FARM AND GARDEN TALK

HINTS AND NEWS NOTES FOR CITY AND COUNTY.

Official Bulletins on Winter Wheat and Smut in Wheat—The Feeding of Grain to Hogs.

Director Shaw of the Ontario Experiment Station at Guelph, Ont., has given in Bulletin No. 90, the result of four-years' trials of all the commonly-grown varieties of winter wheat and a good many kinds not so common, but which are recommended as specially valuable by those who have the seed for sale. One of the main objects in these experiments is to test the new varieties alongside the well-known sorts and learn whether they have the special values claimed by those interested, thus preventing waste of the farmers' hard-earned money in unprofitable ventures. Prof. Shaw finds that of the 52 varieties tried during the past four years, the average yield (on fairly rich, loamy, well-drained soil) per acre this year was 1.9 tons of straw and 30 bushels of wheat weighing 58.2 pounds per bushel. The yield of grain of the best 15 varieties in 1890 was 30.0 bushels; in 1891, 51.6 bushels; in 1892 it was 41 bushels, and in 1893 it was 35.6 bushels. The five best yielding varieties this year were Golden Drop, 42.7 bushes, per acre; Surprise, 42.6 bushels; Golden Cross, 41.5 bushels; Hybrid Mediterranean, 40.6 bushels, and Early Red Clawson, 40.3 bushels. The five heaviest varieties were Coryell, Dietz Longberry, Fulcaster, Red Wonder and Bulgarian, ranging from 62.7 down to 61.1 pounds per bushel. The experience of the past four years shows that the average yields of white and red wheats in bushels have been almost exactly the same. The red wheats average from 1½ to 2 pounds heavier per measured bushel than the white wheats. In sowing wheat at different dates it was found that "in every instance the earlier sown plants have given the best results." The times of sowing extend from August 26th to September 17th. It was also found that the Canadian and American varieties proved better in every instance than varieties brought originally from Germany, England, France and Russia, even though these had been grown several years in this country. Prof. Shaw does not "feel justified as yet in recommending the farmers to grow them."

Wheat for Hogs.

Wheat is cheap, and some farmers are disposed to try it as an animal food. Prof. Henry, in the Breeders' Gazette, says:

"I should not feed the wheat itself. It will pay much better to dilute it with soaked corn or corn meal and a little shorts. Wheat flour in itself makes a pasty mass in the mouth of the animal, which can be remedied by using corn meal and shorts, or even a little bran. Two parts wheat with two parts corn and one part shorts by weight will prove the very best food for your pigs and shoats. For fattening hogs use half corn meal and half wheat. The wheat may be ground into a coarse meal and will then not be so sticky. This feed given to thrifty shoats that have grown a good frame on pasture, with a large, healthy digestive tract, should give splendid hogs carrying the best pork. Doubtless just at this time there are a good many farmers who are waiting for the corn crop to ripen in order to fatten their hogs. Some of these same farmers may have wheat in bins which is not of the best quality, waiting for a rise in the market. Personally, I believe what will go higher, but will it not pay to feed poor, and in some cases even good, wheat to hogs in order to hurry them off, save time, feed and get ready money, which is quite an object just now with many? It may seem a little strange to feed wheat to hogs, but there has been more wheat offered the last few years than the market of the world could buy, and why take second thought on that side so long as there is more money in feeding than in selling? Where a farmer has a little wheat that he does not care to sell, and does not wish to take it to the mill for grinding, it can be boiled in a large kettle, and a little of this boiled wheat given to shoats or young pigs will pay double, I believe, what the miller will give for the wheat in the way of helping the animals on in growth or flesh.

Smut in Wheat.

Bulletin No. 5 of the United States Department of Agriculture gives an account of the stinking smut of wheat, which we take it has been more destructive in the West than in Eastern wheat-growing localities. It attacks only the grain, and at first the only sign observed is that the grain is slightly swollen, and at first of a greenish color, but turning to brown or gray. If one of these grains be crushed it will be found filled with a dull, brownish powder, which has a penetrating and very disagreeable odor. When once introduced, it spreads rapidly, soon affecting 40 to 60 per cent. of the crop. The remainder of the crop is made unsaleable, as well as unfit for food.

