AFTER THE HOLIDAYS—The Prince of Wales College re-opens to-day.

REMEMBER the lecture and musical entertainment in St. Patrick's Hall to-night.

A RARE TREAT is in store for all who come to St. Patrick's Hall to-night. Admission only 15 cents.

JOHN BOYLE O'REILLY.—Hear Mr. Bent's lecture on the life of the patriot and poet, John Boyle O'Reilly.

IMPROVED.—The Dominion Oddfellow has changed its form, being now a neat sixteen page paper and filled with the latest information for the fraternity.

L. O. F.—Regular meeting of Court Avondale this evening. Installation of officers and initiation of candidates. Members are requested to be in their places at 8 o'clock sharp.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION.—At a meeting of clergymen held in the Methodist Church yesterday afternoon, a Ministerial Association was formed of which Rev. J. A. Gordon was elected President, and Rev. W. C. Matthews Secretary.

TO-NIGHT.—A copy of Bunyan's masterpiece (Cook's edition) is presented free to everyone attending J. P. O'Leary's "Progress" reading. The views illustrating this interesting subject are taken principally from life models, and are well worth seeing.

CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS.—The second lecture of the Benevolent Irish Society's course will be given in the Lyceum on Thursday evening next by Rev. Dr. Walker, of Rollo Bay. His subject will be "Christopher Columbus and the Discovery of America." The lecture promises to be exceedingly interesting and instructive.

VICTORIA HOCKEY CLUB.—A meeting was held at the Y. M. C. A. last night, at which the Victoria Hockey Club was organized. The officers are: President, E. J. Hogg; Vice-President, Charles McLean; Secretary-Treasurer, H. B. Wright. The club will play at the rink on Tuesday night. With rival hockey clubs in the town we may now look forward to some interesting match games to enliven the winter season.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.—The different provincial governments are being asked to send a representative, in such provinces where a provincial commissioner has been appointed to meet at Ottawa on the eighteenth inst., for the purpose of considering matters relating to the World's Fair. In the departments of education, agriculture, horticulture and mines, the larger exhibits will come from the provinces, and it is important that the spaces allotted to Canada should be divided up and utilized to the best advantage.

THE BRITISH CONSTITUTION.—M. E. D. Hugga's paper on "The Genius of the British Constitution," read last evening before the Epworth League was very enjoyable. A brief but very complete sketch was given of the development of the constitution of our country and its method of self-government. The paper throughout was greatly appreciated by all present. Prof. West, Arch. McNeill, Jno. Newson and others took part in the interesting discussion that followed.

WATER COMMISSIONER'S ELECTION.—The election to fill the vacancy on the Board of Water Commissioners will be held to-morrow. The poll will open at nine o'clock and close at five. The qualification of electors is the same as for the election of a Mayor. The returning officers were sworn in at eleven o'clock to-day by His Worship Mayor Haviland. They are as follows:—Ward 1, J. J. MacEachern; Ward 2, John S. Macdonald; Ward 3, J. D. Mason; Ward 4, J. H. Higgins; Ward 5, Arthur Foster.

Mr. Thomas Campbell, as will be seen by his card elsewhere in to-day's paper, has retired from the contest.

BURNED TO DEATH.—Mrs. Thomas Tynes (colored) living at Dartmouth, N. S., left her house on Saturday to go to a neighbor's for oil. When she returned fifteen minutes later, she called for the four children she had left upstairs in the house. No reply was received and after going up she was met, on pushing open the room door, with a volume of smoke which so darkened the apartment that she was unable to see anything within for some time. She groped her way through the smoke to the bed. There lay the eldest child, a little girl, who cried aloud when touched. The sun still shining off John, ten months old, as well strapped in his chair as when she left him, but none dead. His little features were horribly distorted, showing the awful experience the infant had encountered. The evidence at the inquest indicated that the mother had permitted the children to play with the fire and that one had lighted a rag at the stove, the flame from which ignited the clothing of the burned child.

HOW IT IS DONE.

Many customers are asking us how we can afford to sell elegant Cheaks, Caps and Ulsters at about half price. Well, this is how it's done.

Our buyer goes right to headquarters to buy. That means a saving. Where some firms buy a dozen we buy a hundred. That's another saving, for we secure prices never quoted to small buyers. Frequently, when coming across a line of goods that just suits us, instead of taking a dozen or a hundred we clear the lot. The fact that hundreds of ladies are waiting for our elegant goods makes this possible. This means that we frequently secure sensational bargains.

AT THE END OF THE SEASON only a few remain. We want an empty Mantle Room to hold our immense new stock. We are not particular about profits; a small loss will soon be covered by the rush for our new goods. We don't want to carry over the goods to another season, so smash go the prices.

We are the largest dealers in Ladies' Mantles on P. E. Island.

Call early and share in the bargains.

A CORRECTION.—The Guardian of this morning publishes a paragraph from the Halifax Chronicle, stating that Dr. Joseph Cremer, son-in-law of Judge Reddin, died in Brooklyn, N. Y., recently. This statement is incorrect. It is Dr. Cremer, Sr., who is dead, and not the son-in-law of Judge Reddin. The facts of the case were given in THE EXAMINER some days ago.

THE MARKETS.—The attendance at the market to-day was not very large. Prices ruled somewhat higher than usual. Eggs brought 20 to 22 cents per dozen. Butter was in moderate supply at 18 cents to 24 cents per lb. Tub butter sold at 20 cents per lb. Chickens brought 40 cents per pair. Hay sold at 55 to 60 cents per 100 lbs. Pork (carcase) was bought at 7 cents per lb, and small at 9 to 12 cents per lb.

SOURIS LIGHTS.—After keeping his lamps in excellent trim for the last nine months, the faithful keeper at Souris concluded that it was about time to close up for the season, and so on Saturday night last no light was visible, either from the tower nor from the spar at the end of the breakwater. These lights are generally kept burning till about the second week in January. This year, on account of the cold weather they have been extinguished a few days earlier than usual.

A despatch to the Colonist reports as follows, concerning one of our fair islanders abroad who had been exercising her talent as an elocutionist at an entertainment recently held at Vancouver: "No. 12 read, 'A recitation by Miss Ellen Victoria Lawson, she is a great elocutionist of the Capital city, and lives next door to the Lieutenant Governor.' Miss Lawson was twice recalled, and to the delight of the audience responded each time. The young lady chose Scotch pieces for a largely Scotch audience, and by the aid of her great talents captured her hearers at the first sentence, and at the conclusion of the number had crept into the heart of her thousand auditors. Victoria's lady elocutionist in rendition is free from rant, irresistibly true to nature, graceful in gesture and charming in manner. A demonstrative acknowledgment of the visiting elocutionist's superior merit lasted several minutes."
