Miscellaneous News.

Over four thousand dollars were pledged some time ago for a monument to General Custer, and now there is a movement to complete the subscription necessary for the work.

The city of Liverpool expends annually three million and a half of dollars in maintaining and extending its docks. This is more than the entire river and harbour appropriation of the United States.

An expedition is about leaving this country to attempt the recovery of treasure lost on the Spanish Main, in 1815, with the Spanish frigate "San Pedro Alcantara." The amount lost was probably about five millions in value, of gold, silver, and jewels.

A new invention is claimed by a San Francisco gentleman. It is a water faucet through which if water is run it comes out as cold as ice water. The faucet contains a number of small tubes inclosed in larger ones, and between the outside of the one and the inside of the other certain chemicals are packed, which produce the desired effect.

Baron von Humboldt is surpassed. That celebrated traveler, in making the ascent of Chimborazo, attained the highest point ever reached by the foot of man. M. Charles Weiner, who is charged with a scientific mission by the French government, has just ascended Mount Fitzmaurice in South America, a height of 20,122 feet, while Chimborazo measures only 18,000 feet. M. Weiner, exercising a right consecrated by custom, has given that point on which he was the first to set foot the name of the Peak of Paris.

The famine in India, which has cost so many lives and so much money, is believed by some who have investigated the subject to be in part due to the British opium policy.
More than a hundred years ago the East India Company began sending opium from Bengal to China. Three vast Provinces were devoted to the cultivation of the poppy instead of food. Circumstances compelled, as it were, the people to cultivate it—they could scarcely be said to have the liberty of refusing—so that with a constantly increasing population, only a noxious drug is raised in provinces where there is a growing frequency of famines.

A correspondent of the New York "Evening Mail," who has recently visited the studio of Bartholdi, in Paris, says that the artist was, at his visit, putting the last touches to the head of the statue designed for the harbor of New York. Bartholdi mentioned incidentally that he should not receive anything for his services on the statue; and he defrays all his own expenses, which are very large in such an undertaking.
He also showed a diorama on a grand scale of the whole Island and harbor of New York, with Brooklyn and Jersey City in view—the upper bay in the foreground, with a miniature copy of the statue on Bedloe's Island—serving as a part of the diorama in the sky—which will be placed on exhibition at the coming Paris Exposition. The whole effect of this diorama, when ready for exhibition, will be very grand and impressive.
