

veying it to the camp; the mortality was certainly not less than 60 a day, while the number daily sent to the hospitals and not expected to resume service during the winter was very much greater; there was a want of guns, of mortars, of shot, of shells, of fuzils of materials to make butts—of everything whatever necessary not merely to offensive or defensive operations, but to mere existence; and the army was disappearing or only sustained by daily reinforcements, not because it was in the face of an enemy, but simply as it would in the heart of a desert, for want of all things by which life is supported. As for the soldiers, poor fellows! they know their own wants, and that is all they can tell. The officers either look death in the face, and resolve to stay on, or escape home on some pretence or other, sickened of a service which refuses fair play to the greatest courage and skill. The medical officers, no ill-judges, were predicting that two thirds of the army would perish before March. Everybody of any energy and sense was sinking, not into apathy or inactivity, but into despair. Meanwhile Lord Raglan had scarcely been seen since the battle of Inkermann. There was a general belief that he did not know the state of things, that he felt himself wholly unequal to amend it, and that he accordingly kept out of sight the ill he could not remove.

Unfortunately for the credit of those in command, but fortunately for truth and the eventual interests of this country, there existed the means of ascertaining how far this frightful disorder was inseparable from the design of the execution, the station of the army, and the climate, and how far it was the result of mismanagement. There was the French army, early twice the number, hard by. Here was all different. The men were still well fed and well-dressed, not the skeletons and scarecrows to which our own countrymen have dwindled; they were well clothed, and retained even some smartness of uniform, while our soldiers were creeping about with haggard round their feet, and in grey-coats that scarce held together; they had a sufficiency of wagons and ambulances with great abundance of mules in good condition; they could send men to make a road for us, having completed a hard road from their own harbour before the bad weather set in. The contrast prevailed throughout every department and was brought home to the British soldier in the most painful manner. Thus it was with something between admiration and disgust that the British army, which had not seen anything more than the anatomy of a horse for many a day, and which was obliged to harness forty to bring up one gun, saw the ambulance mules lent us by the French for the conveyance of our own sick, as well fed and as strong as the day they were landed at Gallipoli. Wherever the British come across the French it is to witness the same mortifying contrast, and it is impossible not to draw the conclusion that the French are an army, and the British are not. In all domestic and civil affairs we pride ourselves on our organization, order, neatness, comfort and abundance of all the materials of health and strength. In the scale of war we are found utterly wanting in these things. It is impossible to check the process of reasoning which refers to the fault of system a difference so marked and so disgraceful. The British soldier cannot but perceive that the Frenchman is commanded by officers who understand their profession, and, what is more, feel a paramount interest in the condition of the common soldier; whereas this cannot be the case in his own army.

No reason can be given, and no excuse will be admitted, against immediately superseding in their commands those who have proved themselves to be incapable of performing the duties to which favour, seniority, or mistake has advanced them. After all, it is no disgrace to a man that he does not possess the genius of a Wellington or even a Hill. But it is a crime in a War Minister to permit an officer to remain for a single day in the nominal discharge of duties the neglect of which has brought a great and victorious army to the verge of ruin.

GREAT INCREASE OF REVENUE.

We are happy to be able to announce that the Revenue of this Colony for the year ending 31st January, 1855, amounts to £16,113 18s. 3d., showing an increase of about £11,000 over that of the previous year. With this large increase, and the almost entire absence of any public debt, the Legislature and Government will have at their disposal the means of developing the industrial resources and stimulating the enterprise of the country to a greater extent than at any previous time.

Wz copied into the Examiner of Monday last a paragraph from the Islander of the previous Friday, purporting to be a communication from a correspondent at Souris, stating that one of the most severe gales ever experienced at that place occurred on the 19th ult., causing considerable loss of property, and that the Schr. "Dancing Feather," laden with grain, had been driven on shore in that gale. We received by last Thursday's mail a letter from an intelligent correspondent at Souris, who assures us that no gale occurred there at the time mentioned—that the "Dancing Feather," Morrow (not Murray) master, sailed for Halifax from Souris, on the 21st ult., laden with 6000 bushels of oats and 1000 bushels of barley by the Hon. D. Beaton. Our correspondent adds, that "such reports about vessels getting on shore, &c., without foundation, may tend to injure parties interested, and the unprincipled persons who circulate them should, if discovered, be severely punished."

