Canada's Great Development Pace Said Matched By Atlantic Area

In the key fields of employment, labor income, retail trade and manufacturing shipments the advance in the Atlantic provinces in the past year was within one per cent of either side of the general advance of the nation. A. E. Balloch, Liverpool, N.S., said in Charlottetown, Monday.

Mr. Balloch, president of Bowater's Messey Paper Company '64, was speaker at the noon luncheon of the Atlantic Provinces Economic Council Atlantic Conference '64, held at the Charlottetown Hotel.

"The great pace of development in Canada as a whole is being fully matched in the Atlantic provinces," said Mr. Balloch.

He said one fact emerges to make the whole picture — "There are still too many unemployed."

Nelson Mackenzie, re-elected APEC executive vice-president, told the conference Monday morning that recent developments in the Atlantic provinces had been most encouraging.
