Convent of Notre Dame.

ANNUAL DISTRIBUTION OF PRIZES.

The annual mid-summer distribution of the prizes at the Convent Notre Dame, took place on Thursday last. In one of the class rooms the fancy work, plain sewing, knitting, painting, and drawing done by the pupils during the year, were on exhibition. The needlework here exhibited was of the finest kind, and the painting and drawing showed on the part of teacher and pupils, artistic talent of the rarest order. Indeed we have seldom seen at any place such an array of useful and ornamental needlework and paintings, and drawings the most beautiful.

There is one very rare accomplishment which the pupils of the Convent possess in the highest degree. The schools of Charlottetown are to be congratulated for great politeness on the part of the pupils, but no where is this remarkable and distinguishable feature so observable as at the Convent.

His Lordship the Bishop, many of the clergy, and several ladies and gentlemen were present. The programme was most interesting. The vocal and instrumental music was, as it always is at the Convent, the very best, and showed what care and attention the Sisters give to the development of any musical aptitude that comes under their instruction.

In an address read by one of the young ladies, a tender and feeling allusion was made to His Lordship's Silver Jubilee.

At the conclusion of the distribution His Lordship addressed the young ladies in neat, kind and fatherly language, evinced the interest he always took in education, and the desire he always entertained for the development of all that was noble and good in the young.

Lordship as follows:—
