PARALYSIS CURABLE

Stricken ones to be Seen Everywhere—This Form of Living Death Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

The most startling example of human helplessness is the paralytic. The victim excites your commiseration, but resents your pity.

He of the palsied hand, stiffly pressing the beumbed side is to be seen everywhere we go.

The most convincing proof that this pitiable condition is the outcome of kidney disease is the fact that Dodd's Kidney Pills cure it.

Not generally recognized as a kidney disease, it succumbs to kidney treatment.

Did you ever know of a cure? Just think a moment

If you do it must have been the work of Dodd's Kidney Pills, for no other medicine ever yet cured.

"Sav, paw." "Well?" "What is a kopje?" "A kopje is a place where the British stopje, and it generally has a Boer or two on topje."

What Is Dr. Chase's Nerve Food?

In appearance Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is an oval, chocolate coated pill. In the condensed form it contains all of nature's most strengthening and invigorating tonic and restoratives and for this reason it is unapproached as a blood builder and nerve restorative. It cures all diseases caused by thin blood and exhausted nerves and makes pale, weak nervous men, women and children strong and healthy. 50 cents a box.

Ambition is a small boy's desire to chop with a big axe.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. Dr. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box.

Doubt your own ability if you must, but never let anybody know it.

A Good Stomach.

Is essential to health and happiness, but don't blame the stomach for biliousness. It is deranged, and causes poisonous bile to remain in the blood causing indigestion, headache and irregular action of the bowels. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills regulate the liver, kidneys and bowels and by their direct action on these organs effect prompt and lasting cures of biliousness, dyspepsia, headache and all kidney ailments. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers.

We could all pursue our opportunities more successfully if the road was not so wide.

When It Hurts to Cough.

The cough that hurts, the cough that gets right in the chest, is daily getting deeper and deeper into the bronchial tubes and is making directly for the lungs, to become pneumonia, inflammation of the lungs or consumption. Such coughs yield only to the wonderful efficiency of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Limes and Turpentine which loosens the tightness and cures cough and cold together. 25 cents a bottle. Family size 60 cents, sold everywhere.

One phase of culture is getting so you can say mean things in a polite and scholarly way.

The copy of an old photograph taken a generation ago, of the north side of Queen Square, which forms the front-piece of the June P. E. Island Magazine is quite interesting. The signboards, sidewalks, fences, etc., appear decidedly antique to the young folks of to-day. There are a lot of other interesting things in this month's magazine. At all the bookstores. Fivecents a copy.

MARVELOUS PROGRESS IN JAPAN.

Forty years ago Japan was the hermit kingdom—completely closed to western trade, ideas and civilization. What Japan is now is thus stated by a special correspondent of New York Post: "At several places I have had the privilege of meeting the leading educators, officials, and philanthropists of the Japanese Empire, and am deeply impressed with the strength and depth of the movement which is lifting Japan to the level of Western civilization. The civilization which they have borrowed from the West is not a veneer as many have represented. The Japanese are building warships and fortifying their harbors after the most approved style, and are seeing to the organization and equipment of their army and navy (as their late war with China demonstrated) with all the thoroughness of Germany, and they are doing this with little aid from foreign engineers. The few foreign consulting engineers complain that they are consulted so little that life is a burden. In the interior extensive works are planned and executed everywhere by native engineers to protect the fields from the devastating floods which descend with terrific force from the mountain slopes. Some of their mistakes have been serious, but they prefer to trust to their own ability, and experience proves a good teacher. One is everywhere impressed with the vast amount of labor and engineering skill that was bestowed in former times upon fortifications and irrigating enterprises. The more than one hundred fortresses surrounding as many castles where the leading Daimios lived, represent an enormous amount of labor and an equal amount of skill in adoption to the defensive warfare of the time. In the aggregate the walls and moats exceed in amount that of the Chinese wall. All their national energy is now turned towards the accomplishments of more beneficent purposes. In the olden times the family life was so strong that there was no orphan. Some relative was found to adopt each waif. But now this product of Western civilization is appearing in increasing numbers. An orphan asylum, under Japanese management, with all the natural paraphernalia of such an institution, was an interesting object of inspection in Okayama. There were here nearly two hundred children, under the best of discipline, receiving instruction in industrial as well as intelligent branches. They are also following our example in the establishment of reform schools for juvenile criminals, and in all other prison reforms. I found in Tokio two Japanese who have devoted all their energies to the work of caring for ex-convicts. In this they received the generous support of many noble Japanese families. More than eight hundred prisoners have been helped to independent means of employment, and nearly all had become respected members of society."

