ELLEN'S DIARY

September At Alderlea Sees The Night Fog Linger

Now in September at Alderlea, we see night-fogs linger over the stream. This morning before the sunrise, our cup of valley was full of misty gray. Presently, however, as the smoke which opens our day, spiralled hopefully above our freshthatched red roof, the sun knocked at the morning's door. And against the East, above the hills, and the dark of their adorning woodlands, the silver-blue sky parted to allow the sun's advancing shades to shine through. And Mack, 13 past now (born one August Fair-Week, he was) came along the path from the house across the lane, to be our first visitor.

We set the porridge pot down near the coals.

What was the favorite breakfast food of your summer-guests?" we inquired the other day, of a farmwife who caters, and quite successfully, to a number of tourists, in cottages and home.

"Wouldn't you know it!" she chuckled a bit ruefully, this not being a dish she enjoys making "cooked cereal: porridge, of course!"

As we stirred ours, with this new day on our threshold, and our world not yet actually awake, we chatted.

"It's a pretty morning" we said.

"It is" Mack agreed. "That's something some folks miss"" he offered, "they don't rise in time to see how lovely mornings are ... This is a pretty one but do you know I've seen prettier? I remember one of last winter's as a matter of fact, I think I shall never forget it. I was up early because our hockey-team was due to play in the rink that morning. I was putting on my knee-pads at the time, and" he smiled at the memory I just had to stop to watch the sunrise! It was just past the first streak of day: the blue turned to pink, and then the two shades intermixed, before turning to a scarlet flame."

He paused, thoughts turned back. We waited — The porridge was bubbling now. And now the sunlight, through the dancing leaves without, was forming a winsome design on the floor.

"There had been a light snowfall in the night" he continued. "You know, the light feathery kind that clings to branches and spreads rooves, and lies over the fields, lightly? And now it was frosted. And" he smiled "when that old sun climbed above the hills over there, you should have seen things sparkle! It was: ..well, 'beautiful' is the word for it! As I said, I just had to stir my dressing to watch it...We won the game that morning, as it happened. Yes, didn't do too badly at all!"

Beautiful this September morning was. And the day too which brings another workaday week to a close. For now

"Across the cloudless sunkissed golden West

The lustre of the dying day is shed.

Soon oer the tired earth, the midnight calm

Will spread her soft caressing wings instead;

I will not try to pierce with weary eyes

The dark that marks with silent bounds today,

Or read the message of tomorrow's skies,

Or meet the duties of the down's first ray.

It is enough that in my Father's hands

The burdens of my untrod day should rest;

Enough to know that if I trust His love,

No day, however dark, can be unblest."

Until Monday — — Diary — Good-night.....

WOMEN'S ORGANIZATIONS

New London UCW Holds Regular Monthly Meeting

KENSINGTON — The September meeting of the New London United Church Women was held at the home of Mrs. Edward MacMurdo on Thursday evening, September 6.

Mrs. Lewis Cole opened the worship service with the theme "Praise Ye the Lord for His Universality". Prayer followed, and scripture was read by Mrs. Ray MacLeod and Mrs. James E. Cole, followed by meditation and prayer.

The president, Mrs. Harold Mayhew, presided at the business period. The friendship report was 63 cards and letters, five treats, 30 home and hospital calls.

The minutes of the August meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. James E. Cole. Eleven members answered to roll call with a verse of scripture containing the word "Harvest". Two visitors were welcomed by the president. Plans for the Thank-offering service to be held on Sunday evening were finalized.

An important feature of the evening was the making of Mrs. Ray MacLeod a life member, a gift from her family. The president spoke briefly, noting Mrs. MacLeod's devotion to the work of the Missionary Society and the general welfare of the church down through the years. Mrs. Bryer Jones, her daughter, pinned on her membership pin, and her daughter-in -law Mrs. Lewis MacLeod, presented the certificate. Mrs. MacLeod, although taken by surprise, adequately expressed her thanks for the life membership.

The special Missionary prayer was given by Mrs. James M. Campbell.

Mrs. Louis MacLeod, program convener, called on Mrs. Harold Dunning to present a chapter of the study book, "Women with the Issue of Life"

Kelvin Grove, were recent visitors to Fundy Park, N.B.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy MacMurdo Kelvin Grove, and Mr. and Mrs. George Crozier, Hamilton, left on Friday, September 7, for Newcastle, N.B. to visit at the home of the latter's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Glendon Crozier and family.

Carl Champion, Ralph Carruthers, and Bruce Montgomery, have returned to their homes at Kensington after spending a few days touring the Maritimes, including Newcastle, N. B. where they called on Mr. and Mrs. Glendon Crozier and family.

Mrs. Wilbur Locke returned to her home at French River on Wednesday, after spending the past few days in the Prince County Hospital, Summerside.

Mrs. Walter Cole, French River, is a patient in the Prince County Hospital, Summerside, where she is receiving treatment.

Mr. Harold Moase, New Annan is a patient in the Prince County Hospital, Summerside.

Questions and discussions followed.

Mrs. Ray MacLeod presented a chapter in "Signals of the Sixties". Mrs. Sutherland Montgomery will have the next chapter on the study book, and Mrs. Lewis Campbell will present the final part of "Signals of the Sixties". The leader will be Mrs. John MacGregor, and the special missionary prayer will be given Mrs. Lewis Cole. Text word will be "Thanks" or "Thanksgiving".

Meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

A dainty lunch of ice cream and sweets was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. James E. Cole and Mrs. Harold Dunning.

KELVIN GROVE WMS

The September meeting of the Kelvin Grove Presbyterian Women's Missionary Society was held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Moase on Friday night.

