ELLEN'S DIARY

Farmers Are Preparing To Get On Their Land

An inclement day this, one of damp April-snow, and shower. . . and starless tonight.

"It doesn't seem much like the cropping today" a visitor to Alderlea who must walk up from lane's end, offered with a chuckle.

"But a day like this now, doesn't delay it" James said. "Not that we should want to be on the land" he smiled "too early as it is. But this will help take away the old snow and firm up the fields. Come a few sunny days after this" he said looking out on the farmlands "why, what a change there would be."

"I guess too this late snow is in the nature of the poor man's fertilizer" the other observed.

"That's what the old folks always said of it" James nodded, "through" he twinkled "a sprinkle or two of the other with it, would do the land no harm. . ."

"Did you?" he queried on a thought "clean your stable today?"

"Oh yes, with Sunday coming Wednesday evening. Mrs. Arthur Robinson reported the sending of fresh fruit to Chronic Care. Plans were made for a Founders' Day Dinner, at which time eight of the members will receive Exemplar Degrees.

The program on Mammals, Marine Life and Reptiles was presented by Mrs. Ferno Rogers, Mrs. Robert Body and Mrs. Keith Lapp. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

up, I did — and managed to get the manure hauled back to the field. But there's going to be a day or so shortly when neither sleigh nor tractor will get far from the buildings."

"And that before too long" James agreed soberly. "I was just saying that to the young lad this morning when we were cleaning ours. We've had the best of luck all winter in getting it away to some of the farm fields, but we'll have to be content with land-

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES LANK

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Popular Couple

A pretty wedding was solemnized in the Charlottetown United Baptist Church, on Saturday, March 15, 1958 at 3 o'clock, when Winnifred Dianne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Spurgeon Jenkins, Charlottetown, was united in marriage with Mr. Charles Dunsford Lank, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Lank, West Royalty, Prince Edward Island. Rev. Harold L. Mitton, B.A., B.D., performed the double-ring ceremony. Mr. Royston F. Mungford, A.R.C.O., presided at the organ. Before the ceremony Miss Elizabeth Foster, cousin of the bride, sang "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte; and "Because" during the signing of the register.

A trelis of pale pink roses, centered the altar, flanked by bouquets of pink carnations, with white Paris branches, Allium and philodendron formed border. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was very lovely in a ballerina length gown of white tissue faille — with billowing bouffant skirt, and embroidered nylon tulle bodice. Her head-dress was a pillbox of tulle faille with sequins and pearls — and a shoulder length veil of tulle illusion. She carried a white Bible, entwined in a cascade bouquet of pink delight roses. The groom's gift to the bride was a bracelet with matching earrings. The bridesmaids, Miss Joyce MacCannell, and Miss Charlotte MacEachern, wore identical ballerina-length gowns — princess lines, in coral nylon chiffon crystal-embroidered, with white chiffon banded in petal design — with flower trim. They carried nosegays of white carnations.

The bride's mother chose a lace gown of royal blue, with white accessories, and a corsage of white carnations. The groom's mother wore a light grey suit — with matching accessories. Her corsage was deep pink roses.

The best man was Mr. Charles Carr, and the ushers were Mr. Harold Jenkins, brother of the bride, and Mr. William Lank, brother of the groom.

A reception was held at the Queen Hotel. Miss Carol Thompson attended the guest book. The toast to the bride was proposed by Lt.-Col. D. N. Bell, uncle of the bride, and responded to by the groom.

For motoring through Maine, and the Maritimes, the bride wore a beige box-style suit, topped by a brown borgana jacket with brown and beige accessories. Her corsage was red roses. Mr. and Mrs. Lank will reside in West Royalty. —Photo by Craswell Studio.
