Public Utilities Commission To Hear Licence Applications

Applications filed by Ruth Cairns, Dunstaffnage and D.A. MacCannell, Charlottetown for a licence to carry passengers to Boston will be heard by the Public Utility Commission here on May 8.

An objection has been entered by the Island Motor Transport bus company and both sides must be heard before a decision is handed down.

However, the applicants must also receive permission and obtain licenses from four other sources before they can resume operations of a limousine carrier service to Boston. They operated the service for several years, before discontinuing late last year when the interstate commerce commission registered an objection that the operators were not complying with their regulations.

Licenses must be obtained from New Brunswick, the Interstate Commerce Commission and the states of Maine and Massachusetts before the passenger service to Boston can be resumed, it was stated.

Titov Pleased With Prospect Of U.S. Visit

GANDER, Nfld. (CP)—Russian spaceman Gherman Titov said Sunday he was looking forward to his visit to the United States.

The short, stocky and jovial cosmonaut chatted freely with a small group of airport officials, children and visitors while on a 90-minute refueling stop.

The Ilyushin-18 turbo prop plane carrying Titov, his wife and 15 other Soviet delegates took off for New York at 3:30 p.m. NDT. Titov is to be a guest at an international conference on space research in Washington.

Referring to his 17 orbital flights around the earth last August, Titov said he would like to make another trip. "It's like an infectious disease... but others should be given the chance."

TALKS ARE

However, the discussions were said to have been without friction on this subject, and have consisted more of detailed explanations of the views of each side with an eye to working out accommodations where possible later on as the Common Market progress continues.

Basically, the United States is against the formation by the Common Market countries of tariff barriers that will discriminate against the exports of U.S. and other non-European countries.

Kennedy was said to have pointed out the problems which might face South America if they were shut out of the Common Market completely. He was said to have noted that a number of South American countries rely heavily on their trade with Europe and any diminution of this trade because of a Common Market policy could be harmful to South American economies.

The British government is moving toward joining the Common Market, now composed of France, West Germany, Italy, Luxembourg, Belgium and The Netherlands.

SOME DIFFICULTIES

But Macmillan drew attention to the many difficulties that still remain and will have to be overcome before Britain can achieve membership.

British sources said that Britain could not join the Common Market if it meant doing serious damage to the Commonwealth.

Kennedy's view is that the Common Market tariffs should be lowered as much as possible toward all other countries.

A related question arose in connection with Austria, Switzerland and Sweden, three European neutrals considering association with the Common Market. The Macmillan contention, it is understood, was that these neutrals now friendly to the West, should be given leeway in forming ties with the Common Market so as not to States does not want them to have preferential trade treatment hurting others.

Macmillan also had some specific complaints about U.S. raising of tariffs on carpets and glass, and potentially on bicycles, and on the U.S. requirement that at least 50 per cent of U.S. foreign aid shipments go in U.S. vessels. The U.S. provision, reported unchanged, has been that such steps have been necessary for protection of U.S. industry.

Macmillan and Kennedy ranged over practically all major issues on the world scene. No sensational new undertaking was reported agreed on, nor was any expected in this continuation of frequent meetings between the two.

a month from $46, and increased family income tax exemptions.

Even with all this, he said, 85 per cent of Canadians were paying less income tax than they did in 1956-57 for equal amounts of income.

POINTS TO PROJECTS

He spoke of new railroads to resources in Alberta, Manitoba and Quebec and said $100,000,000 in contracts under the federal - provincial roads to resources program have been approved so far.

A total 1,750 miles of resource roads had been completed out of 4,500 miles envisaged in the plan.

On a national issue, the prime minister defended his government's series of budget deficits and said they wouldn't have occurred if it hadn't been for a big increase in federal grants and payments to the provinces.

The government also had increased old age pensions to $65

U.S. Steel Sales Expected To Slip

CLEVELAND (AP) — Steel users will reduce inventories next month and revert to buying patterns of a year ago, with the result that May shipments will face 10- to 15-per-cent below those of April, Steel magazine predicted Sunday.

Since the labor settlement, users have reversed their buying patterns," the metalworking weekly said. "Instead of ordering far in advance, they're ordering for immediate consumption."

"Steelmakers will book most of a month's business in the month preceding it, then 20 to 30 per cent of the tonnage after the month has started."

The trade magazine said steel users will do more inventory cutting in May than they did this month because most of their April tonnage was in production before they thought of cancelling or deferring it.

NOT WORRIED

Steel companies aren't worried although their order backlog has been reduced by about one-third in the last four weeks, the magazine said.

Steel output this week will be less than the estimated 2,100,000 tons produced last week, the magazine said. The weekly production is 13.7-per-cent below the rate record in the last week of March.

Output in April was approximately 9,400,000 tons, compared with 10,600,000 tons in March, Steel said.

The scrap market has resumed its decline after holding steady for three weeks. Steel's price composite on No. 1 heavy melting grade steelmaking scrap dropped $1 to $30.33 a gross ton last week.

WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE...

between interest calculated on the MINIMUM MONTHLY BALANCE and the MINIMUM QUARTERLY BALANCE?

HERE'S AN EXAMPLE

	3% MINIMUM QUARTERLY BALANCE	4% MINIMUM MONTHLY BALANCE
AUG.	$500	$500
SEPT.	$600	$600
OCT.	$700	$700
INTEREST	$3.75	$6.00

Each account has an August balance of $500. Each added $100 by September 1st and a further $100 by October 1st. One account pays 3% on the minimum quarterly balance. Eastern Trust pays 4% on the minimum monthly balance. 3% on $500 for 3 months is $3.75. Eastern Trust pays 4% on $500 for one month, 4% on $600 for one month and 4% on $700 for one month—a total of $6.00 interest.

That's quite a difference in interest!

NOTE HOW THE METHOD OF CALCULATION AS WELL AS THE HIGHER RATE GETS YOU ALMOST TWICE AS MUCH INTEREST AT EASTERN TRUST.

Remember—Eastern Trust Deposit Accounts pay 4% interest on minimum MONTHLY balances.
