Optimistic Outlook For Lumber Business In Nova Scotia, Is Report

TRURO, N. S., Sept. 22 — (CP) — A building boom in the Maritimes and New England has brought near-full employment to this lumbering area and provided an optimistic outlook for the winter in contrast to conditions last year. National Employment Service officials reported today only 200 men are out of work as compared to 1,000 in April. The jobless figure is considerably less than at this time last year.

7,000 Dwellings Needed
J. E. Dudley, regional supervisor of Central Housing and Mortgage Corporation, said 7,000 new dwellings are needed in the Maritimes, excluding Newfoundland, with 5,000 in Halifax alone.