The remedy advised was discovered by J. L. Jensen, of Denmark, in 1887. It consists in immersing the seed for a few minutes in scalding water not much above 132½ degrees, and not in any case to rise above 135 degrees. This is done by placing grain supposed to be affected in sacks in quantities of half a bushel at a time. This is immersed first in water having a temperature of 110 degrees, and when warmed it is then plunged in another vessel, where the heat shows the degree required. The volume of scalding water should be six to eight times as great as the seed treated, and the thermometer should be consulted all the time the wheat is in the scalding water. The grain, after remaining 15 minutes under treatment, is taken out and dried. If sown broadcast, it does not require so thorough drying as it does if it is to be drilled. It is better to treat the seed just before planting. Before placing in sacks again, these should be thoroughly boiled 15 minutes. This is done to prevent any spores of the smut that have escaped from the dry wheat remaining to infect the seed after it has been cleansed.

A Smart Hog.

Warren County, North Carolina, has the smartest hog. During forest fires lately, this hog saw the flames approaching her bed of straw, in which was her young brood. She rooted out a hole near the bed, deposited her pigs in it and then lay down over them. The fire passed over, singing the hair of the old parker, but the little squealers were safe.

For Over Fifty Years.

AN OLD AND WELL TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays the pain, cures the colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. Is pleasant to the taste. Sold by Druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind.—m. w. f. wkly—1 y

GRATEFUL, PLEASING RELIEF AFTER MANY DAYS.

How a Queens County Man Found Permanent Healing.

His Own Experience Tells Fully and Freely some Truths which all Readers of this Paper Should Know.

Here and there, in almost every town of our province, are "chronic" cases over which doctors disagree; cases that become worse year after year. It is to reach such that the gentleman to whom these lines refer, and whose portrait is here given, has written the story of his case.

Mr. Branscomb's home is n Chipman, Queens Co., N. B It was there that a representative of the Groder company alled upon him, Sept. 1st, of he present year. His greeting was most cordial. He gladly acknowledged his thanks, giving expression to the following statement:

"It is five years since I first became afflicted with a form of ndigestion Last winter it became more severe, developing nto chronic diarrhœa I cannot ell you how much I suffered or SIX LONG WEEKS. It seemed s though relief could not be found. You will remember how I told you of my condition and asked your advice about taking a bottle of GRODER'S SYRUP. You told me that the medicine was a laxative and might not meet my needs. I delayed buying for a few hours until I began to hope that it would help me. Even my clothes seemed a burden because of bloating of stomach It was with difficulty that I kept about sufficiently to attend to my business.

But I am a well man now from the use of your remedy. In three days after I bought GRODER'S SYRUP the terrible pain and distress across my stomach were removed. My bowels rapidly assumed a natural, healthy condition. Now I eat and drink as well as I ever could. I have gained constantly in flesh since March last. I am perfectly cured.

It seems a duty for me to state my case fully, that others who suffer as I did may know where to find a cure."

Truly yours,

E. A. BRANSCOMB.

Deservedly Popular.

Our readers have no doubt read with interest the despatches almost weekly appearing in this and other Canadian journals regarding cures of a most startling nature made by Dodd's Kidney Pills. These pills have proven themselves to be a certain cure for all diseases of the kidneys and blood, such as backache, rheumatism, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, etc.

Enquiry amongst local druggists elicits the facts that they have a very large sale and are an infallible cure for kidney disorders.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are manufactured by Dr. L. A. Smith & Co., Toronto, and are sold everywhere, or by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents a box, or 6 boxes for $2.50.

Two More Gold Medals.

It must be gratifying to the manufacturers of "Sunlight" Soap to find their goods so splendidly appreciated in the Canadian market; and it must also be pleasing to them to receive the highest recognition at Canadian exhibitions for the superior quality of their soap. At the recent Fall Shows held at London and Ottawa, "Sunlight" was rewarded a Gold Medal, which brings their gold medal list up to 14. Added to this grand record is the important fact that "Sunlight" is used in Windsor Castle and in the Royal Laundries, and owing to the excellence of their soap, the manufacturers have been specially appointed soap makers to the Queen.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ar

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."