The meeting was opened with the theme "Witnesses," by the president, Mrs. Horace Paynter. Scripture from Acts 1, 1-6, was read responsively, followed by the Lord's prayer in unison. Each member offered prayer and the Exposition was read by Mrs. Earle Semple.

The minutes of the August meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Lorne Crozier.

Mrs. Ralph Moase presented a chapter on the study book.

Mrs. William Stavert invited the members to her home for the October meeting. The meeting closed with a hymn and the benediction.

A dainty lunch of ice cream and cake was served by the hostess.

LT. AND MRS. GERALD COADY

Coady-Murnaghan Wedding Is Solemnized At St. Dunstan's

A beautiful wedding took place at St. Dunstan's Basilica in Charlottetown on August 25, when Mary Patrica, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P.A. Murnaghan, became the bride of Lieutenant Gerald Louis Coady, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Coady, Southport.

Reverend Pius G. Murnaghan uncle of the bride, performed the double-ring ceremony and celebrated the nuptial mass. The altar was adorned with red and white gladiolas.

Miss Virginia McDougall, accompanied by Mrs. Joseph Dougan rendered appropriate hymns during the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked beautiful in a floor length gown of imported white organza enriched with lace applique, featuring empire bodice effect and bateau neckline with bouffant skirt and tapered sleeves ending in points over the hands. Her shoulder length veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a coronet of mother-of-pearl and she carried a cascade of red roses.

The maid-of-honor was Miss Marie Claybourne and the bridesmaids were Miss Anne Murnaghan, sister of the bride and Miss Phyllis Coady, sister of the groom. They were dressed in identical, waltz-length gowns of carcle blue in billlowing organza over taffeta skirt with cropped jackets of exquisite lace and matching blue headdresses with white accessories. Their bouquets were of pink and white carnations.

The best man was Lieutenant Noel McCormack and the ushers were Allan Murnaghan, Francis Coady and Charles Sark.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Murnaghan chose a moss green lace sheath with dark brown and beige accessories. Her corsage was of bronze mums. Mrs. Coady, mother of the groom, wore a two-piece taupe lace dress with green and beige accessories and her corsage was of white mums.

Following the ceremony, a reception for one hundred and sixty-five guests was held at the Charlottetown Hotel. Mr. Charles Sark was master of ceremonies. Congratulatory messages were extended to the newly married couple by Reverend Pius G. Murnaghan, Reverend Fred L. Cass, Messers. P.A. Murnaghan, Fred E. Coady, fathers of the bride and groom respectively; Leo Corcoran, Russell Driscoll, MLA, James Callaghan, William Connolly and Clarence Coady, M.D.

Delightful piano selections were rendered by Mr. Austin Connolly, uncle of the bride and Mrs William Campbell.

For travelling the bride wore a green linen suit with beige and brown accessories. Her corsage was of white mums.

Out-of-the-province guests attending the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Leo Corcoran and daughter Anne of Madison, Wisconsin, Mr. Frank Harrington of Lowell, Mass., Miss Evelyn Cass of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. A.B. Connelly and daughter Mary Evelyn of Moncton, Mrs. Rite Rourke of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Saunders, St. Andrew's, N.B. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mallory, Marshfield, Hills, Mass., Lieut. Noel McCormack and Corporal M. Blanchard, Kingston, Ont., Mr. Richard Tingley, Campbellton, N. B.

Lieutenant Gerald and Mrs. Coady are now residing at 220 Brock Street Kingston, Ontario.

Post-Nuptial Shower Honors Young Couple

WHIM ROAD — A post nuptial shower in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stewart (nee Charlotte Fraser) was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hicken recently.

The couple were escorted to the "seat of honor" by Linda and Carl Hicken and the gifts were opened and presented to the couple by Mrs. John Fraser and Mrs. Russell Hicken while Mrs. Fred Aitken read the accompanying verses. Mrs. Richard Campbell arranged the gifts.

Mr. Stewart, on behalf of his wife and himself, thanked everyone for their kindness.

MR. AND MRS. LESTER A. FALL

Young Couple Plight Troth In Ceremony At Charlottetown

Saint Dunstan's Basilica in Charlottetown was the scene of a pretty wedding on August 25-th, 1962 when Mary Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Larter of Charlottetown became the bride of Lester Arthur Fall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Fall, Charlottetown.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Preston Hammill. The church was tastefully decorated with baskets of gladoli. The organist, Mrs. Joe Dougan, accompanied Mr. James Flannagan who sang appropriate hymns during the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a floor length gown of nylon over organza with lilly-point sleeves and v-neckline. Her shoulder length veil was held in place by a crown of seed pearls and her only jewellery was a cross, a gift from the groom. She carried a prayerbook bouquet of red roses.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Mark Thistle, sister of the groom, who wore a turquoise dress with lace top and matching accessories. Her bouquet was of turquoise carnations. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Lawrence MacDonald and Miss Verna Larter, both sisters of the bride. They wore identical dresses of yellow and mauve with matching accessories and bouquets of matching carnations.

Mark Thistle, brother-in-law of the groom, was the best-man and the ushers were Donnie Dover and Lawrence MacDonald.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Larter chose a blue sheath dress with white and blue accessories and a blue corsage. Mrs. Fall, mother of the groom, was wearing a two piece light blue suit, with white accessories and a white corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Clover Club, where the bride's table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake.

Miss Evelyn Manuel, friend of the bride, was in charge of the guest book.

Following the reception the young couple left on a honeymoon trip to Nova Scotia. For travelling the bride chose a three-piece suit in a beige brown accessories and a matching corsage.
