MEETING of Natal Day Committee at 7.30 sharp this evening.

REMEMBER the Gospel meeting in Euston Street Hall to night.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT.—Mr Peter A. McIntyre has the thanks of THE EXAMINER for late Chicago papers.

MOCK PARLIAMENT meets to-night at 8 o'clock. The new Government will be announced, and the woman suffrage debated.

ANDREW USHER'S SCOTCH WHISKIES cannot be equalled for their beautiful flavors and excellent value.

THE STANLEY did not move out to-day on account of the storm. She will leave to-morrow morning at the usual hour.

THE BOSTON STEAMERS Carroll and Worcester will, if the ice permits, begin their regular trips from Charlottetown to Boston on Thursday, May 4.

FOOTBALL.—There will be a meeting of the Junior Abegweits this evening at seven o'clock at Victoria Park. A full attendance is requested.

POLICE COURT.—This forenoon two drunks were disposed of for fines of $3 or 20 days and $1 or 4 days respectively, and a wife beating case was adjourned for 8 days.

BOSTON MARKET.—Eastern choice fresh eggs are quoted in Boston at 17 cents per dozen; P. E. Island Chesnegoes in bulk and bag sell at 80 cents per bushel.

AN interesting subject, a racy instructive lecture, beautiful views. A delightful evening awaits all who attend Rev. D. Sutherland's lecture on Thursday evening.

SNOW STORM.—A terrific wind and snow-storm swept over the west end of the Island on Saturday night and Sunday morning. The roads were completely blocked with snow, the fall being the largest this season.

Y. W. C. T. U.—Meeting to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Subject for discussion, "The Pledge." Appointment of delegates to convention and other important business.

I. O. O. F.—Samuel Watts, Esq., Grand Patriarch, will officially visit Port in Joint Encampment, No. 4, of the city on Saturday evening next. The royal purple degree will be conferred.

LOADING AT SOURIS.—The schr. Mary Joseph, Capt. McCarthy, is about loaded with potatoes. The Seaflower, Capt. Edward Paquet, is also nearly loaded with potatoes for Picton. Several other vessels are being made ready for sea.

THE NORTHERMBERLAND, which left here for Picton at seven o'clock yesterday morning, did not reach Picton until about half-past one in the afternoon. The delay was caused by the accumulation of ice outside Picton. She will likely not leave Picton until to-morrow.

MISSIONARY SERVICES.—Sunday next, 23rd inst., will be Missionary Sunday in the Second Methodist Church. Rev. W. G. Lane, of Picton, will occupy the pulpit in the morning and evening. On Monday evening, Mr. Lane will deliver a lecture in the same church upon a "Trip to Sweden."

CANADIAN BEEF.—On Monday last, Mr. Jas. McGrath brought to the city a carload of beef which was dressed in Toronto. There were 35 carcasses in all, and the meat, which was of superior quality, found a ready sale.—St. John Telegraph.

FRESH HERRING.—One of the eastern fishermen, Moses Brown, of Rollo Bay, lays claim to having caught the first fresh herring this spring. This he did on Friday last, off Lower Rollo Bay. A few were caught off Souris since then by James Canfield.

DRAMATIC.—The performance given in the Lyceum last evening by the Students of St. Dunstan's College was largely attended. The programme consisted of the popular drama "More Sinned Against than Sinning," and the amusing farce "Joe Simpson's Double." The different characters were well taken.

A PLEASANT FAREWELL.—Mr. Isaac A. Judson, who leaves to-day for his home at Charlottetown, P. E. I., Canada, after a sojourn of six months in this city, was presented with a gold-headed umbrella by the employees of Elias Ward & Co. In the evening a reception was tendered to him by several of his most intimate friends at his late residence, 43 Sterling Street.—Newark (N. J.) Journal.

LOBSTER PACKERS.—Lobster Packers are on the move. There is quite a demand for men acquainted with the canning business. From 20 to 25 dollars a month and over are being offered to scalers and fishermen. Some think the season will prove a successful one. Anyway, present regulations are more favorable to the fishermen than were those of the last few years.

UM

BRELLAS not Parasols were what the weather called for to-day.

Don't you want a new one?

That is if you can get one that will be thoroughly satisfactory.

We keep all qualities—good and bad; as few bad as possible, about one in a thousand. We will supply the purchaser of that one with a new one and not charge anything for it.

THE UTOPIA—unrivalled for rich appearance and durability.

THE TOWER—thoroughly reliable.

We also show many handsome novelties in Parasols.

