X-MAS Special—Mail Order Magi

Going the Three Wise Men thirteen better, a Houston department store this Christmas is offering the services of sixteen mail-order mage for a total cost of $825,000 - which tots up to a lot of gold, frankincense and myrrh. Called the "Ultimate Gift of Knowledge, a newly published catalogue from the SAKOWITZ company includes a choice of lessons from top sports pros etc. Everything from swimming to piano playing. Prudently, perhaps, the company does not offer courses in poetry, painting or such pastures to which it might be difficult to attach a price tag- or a buyer.

How many of the gang, for example, will be able to boast of a day's skiing with coaching by Jean-Claude Killy at Val d'Isere? (for a mere $4,325) Incidentally, the price tag doesn't include travel or accommodations. For the price of an airline ticket to California, plus board and meals, plus $115,000 the gift recipient can take ten private swimming lessons with Mark Spitz.

In more aesthetic area, the Sakowitz catalogue vends a days guitar lesson with Jose Feliciano ($14,500) and ivory day with Peter Duchin at the piano ($3,750), drumming with Buddy Rich ($5,250) and two "Lessons in conversation" with Truman Capote, lisped at $3,000.

The most expensive bargain is offered by Jimmy, the Greek, Snyder, the famed L.A. savant. Entitled "lessons in How to Make Odds", the Greek tutorial services cost $565,000 with an optional extra; purchase of all his 1975 handicaps for $875,000. Jimmy is betting two/one that he will not sign a single sucker.

Whoever said that Christmas is becoming commercialized surely must have been joking! I'll be celebrating Christmas as usual: One' plastic Xmas tree avec coulered plastic balls. I think I might add an extra this year: improve my tennis with coaching from Newcombe at $8,650 a day! Merry Cristmas and the best in the New Year.

P.S. Anyone who wants coaching in the Art of Smoking greens and things can contact Rick or Bob prior to the 25/12/74 at 2-7778. Minimum price 1.0z. a day. MOST OF THE ARTICLE WAS TAKEN FROM A RECENT ISSUE OF TIME MAGAZINE.