MECHANICS' INSTITUTE.—On Tuesday evening last, Heath Haviland, Esq., M. P. P., delivered to a large audience, a Lecture on "Chivalry," showing the objects of its institution, and the effects that it had produced upon the World's History in the early—or, as some designate them—the dark ages. He clearly and satisfactorily proved that the order of chivalry had been organized to check the insolence of overgrown oppressors, to succor the distressed, to rescue the helpless, to protect the weak, especially woman, to redress wrong, and remove grievance; and he concluded his lecture by drawing the attention of the audience to the deeds of valor that had been achieved in the Crimea, in the glorious battles that had been fought in behalf of Liberty, and the preservation of the balance of power in Europe, clearly proving that altho' the order of Chivalry had become obsolete, yet that its spirit still animated the breasts of the heroes in the Allied army. An animated discussion followed.

His Honor the President announced that His Excellency the Lieut. Governor had been pleased to present to the Institute, several volumes of useful information, to be placed in the Library. A vote of thanks was unanimously passed to His Excellency for his kindness and liberality.

On next Tuesday evening the Hon. Charles Young will (D.V.) lecture on "Physiognomy," or, the Lineaments of the "Human Face Divine."—Com.

THE PATRIOTIC FUND.

At a meeting of the inhabitants of Lots No. 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, in King's County, holden at the house of Mr. John Sutherland, at the Head of St. Peter's Bay, on Wednesday, the 17th day of January, 1855, called in compliance with a requisition addressed to the High Sheriff or his Deputy. The under Sheriff called the meeting to order, and stated the object for which the meeting had been called.

The under Sheriff was unanimously requested to take the chair, and the Rev. Henry Crawford to act as Secretary. The Chairman then read the Royal Commission, affording the loving subjects of Queen Victoria an opportunity to testify their loyalty and love to her and to her throne, by a general benevolence towards the widows and orphans of the soldiers, sailors and marines, who have been killed or who may hereafter die amid the ravages and casualties of war.

Mr. John Sutherland moved and Mr. William Sterns seconded the following resolutions.

1. Resolved, That this meeting entertaining sincere sympathy for the widows and orphans of the valiant soldiers who fall in the war with Russia, expresses its willingness to contribute to the patriotic fund intended for their assistance. Passed unanimously.

Moved by the Rev. Henry Crawford, and seconded by Mr. Edward Needham. 2. Resolved, That this meeting expresses its thankfulness to Almighty God, the disposer of all events, for the success which has already attended the arms of the Allies. Passed unanimously.

Moved by Mr. Edward Needham, seconded by Mr. William Sterns. 3. Resolved, That the following persons be appointed as an Executive Committee to solicit subscriptions throughout this section of the Country. Rev. Henry Crawford, Hon. John Jardine, John Benjamin Cox, Esq., Mr. John Sutherland, Mr. Edward Needham, Mr. John Leslie, Mr. William Sterns, Mr. Robert McLintyre, J. W. A. Byrne, Esq., Mr. Benjamin B. Coffin, Mr. Sampson Farquharson, John McDonald, Esq., of Albany, Mr. James McKwen, David's son, Mr. Edward Webster, Mr. Joseph McVarish, Mr. James McKay, Mr. John Steel, Mr. John McIntosh. The Rev. Henry Crawford to be Secretary and Treasurer.

Passed unanimously. Moved by Mr. John Leslie, and seconded by Mr. John Sutherland. 4. Resolved, That this meeting expresses its desire that the Legislature of this Island would grant out of the Colonial Treasury a considerable sum towards the Patriotic Fund. Passed unanimously.

