NOTES FROM THE ORIENT.

The disagreeable weather prevailing here for the past few weeks has rendered fall work almost impossible. A large amount of work is therefore still undone.

Politics is the order of the day among the intelligent and industrious farmers of which the eastern portion of the Island is composed. We have good reason to believe that the Opposition will make a strong stand on election day, and will show Canada that they have lost none of the energy and perseverance that always marked their battles.

Our school is well attended at present, and under the able management of its teacher, Mr. A. McDonald, we cannot expect anything but marked success.

An enjoyable evening was a few days ago spent at the hospitable home of Mrs. T. S. Robertson, where a bountiful supper was supplied by the hostess. After supper Mr. Robertson was made the happy recipient of a handsome arm-chair, as a token of esteem from his friends, of whom there were a good many present.

The presentation was accompanied by a short address delivered by Mr. D. Campbell. Music and song prevailed and the company tripped the light fantastic to the violin in the hands of Mr. Kennedy.

A bad accident occurred a few days ago. While Mr. Seth McLean, accompanied by two of his friends, Mr. D. Campbell and Miss Jemima Stewart, was driving along the northside road, his horse became unmanageable and had the tric not jumped what might have happened can only be imagined.

ΕΡΟΦΗΝΟΡΟΝ.

DIED.

At his father's residence, Heard's Road, Lot 48, on Nov. 10th, 1900, Daniel Joseph Murray, dearly beloved son of Michael and Ellen Murray, aged 13 years.

Sweetly sleeping is our darling,
Free from sin and pain and woe
Beneath the sod that cover o'er him,
Where silent flowers soon must grow.

On the tomb birds sing most sweetly
Through the long bright summer days;
Where the sunbeams love to linger
And the moonbeams love to play.

It is a fair bright spot, but fairer
Is the form we gently laid
Underneath the sod, unfeeling,
In his cold and silent grave.

Yet we know it was but a casket,
We had hidden from our sight,
Whom our Father crowned with jewels
Gleaming ever pure and bright.
