donnell that I'd get something further on the violin-playing Chaisson family from Bear River. I can't remember the date of the family picnic six continents at the first Potato Festival held in the Forum, now the Sports Arena.

Peter Simon Chaisson, the father, there were sons Joseph, Emmett, Peter, Bill and Roddie, Peter went the championship and Emmett went the championship.

There were eight boys and four girls in the Chaisson family, but the girls were not musical. Mrs. Peters told me, though she boys used to gather around the kitchen and play at fiddling with pieces of kindling, when they were small.

The NORTH Wiltshire man couldn't recall the price that was paid for milk at that time. He remembered he got three and one-half cents per hundred pounds for hauling it the first year, and five cents the second year.

THE RECENT news stories have brought some unusual reactions. They varied from some of our older people who take the story with a shrug, and tell me that bears were never known in the older days.

Old Cook Book Story Coming OUR WOMEN'S editor, Ann Bond, has just shown me an old cook book brought to her by Edward Brown, Vernon River.
