Business Society Newsletter

The UPEI Business Society is once again into full swing. The 1994-1995 executive is as follows:
 REG TRAINOR, President
 MARCELLE MCKARRIS, Vice President
 CHRIS LEGGE, Treasurer
 DEBRA MCKNIGHT, Secretary
 REBECCA MCQUAID, 4th Year Director
 GREG QUINN, 3rd Year Director
 KAREN MURRY, 2nd Year Director
 ANGELA CAMPBELL, 1st Year Director
 Business students are reminded they can still purchase memberships from our office on the 3rd floor of Kelley. Cost is $10. We will be making a draw from the membership in January. The winner will have one course paid for by the Society.

Any members who have not yet picked up their membership cards may do so at our office. Congratulations to students who won the cash equivalent value of their accounting textbooks at the beginning of the semester. Thanks Ab.

On Sept. 16, we held our annual harbour cruise. In the line of sporting events, many dedicated members participated in softball on Sept. 23 and a golf tournament on Sept. 30. Special thanks go to Kenny MacDougall and Kim Griffin from our sponsor, Labatt Brewery. Softball MVP went to AB Ferris while Mark Hemphill claimed golf tourney champ. On Oct. 16, members got a chance to release their academic frustrations during an exciting afternoon of paintball combat. No casualties were reported.

On the intellectual side of things, the Business Society was pleased to have Jacinta Campbell and Teresa Toombs from the Canada Employment Centre do an informative session on resume writing on Oct. 6. On Oct. 14, Mr. Barry Wambolt from the Royal Bank visited the School of business for a recruitment session. Students who attended and are interested in seeking employment with the Royal bank are reminded to submit resumes and transcripts to the Business Society Office before Friday, Oct. 28.

The Business Society has recently purchased a book entitled The High Impact Interview, an informative guide to job interviews. It can be signed out of our office for up to 48 hours.

Students who visit the 3rd floor of Kelley will notice our newly created "INFOCORNER". It contains a selection of information regarding career choices, corporate brochures, as well as upcoming events.

Students interested in joining the Business Society intramural hockey team may do so by signing up in the lounge or calling the office at 566-0407. It is not necessary to be a Society member.

Quote of the Week:
 "Welcome to our class, Sparky (Ron Colins' dog), we were just about to discuss marketing."
 - Prof. Dave Adams in Accounting 311.
 Second-best quote of the week:
 "Good one Dave"

Home Economics

QUANTITY FOODS "A LOT 'A FOOD?"NOTHING BUT! FOOD FOR 660!

Each year, Home Economic students in FN420 prepare meals for 55 people at 12:00 noon on 12 different Tuesdays - 6 Tuesdays in the first semester and 6 Tuesdays in the second semester. After many hours of menu planning, organizing, ordering and preparation, seven students will "cook up a storm" during six hour labs for our palates' pleasure.

They actually prepare a 4 course meal for 43 seated "guests" at Dalton Hall's dining room. (The leftover food is sold.) It all starts Tuesday, October 25 running until November 29 and from January 10, 1995 to February 14, 1995.

These seven students run Quantity Foods like a business. Meal tickets are sold at the door for $5.50 each or $30.00 for one semester. "Season" tickets are SOLD OUT already!

There will be just a few tickets sold at the door each week at noon on Tuesdays. Meals are served at the Dalton Hall Dining Room at Noon. The first of these will be today, October 25, 1994. So, don't miss it!

DALTON HALL CATERING PRESENTS DOWN HOME AUTUMN

- Heart Warming Cider
 - Stuffed Pork Chops
 - Roasted Parslied Potatoes
 - Carrot and Snow Peas Medley
 - Home-Made Biscuits
 - Pumpkin Squares with cream cheese icing
- Dalton Hall Catering is synonymous with Quantity Foods. With the money the students receive from tickets sold, they budget for food costs, replacement of small equipment and still make a small profit-- like any well-run business ought to do.

Meals are served at noon on Tuesdays. By 11:15 am, the students (as chef, manager, cook assistant, baker, salad chef, head waiter/waitress, and waiter/waitress) all cooperate to get the meal ready on time. They have already spent all morning working at their separate jobs.

It can get pretty hectic. The final meal preparations are coming to a close and if anything is to go wrong, it does so now! A lemon pie won't thicken; the fresh sauce for a meat dish hasn't been started yet; and there are two massive bowls of tomatoes to chop--by hand ("AUGH!!!"). So much to do...but always they pull it off.

In assembly-line style, 43 plates are prepared within 10 minutes so that everyone in the dining hall is seated and served by 12:10. That takes unified effort, real cooperation, and I hear that it's a lot of fun too!

The students rotate the jobs so that each is able to experience the various jobs found in the institutional dietary kitchen. This provides all with invaluable experience and knowledge of how to run the business from the ground up. Many health care settings involve serving 300 meals at a given time, but here at UPEI, serving a total of 55 servings "...will give the students a true picture of what is required to deliver foods in quantity" states Professor Bartlett. This will benefit the students when it's time to go into the Dietetic Internship. This valuable experience will give them a degree of comfort and familiarity when it comes time for them to do the same work in the actual health care facility.

Two thumbs up for the sensational seven students of Quantity Foods at Dalton Hall Catering!!

Yearbook Announcement

Greetings from the staff of the 1995 Yearbook. Just thought we'd drop a line or two and let everyone know what is going on. So far, we're not sure when the 1994 book will be in. As soon as we do, we'll be in touch. We are now on E-mail and if you are unable to track one of us down, just send us a message (yearbook) and we'll get back to you. Also, to any of you who have been here for several years and don't have any memories, drop by 09 Main and pick them up-- we'd love to get rid of them. Our office hours are posted. We want this book to be the best one ever. If you have any ideas we'd love to hear from you.