BEER BROS.—

SHOW DAY.—We continue our display of novelties to-morrow on account of the disagreeable weather of to-day.

Lament on the Death of Chieftain.

BY LITTLE-QUILL, POET LAURATE OF THE PETERS BOODLE COMPANY.

Ye hardy sons of honest toil,
Ye noble tillers of the soil,
Of fertile, fair Prince Edward's Isle,
Incline your head,
A great one's "shuffled off the coil,"—
A hero's dead.

And O, ye Grits, "lend me your ear,"
And when my doleful tale you hear
Let fall the sympathetic tear
With mourning Fred;
Your sympathy his heart may cheer
Since "Chieftain's" dead.

'T would melt a stone or Tory bias
To see the salt tears slowly chase
Each other down our chieftain's face
As Parzey read,
His pride, the king of bovine race
Lay stiff and dead.

When Fred by routh of schemes and lies
From honest Neil secured the prize,
He called his braves to quick device
Something, you know,
That would fore'er immortalize
Peters & Co.

They wrangled long like boys at school,
Whether to buy an ass or mule;
At last they swore they'd buy a bull,
A cow besides,
That Tullio's herd would shame and fool
Out of their hides.

Then Boyer, famed for bovine lore,
In nuckle haste sought Canuck's shore,
And searched shrewd Sandy's herds all o'er
For just one pair,
A male and female whose backs bore
The sign of Ayr.

A pair he chose that pleased his mind,
With horns before and tails behind,
So that the Tories, though half blind,
Could easily see
They both were of the bovine kind,
Whate'er their pedigree.

The trio land, loud boom the guns,
They're met with streaming flags and drums,
They play "The Conquering Hero Comes,"
Which could not fail
To make his bullship roar his thanks
And shake his tail.

A march triumphant is outlined;
Fred's Council leads in happy mind;
The bovines think it very kind
And chew their cud,
While loyal Grits trudge on behind
Knee deep in mud.

Alas, Grit tactics often fail;
His bullship soon grew lean and frail;
And though Swan lathered with a pail
There he would lay;
Not even strive to shake his tail,
Whate'er he'd do or say.

To blame his bullship I would scorn,
But Boyer failed to spier his horn
To see when was the laddie born,
And let him bilk
That's why poor Grits are now forlorn,
Without the "wee drap milk."

When "Chieftain" heard how Campbell jeered,
How Bentley laughed and Cyrus leered
A sudden change in him appeared,
Then growled and died,
But 'twere courtesies 'tis greatly feared
'Twas suicide.

Bad Cyrus says he left no kin
In all the land to mourn for him,
Except two sons deformed in lim
With tails ahead,
It surely is a shame and sin
To mock the dead.

He'd fain declare his progeny nil,
But Pete and Sanly o' the Hill,
Executors of his last will,
Have drummed up five
Wee orphans stander did not kill,
Thank God, alive.

And Peter says he'll bet a poun'
With any sneering Tory loon,
Those wee things' tails hang neatly down
Somewhat behind,
Like any other cow's in toon,
Of bovine kind.

But what poor beast of any sort
Could live and bear the ill report
Of Brennan, Cotton and McCourt,
And smooth faced Mac?
Better be dead than be the sport
Of such a pack.

Let wicked Tories jeer and rave,
Peace to the great departed brave;
No grit device his life could save,
Then drop a tear,
Poor Grits await an early grave
I greatly fear.

But with brave Fred to make the law,
To the de'il with Campbell, Bentley, Shaw,
Then pass around the usquebaugh,
'Twill fire our zeal;
We'll grind the Tories, one and a',
Under our heel.

There's Angus holding in his hands
For votes, free deeds of fertile lands,
On every road we've brigand bands;
No Tory dare be seen,
"Our well beloved" J. R. commands
The famous road machine.

And Donald's ready for the march,
As sweet as honey, stiff as starch;
The keystone of the boodle arch
Pure grits have raised,
His very breath will Tories scorch,
The Lord be praised.

Then we've a loud-tongued brassy Bell
To piping crowds our worth to tell,
Give him his pep, and loud and well
He'll sound the note;
E'en ring before the gates of Hell
For Clotie's vote.

"To arms ye braves!" a mask devise;
Then cut and carve and disfranchise;
And still the cloven foot disguise
As well's you can
Strive with your might to blind the eyes
Of every honest man.

Then here's a health to all turnouts,
To bloodies, hums and office bloats,
With rum and beer we'll wash their throats
Ten times a day,
To the Deil we fling all honest votes
Now and for aye!

Grit Gully, 4th moon of the 2nd year of the Peters Boodle Combination.