TSUNG LI YAMEN.

There is one building in Pekin which every foreign visitor should be careful to see, not because it is in any sense a 'sight,' but because when its history and significance are understood it affords a great object lesson on the relations of Chinese and foreigners. It is also necessarily the focus of any discussion of the future of China. This is the Tsung Li Yamen, the 'Board of Foreign Affairs' for the Chinese empire. The buildings of the Tsung Li Yamen are not of a very imposing character, but they are superior to most Chinese public buildings in this respect, that they are in good repair. They consist of an external hall and a series of reception rooms, leading finally to a small and trim Chinese garden. The room for the reception of ministers of the foreign powers is a comparatively small one, containing a round table with a polished top, and a number of heavy black Chinese chairs. On one side of it are three scrolls, containing each a number of Chinese ideographs. One of these, appearing where it does, can only be regarded in a humorous light. The most treacherous, untrustworthy and unscrupulous set of diplomatists of modern times, of whom the united ministers of foreign countries accredited to China have solemnly declared that no faith can be placed upon their assurances, meet their European colleagues beneath an inscription which reads, 'Wei shan tsui loh'—'To do good is the highest pleasure!' In the large reception room is the inscription, 'May heaven and earth enjoy great peace,' while the inscription over the principal doorway, shown in the illustration, is formed of the characters, Chung wai tu—literally 'Centre, outside, peace, happiness'—China being the centre, and the rest of the world the outside. The inscription thus means, 'May China and foreign countries alike enjoy peace and happiness,' an admirable sentiment, and one which the Tsung Li Yamen has persistently done its best to falsify.

The Tsung Li Yamen was founded by a remarkable man, Prince Kung, in 1861, after the war with China had come to a close and the treaty of Tein-tsin was signed at the Board of Rites on Oct. 25, 1860, by Lord Elgin. Prince Kung remained at its head until 1884, when, after rendering very great services to China, and showing himself to be a man of great sense and power, he was suddenly disgraced for the second time, and deprived of all his offices. He was succeeded by Prince Ching, who died ten years later, when, to the surprise of every one, Prince Kung, after ten years of degradation and inactivity, was again appointed by the same decree president of the Tsung Li Yamen, president of the Admiralty, and co-director with Li Hung Chang, of the operations of war. The Tsung Li Yamen consists of the president, eight members, six chief secretaries, and a number of other officials. To their Excellencies His Royal Highness the Prince of Kung and the ministers of the Tsung Li Yamen are addressed all communications for the foreign ministers at the court of China, and from it all Chinese representatives abroad receive their appointments and instructions. Theoretically the arrangement is an admirable one; practically it has been an almost uninterrupted failure. The Tsung Li Yamen, while theoretically possessing supreme political authority, has not possessed it practically. The Emperor, and still more the Empress, has demanded a considerable share of personal influence upon current politics, and Li Hung Chang has always been the avowed rival of the Tsung Li Yamen, and with him most foreign arrangements have been ultimately concluded. Further, the Tsung Li Yamen has never insisted upon its own authority for the defence of foreign rights.

Sir Harry Parkes declared that to get any definite answer from the Tsung Li Yamen was 'like trying to draw water from a well with a bottomless bucket.' Whatever the Tsung Li Yamen may have been created to do, it has only served to head off foreigners and postpone the satisfaction of their legitimate demands. It is today the great stronghold of Chinese procrastination.

Backache for 18 Years.

Suffered Much—Was Unable to Work or Sleep—Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills Made Him Well.

Too many endure the misery of backache without knowing that it is the unmistakable symptom of kidney disease. As you value your life do not neglect a backache. It tells of the beginning of the most fatal of diseases—Bright's Disease of the kidneys.

Mr. D. C. Simmons, Mabee, Ont., writes:—"My kidneys and back were so bad that I was unable to sleep or work. My urine had sediment like brickdust, and I had to get up three or four times every night."

I saw Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills advertised, and decided to give them a trial. I have only used one box, and am a well man again. I can saw wood or do any kind of work, and am not bothered with backache or kidney troubles. I also enjoy good rest and sleep, which is a great relief after suffering for eighteen years."
