The Morning Guardian

MAY 19, 1892.

A Great Man.

Whatever may be said of Mr. Richard Hunt, we are sure he cannot be accused of over-rating his own ability and influence. According to the Summerside Journal, he took a quiet run up to Ottawa to see about the railway changes, and in a short time he succeeded in setting matters to right, to his own satisfaction, and, of course, to the satisfaction of all concerned.

High Class Music.

The music loving people of Toronto have a rich treat in store. Next week the Philharmonic Society will present the cantata "Callirhoe," by J. F. Bridge, organist of Westminster Abbey. The Toronto Philharmonic Society has been in existence 25 years and during that time has successfully produced a number of works from the leading masters.

Epirote, placed great confidence in the oracles which were delivered from the oak, and in the prophetic properties of doves. The oracle, therefore, of Dodona told them that their calamity was produced by the anger of Bacchus, and that they would not be liberated from their disease till Corosus either sacrificed Callirhoe or some other person who had the courage to die in her stead.

LETTERS TO EDITOR.

Who is Responsible.

To the Editor of the Guardian.

Sir,—Much is being said and done in the interests of the great cause of temperance, but much yet remains to be done in order to drive from our land its greatest curse.

Some good people will tell us that we can go too far in our efforts against this traffic and that we are in danger of becoming extremists. I answer that in this coming extremity, I am not going too far. So long as bodies and souls are being blighted and ruined; so long as wives and children are being beggared and killed; so long as hell is being filled by this business more than by any other, I say it is utterly impossible to become an extremist.

Get the sum total of all misery caused by all other causes and it will not compare with the unspeakable misery caused by the liquor demon alone; but strange to say men are found in the bosoms of our churches who will frown upon an effort to put down this Prince of Devils.

The Church of God should lead the battle against this dreadful foe, but instead she is contented with a position too far to the rear, and while away behind herself, she sometimes finds fault with those who move boldly on against the enemy. Yes, some will tell us there are too many societies springing up in the church and coming out of it, but I ask, who is responsible? Undoubtedly the church herself is responsible for such a state of affairs.

in our congregations were drunkards. And I contend that we do countenance the liquor traffic. Where do we get our Communion wine? You may say that you get it from drug stores; but do not the druggists buy it, in the first place, from wholesale liquor dealers, so that if your Communion wine costs you $5 or $10, you give that amount into the hands of that wholesale liquor dealer, less the commission charged by the druggist.

Now sir there is another phase of the subject which is not one whit more inviting than the other. I contend that the greater part of the stuff which we receive for our communion services is not wine at all, but a corrupt mixture of acids, hear what a clergyman from New York has to say on this subject.

These are stubborn facts, and who can say that such a corruption dignifies the blood of the Son of God. I say, again blasphemous sacrilege.

Now, Mr. Editor, I have already taken up too much space, but I hope through your columns to hear from others on these subjects, and I hope that the day is not distant when the Presbyterian Church in all its courts will say positively no fermented wine will be used within my borders.

Yours for the Master, D. C. MACKAY. Dundas, May 17th, 1892.

The Telephone Co's

P. E. ISLAND. PERSONS using the Telephone would find talking much more satisfactory if they would observe the following Rules:

1st. Speak with your mouth about four inches from the transmitter.

2nd. Speak in a moderate tone of voice, not too loud, and distinctly.

3rd. Place the Telephone so as to cover the Ear, just as if you wished to shut out all other sounds. Do not press too hard on the Ear.

It is possible to talk and be heard when standing back two or three feet from the transmitter, if you shout loud enough, but it is not a pleasant mode of conversation, is entirely unnecessary, and is a useless waste of wind and lungs, besides being very annoying to all within range of your voice.