A subscription paper in aid of this fund was opened, and it has been signed as follows:—

Table with 2 columns: Name and Amount. Includes John Sutherland (£2 0 0), Charles Robert (£0 12 0), John Leslie (1 0 0), Edward Needham (1 0 0), William Sterns (0 12 6), Charles Dingwell (1 0 0), Henry Crawford (2 0 0), A Lady, per Henry Crawford (2 0 0), David Anderson (0 10 0), John A. McLain (1 0 0), John Jardine (1 0 0), and a total of £15 10 6.

We observe by Hazard's Gazette that a pretended "Liberal" is really very anxious to know whether the Hon. Mr. Coles and Mr. Reddin, senior, have retired from the Commission of the Peace, in consequence of the sentences lately passed by the Supreme Court. With regard to Mr. Reddin, we have no doubt our inquisitive "Liberal" will get satisfactory information from the Secretary's office. As to Mr. Coles we may observe that he was not a Justice of the Peace when he felt bound to resent an insult offered to him on the public square; nor is he now a Justice of the Peace farther than his office of Executive Councillor qualifies him to exercise the functions of one. He has therefore nothing to resign unless he resigns his position at the head of the Government. But as he has been twice elected since the assault, and has, we presume, paid the fine, we cannot see that anything further is required of him. After all, he did only that which any man of spirit would do—to which even a Judge from the Bench might descend, if provoked by the insulting language offered to Mr. Coles.

ARRIVAL OF THE MAIL.

The courier arrived in town this morning, bringing the English mail bags which were left behind last time, and the United States and Colonial mails. The English papers received contain nothing later than what has been already given from our Halifax exchanges. Another English mail had arrived at Cape Tormentine, but the courier, having with the other mails too heavy a load, was unable to bring it over. It is expected to arrive in town to-morrow.

The following telegraphic despatch we take from the St. John Freeman, of the 27th January:—

By Telegraph to the St. John, N. B., News Room.

ARRIVAL OF THE "PACIFIC."

New York, January 25, 1855. The "Pacific" arrived at New York this morning. The news is important. The eastern question has assumed an entirely new and most important aspect.

The Czar has accepted not only the four points of guarantee, but also the interpretation thereof, as explained by England, France and Austria; but no armistice is granted, consequently hostilities continue without abatement.

Siege of Sebastopol continues without change up to the 21. A terrible inundation had occurred at Hamburg. The Pacific ran into and sunk brig Cochituan in the Mersey. Cargo valued at £20,000. The ship George Canning, from New York, had been lost with, it is supposed, 160 passengers.

MARKETS.—Breadstuffs dull at former quotations. Consols 91½.

SECOND DESPATCH.

A second despatch to the St. John News Room says—It is yet doubtful whether Russia's acceptance of the four points is unconditional or with important explanations. The immediate effect of this new phrase of affairs was the rise of 2 per cent., but they afterwards fell off.

Prussia claims to take part in the negotiations but declines at present to increase her army. The Russians have recrossed the Danube, invaded the Dobrukscha and retaken the cities Juntchesa and Kidach.

LATEST.—Reported invasion of the Dobrukscha by the Russians doubtful. The Liverpool cotton market had fluctuated. All circulars quote ½d. advance.

HOW TO GET RID OF WORMS.—THE SIMPLEST THING IN THE WORLD.

You have only to purchase a bottle of McLane's Celebrated Vermifuge and administer it according to the directions accompanying each vial. It never fails to give immediate relief, and is perfectly safe for young or old. The following testimony, in favor of McLane's Celebrated Vermifuge, was handed us a short time ago—

NEW YORK, November 16, 1852. A friend of mine purchased and administered one bottle of McLane's Celebrated Vermifuge to a child of her's, four years old, which brought away between three hundred and four hundred worms—many of them large. The child is now well, and living in Remington place. For further particulars enquire of Mrs. Gardie, No 3 Manhattan place. P. S.—Dr. McLane's Celebrated Vermifuge, also his Liver Pills, can now be had at all respectable Drug Stores in this city.
